White chrysanthemums, combined with pink roses, were used throughout the rooms. The serving table was attractively decorated with a centerpiece of pink roses, surrounded by kewpie dolls, ornamented with butterfly bows of pink tulle, and lighted by pink tapers set in crystal holders. The place cards and table appointments also carried out the bridal colors, pink and white.

Mrs. Suits was assisted by Miss Lucille Coppock.

1. Where did the making of glass originate?
2. How to test a roasted or baked chicken or turkey to know when it is done?
3. How to remedy scraping or binding in a door?

(These questions will be answered tomorrow by the Housewife.)

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS.

2. An easy way to keep cream from spattering when you whip it is to put it in a small pitcher big enough to accommodate the cream whip or egg beater and tall enough to keep the spattering drops from flying about.

3. If vinegar and oil bottles and cruet are badly incrustated inside, fill them with water and baking soda and let them stand six hours. Empty and put in a little vinegar, and shake vigorously.—Copyright, 1920.

Over sixty million breakfasts with Maple Karo last year

Does it interest you to know that Maple Karo outsells all different kinds of maple syrups? Delicious flavor—moderate price the reason

Two big reasons stand out for the record breaking sales of Maple Karo.

First—the flavor of Maple Karo is not an "imitation." The makers are the world's largest users of the purest and best flavored maple sugar.

Over a thousand tons are brought annually from Vermont and Canada—where the finest maple trees grow.

This sugar is used to make Maple Karo and to give it its delicious flavor.

The second reason is quite as interesting as the first:

Maple Karo is remarkably moderate in price—selling at a lower price than any other syrup of approaching quality and flavor.

Over five million cans were sold last year.

This moderate price permits you to let the children have all they want. It satisfies their natural craving for preserves and other sweets that are so expensive now-a-days.

Get a can of Maple Karo in the Green Can from your grocer today. If you are not pleased with it, the grocer will gladly return your money.
