LOWER BRANCH MAJORITY IS 111

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Riding the electoral tidal wave, Republicans are assured of an increased majority in the House of Representatives, according to incomplete returns today.

Latest returns indicate a net gain of 33 in the Republican membership of the House, with a majority that will be close to 100.

Based on returns in and the indicated trend in States where the result is not yet final, it appears the House of Representatives in the Sixty-Seventh Congress will be constituted approximately as follows: Republicans, 270; Democrats, 130; Independents, 2; Prohibitionists, 1.

This estimate, while not final, would give the Republicans a majority of 111. The present majority of the Republicans is 89.

BIGGEST CHANGE COMES IN EAST

The greatest increases in Republican Congressmen were noted in the Eastern States, particularly in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The Democrats gained one member in Oklahoma, early returns indicate.

The drys apparently have won out in a majority of the districts where prohibition was the issue, and have succeeded in returning the two chief exponents of prohibition in the House—Representative Volstead of Minnesota, father of the prohibition enforcement law, and Representative Randall of California.

Besides these two the drys have also succeeded in electing Harrison of Virginia, Zihlman of Maryland, and Neely and Echols of West Virginia, all of whom were opposed by reported wet candidates.

Among those elected to the House against the opposition of drys are Deal of Virginia; Goldsborough, Blakeney and Mathison of Maryland; Fox of North Carolina, and Porter and Brooks of Pennsylvania.

NO CHANCE FOR LIQUOR ISSUE.

Returns thus far do not show a sufficient change in the complexion of the House to forecast any great liberality.

on the prohibition issue in the Sixty-Seventh Congress.

Gains made in the House by the Republicans were as follows:
California, 2; Connecticut, 1; Illinois, 2; Maryland, 1; Massachusetts, 2; Michigan, 1; Montana, 1; New Jersey, 3; New York, 7; Ohio, 3; Pennsylvania, 5; South Dakota, 1; Utah, 2; West Virginia, 1; Wisconsin, 1.

POPULAR VOTE GREATEST EVER POLLED IN U. S.

row Wilson carried over Charles Evans Hughes in 1910.

Four years ago the central and far West elected Wilson. These same States rolled up impressive majorities for Harding.

Thirteen States, which in 1916 were carried by Wilson, and which Harding carried, were California, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Maryland, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming and Idaho.

Even in the Southern States the Democratic majorities showed in many cases heavy declines from 1916.

Where Texas four years ago gave Wilson a handsome majority of 221,015, it was generally estimated that Cox's majority will be many thousands less. Republicans even have strong hopes of electing their men in several congressional districts. Other Southern States showed like decreases.

The thirteen States which Governor Cox appeared to have certainly carried are: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

REFUSE TO CONCEDE
TWO BORDER STATES.

Republican national headquarters here is literally flooded with telegrams, and some of these will not concede the Democrats the so-called border States of Kentucky and Oklahoma until the last vote is counted.

On the face of the returns, however, they appeared to be safely in the Democratic column.

One of the unusual features of the election was that Judge Nathan L. Miller, Republican candidate for Governor of New York, ran nearly a million votes behind the Republican national ticket and yet was elected by a substantial plurality.

At South, Tammany Hall's favorite son, polled nearly a million more votes in New York, than Cox and yet was defeated. Miller's plurality is estimated between 60,000 and 80,000.

While definite figures are not available, it appears that the Socialist popular vote is going to be considerable, as compared with former years. In New York City alone Eugene V. Debs, the prisoner-candidate, rolled up nearly 150,000 votes.

Figures on the Farmer-Labor ticket, headed by Parley P. Christensen of Utah, are not available.

The success of other minor parties are not believed to be impressive.

ILLINOIS PLURALITY ESTIMATED 700,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—The size of the plurality given Senator Harding and all Republican national and State candidates in Illinois remains the only question to be settled.

Every Republican candidate on national and State tickets has been elected. Senator Harding's plurality, Republican leaders predicted, will reach 700,000 in the State.

Returns from 1,943 precincts out of 5,736 give Harding 423,612 and Cox 150,012.

William B. McKinley, Republican, has defeated Peter A. Waller, Democrat, for the United States Senate.

With returns available from 1,039 precincts McKinley has 313,060 and Waller 128,345.

Election of Len Small, Republican, Governor, by a plurality of about half a million seems assured.

Small's vote from 1,639 precincts is 324,003 to 172,225 for James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat. Downstate points have given Small an indicated plurality of 350,000, while his estimated plurality in Chicago is 150,000.

MISSOURI BACK IN REPUBLICAN FOLD

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 3.—Missouri today was back in the Republican fold, Senator Harding having carried the State by 50,000 majority.

The tremendous sweep of votes toward Harding also has apparently carried the bulk of the Republican State ticket, the office, including Arthur M. Hyde as Governor.

Hyde's lead, however, is uncertain and the final tabulation may unseat him in favor of John M. Atkinson, the Democratic nominee.

Selden P. Spencer, however, is assured of re-election to the United States Senate over Breckinridge Long, a pro-league Democrat.

Three Supreme Court judges and a Court of Appeals judgeship have also been named by the Republicans.

BOARD OF TRADE FAVORS SERVICE

Resolutions Say Adequate
Utilities Best for Community.

The following resolution relative to public utilities was adopted at the monthly meeting of the governing committee of the Indianapolis Board of Trade.

Whereas, We realize that the development of community life and the prosperity of the public utility industry must go hand in hand, for the reason that no city can prosper without good water, gas, electric, traction and telephone service, and

Whereas, Good service may not reasonably be expected unless the companies providing these services are permitted to charge enough to make their business supporting and reasonably profitable, and

Whereas, The companies' situation is increasing prices for steel, copper, chemicals and other materials required by the utilities, as well as the prevailing cost of labor, have rendered the problem of utilities companies almost impossible of solution, therefore,

Be It Resolved, That the governing committee of the Indianapolis Board of Trade express appreciation of the difficulty of public utility operation, and the feeling that the utilities are entitled to a measure of cooperation on the part of the public during the period when their income being fixed by law, their expenses are mounting to such an extent that in some cases the companies face actual loss, and be it further

Resolved, That without reference to any particular company's situation, we express our belief that those who provide utility service are entitled to rates that will cover their expense and give them a reasonable return on their investment; and be it further

Resolved, That we hereby call attention to the fact that our community cannot prosper and grow unless we have good utilities service for our homes, factories and business institutions.

The governing committee also endorsed the Girl Scouts' movement.

WOMEN CAST FULL VOTE.
GREENSBURG, Ind., Nov. 3.—It is estimated that the full registered vote of the women in Decatur County was cast. Women were among the first to vote in several precincts of the city, and it is said that the majority of them voted as rapidly as the men.
