Harry O. Cole, 906½ East Sixteenth street, announces the marriage of his mother, Mrs. Ida M. Cole, to David Loyd of Laverne, Okla., which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Lehman in the Knickerbocker Apartments Saturday evening. The Rev. John L. Prentice of the Sutherland Avenue Presbyterian Church read the service. Miss Marjorie Coulter and Earl Haley were quietly married last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Coulter, 509 Jefferson avenue. The Rev. George Hamblinger of the Sutherland Avenue Presbyterian Church officiating. Interesting, in connection with the event, was the fact that it was the wedding anniversary of the bride's parents and that Mrs. Myrtle Minton Hamilton, who played the bridal music, had been Mrs. Coulter's bridesmaid.

French baskets of chrysanthemums combined with carnations and roses were used through the rooms with palms, fern and floor vases of vari-colored blossoms banking the fireplace before which the service was read.

Mrs. Hamilton played a group of bridal airs and Mrs. George E. Love sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning" preceding the service.

The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used for the processional with "To a Wild Rose" during the service and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional.

The bride wore an effective frock of midnight blue charmeuse trimmed with heavy fringe, and her coronation was of sweetheart roses.

A buffet supper was served following the ceremony. The bride's task was decorated with pom-pom chrysanthemums.

with the wedding cake banked with flowers as a centerpiece.

'Legend,' Harmonie Club Subject Study

"The Legend," a modern opera by Joseph Brell, presented for the first time in the Metropolitan Opera House in March, 1919, was the subject for study at the meeting of the Harmonie Club, held yesterday afternoon in the Green parlors of the Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Louise Schelschmidt Koebne read the story of the opera, with musical illustrations by various musicians. Thomas Noels, baritone, sang the opening solo in the role of Stakeroff, which was followed by the prayer of Carmelita, "Ah, Woe Is Me," sung by Miss Julia Reyer, soprano.

Particularly pleasing were the accompaniment and piano numbers by Mrs. S. K. Rulick, for the instrumental music played a large part in the atmosphere of the production. "The Storm," a descriptive fragment, was most effectively played.

Other numbers included the "Love Song" of Stephen, by Mr. Arthur, tenor; a piano version of "The Legend," played by Mrs. T. O. Baxter; a duet of Carmelita and Stephen sung by Miss Parkin and Mr. Arthur; a "Drinking Song," sung by Miss Parkin, Mr. Nealis and Mr. Arthur, and the final aria by Carmelita by Miss Reyer.

The program was decidedly interesting, the numbers being artistically interpreted by the group of local artists. Mrs. Marie Allison Elliott was in charge of the program.
