

TURKEY RUN NOW
WINTER RESORTHotel Heated and Open for Party.

The hotel at Turkey Run State Park has been equipped with a modern heating plant and the park is an all-season recreational and community center offering comfortable and pleasant abode and entertainment in the fall and winter as well as in spring and summer. This announcement was made by Richard Lieber, director, at the monthly meeting of the conservation commission.

Turkey Run Park, which was acquired by the State in 1916, Centennial year, and set aside as a State reserve to keep intact a remnant of Indiana virgin wilderness, each year demonstrates the feasibility of State parks, not alone as recreational centers, but for financial remuneration.

Fifty thousand people paid admission to Turkey Run during the 1920 summer season, and for the reason that many remained from a week to a month, the park daily attendance, if kept, would run well over the 100,000 mark for the season. The income from gate receipts and concessions amounted to $6,377.25, which is about 7 per cent on an $85,000 investment.

Mr. Lieber points out that this park is as charming and beautiful in winter as summer. When King Winter reigns and the landscape is blanketed in white and hoary trees stand like vigilant sentinels jealously guarding the virgin environment of their nativity, the contrast of seasons from the soft glow of summer and green hues of spring are tell-tale beyond compare. Turkey Run park, better than most spots in Indiana, typifies varied seasons of our State and at same time gives one an insight to past winter was like in the Hoosier main 100 years ago.

The modern electric-lighted and steam-heated hotel offers all the comforts of a city in this virgin wilderness. It is the scene of many a brilliant gathering of neighborhood folk as well as artists for it is a community center in the County. Already reservations are being made for the festival holiday season.
