First Mortgage Real Estate Certificates

Dated November 1, 1920. Due November 1, 1925.

Denominations $100, $500 and $1,000

There is no safer investment than a real estate mortgage properly made. Our First Mortgage Real Estate Certificates are backed by mortgages that are properly made. Each has met the rigid requirements of our loaning organization which is the outgrowth of more than fifty years' experience in this business. During this period no customer who has bought these mortgages has ever suffered a loss or delay in the collection of principal or interest.

Considering their perfect safety we believe that a six per cent rate is indeed attractive on these First Mortgage Real Estate Certificates. By their purchase at this time you assure yourself of this rate for five years inasmuch as the certificates are not callable before maturity.

You may purchase them either for cash or under the terms of our partial payment plan which provides for the payment of one-tenth in cash and one-tenth per month for the nine succeeding months.

DOG HILL PARAGRAFS

The dog at the postoffice has been repaired and now draws so good Slim Pickens has been warned to either keep a lot of scale weights in his pockets or else stand back a safe distance from the stove.

Clab Hancock this morning read out loud where there were about 25,000 post offices in the United States; but still, according to the postmaster, nobody gets half of the mail he's expecting.

Columbus Allsop has been warned by the postmaster to keep his bear stories down to reasonable size this winter, as there is not going to be as much room around the stove as there was last winter.

Columbus Allsop has been warned by the postmaster to keep his bear stories down to reasonable size this winter, as there is not going to be as much room around the stove as there was last winter.

It is also announced by the Pennsylvania company that "The Southland," from Indianapolis, Jacksonville, Fla., will make its first trip of the season from this city, Nov. 29, leaving Indianapolis at 4:10 a. m. The sleeping car will be set at the Union station the previous evening at 9 o'clock.

The game was in a rear room at 29 North Alabama street, and a sergeant and three patrolmen, who made the raid, captured, besides the eleven men, a dollar and a pair of dice.

The eleven men who failed to escape from the police headquarters, all of whom are charged with gaming, gave their names as: Pleas Oliver, 1059 Indiana avenue; C. K. King, 1059 Virginia avenue; Charles Bowen, 655 High street; Bert Thomas, 411 West Minnesota street; George King, 1621 West Washington street; James Martin, 450 North Pine street; Jack Mathews, 229½ Indiana avenue, and Frank Martin, 33 North Tacoma avenue.

They were released on bonds signed by William Kinney (Kinney) Hatt, professional bondsman.

Pleas Oliver, one of the men arrested, is a former policeman and has been arrested on gambling charges a number of times.

A Real Investment

When you spend money for pleasure, do you merely spend it or do you invest it? Money spent in the attainment of musical appreciation is a real investment. It pays dividends for generations. Your children and your grandchildren reflect the finer feelings and higher self-development that have come to you through keener musical appreciation.

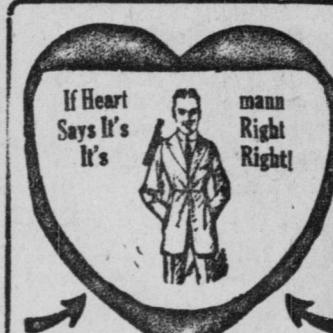

There is no simpler, happier means to this end than by hearing good music often and early.

Start today with the children. Teach them to understand and love good music. Teach them with a

An Attractive Home is Always a Source of Pride

It's the little things that distinguish the ordinary residence from the real home. A highly polished floor or a scarf of rich tapestry on the library table or your favorite chair re-covered with an attractive pattern of tapestry adds that little touch of luxury which is the goal of every housewife.

OLD ENGLISH WAX AND POLISHER

The only inexpensive apparatus that both applies the wax and polished it.

A teaspoonful of wax, put between the layers of cheesecloth around the bottom of the polisher, will cover twice the area of the same amount applied by hand.

To polish, remove wax-filled cloth, substitute a clean cloth and slide back and forth over the floor.

Price, complete with 5½-ounce can of Old English floor wax .....

Watch for Health Burglars
The burglar that steals your health hides in the crevices of your teeth. Decayed food that finds its way from the teeth to the stomach easily enters the blood current.

Neuritis, sciatica, acute paralysis, appendicitis, diseases of the gall, bladder and ulcerated stomach are natural results of tooth infection, say physicians.

"I am 72. After some sickness I was advised that my health was good except for my teeth. The People's Dentists surprised me, extracting the bad ones without pain. I have put this off for years, fearing the dentist."—J. E. Huston, Danville, Ind.
