Veiled Prophets Vamp Turkey; Go on Hunger Strike

They are "kidding" the bird and a grand old bird, at that. Meaning, that the Prophets of Sahara Grotto of the Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm have vamped a turkey and the poor thing feels highly honored.

The silly bird while strutting about falls to see that each wink of the vamps means just one step nearer the block. His Majesty, the Turkey, falls to see the ax and thinks that the ax is a token of friendship. In the meantime His Royal Highness is being fed on corn nicely mixed with meal and warm water. That poor bird fails to realize that each meal means another day nearer the slaughter. While Mr. Turkey is being vamped to his death, several hundred prophets have gone on a hunger strike to be in proper condition for the Oriental Love Feast which will be served at the hour of 6 on the evening of Nov. 22.

Mr. Turkey will not know that he and his court will be served to the Prophets in the midst of plenty, the midst consisting of cream of asparagus, cranberry sauce, browned sweet potatoes, sliced tomatos, green peas, ice cream, cake, coffee and smokes.

It is a grand life for that bird and his crew, but oh the fatal hour when the ax falls.

To put the Prophets in the best of humor, the whole crew will visit the Murat next Monday evening to see Al Jolson in his Oriental affair called "Sinbad." Al, the "donkey," Sue Creighton, Lawrence D'Orsey, Eddie Lynn, William Dunn and many others promise to convulse the members of the Grotto.

After Jolson and his entertainers have convulsed the Prophets at the Murat, the guests will depart for the Athenaeum, where the Grotto will hold a reception.

There will be dancing and refreshments and as soon as Jolson and the members of his company get into their own evening clothes they will join the Grotto members and friends.

Now it must be remembered that Jolson is as much at home off the stage as on and it is hard to guess what he will not do when among friends.

Who knows? Jolson might grab a fez, do a fox trot in front of the famous turkey and that old bird might laugh himself to death.

Who can tell?

Al Jolson... laugh himself to death.

South Bend Legion Made to Dig Up $50

Special to The Times.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 12.—Paying for the tribute in their honor was the necessity which confronted the South Bend post of the American Legion when Mayor P. E. Carson, as a member of the Consolidated Amusement Company, gave orders that the doors of the Coliseum here should not be opened for the Armistice day program until the Legion paid $50 rental. The former service men raised the money from their own pockets.

A sudden drop in temperature, accompanied by snow flurries, marred the success of the outdoor program.

JUDGE LANDIS TO SPEAK.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 12.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, judge of the Federal District Court in Chicago, has promised to speak here the morning of Thanksgiving day. The address will be part of a free interchurch program.
