

RELATIONS OF ANGLO-FRENCH READY TO SNAP

German Indemnity, Russian Attitude and Turkish Territory Estrangement Issues.

POINCARE TAKES HAND

PARIS, Nov. 24.—Despite reassuring official statements from both sides, Anglo-French relations are again strained to a degree unequalled since the war, and leading French statesmen and writers are making no attempt to conceal their feelings toward the English government.

The three chief issues in the estrangement of the two countries are German indemnity, the allied attitude toward soviet Russia and the disposition of Turkish territory.

Former President Poincare, in an open letter, declares that if England continues to urge France to further revisions of the treaty of Versailles in favor of Germany, England herself should return the surrendered German fleet and the former German colonies.

Poincare's letter was addressed to an English editor who had asked him to use his influence to obtain for Germany an amelioration of the treaty terms. The former president charges that the English are taking advantage of the election result in America and America's opposition to the League of Nations to ask France to yield on some of the principal points of the treaty.

DIVERGENCE GROWS RAPIDLY.

Raymond Recouly, author and friend of Marshal Foch, also indicts England. The gravest fact, he says, is that the divergence between the two leading allied powers has been growing wider during the past fortnight.

Recouly recalls that England, aided by President Wilson, blocked France's plan for a military frontier on the Rhine and substituted the Anglo-France-American defensive treaty, which proved worthless because the United States never ratified it. Then, charges Recouly, over the protests of ex-Premier Clemenceau, President Wilson and Premier Lloyd-George forced a plebiscite in Upper Silesia instead of attributing the territory to Poland.

ENGLISH FULL STRENGTH AT CONSTANTINOPLE

"England did not send a single soldier to maintain order in the plebeiscite zone," says M. Recouly. "This task was assigned to French gendarmes and to small contingents of Italians. In Syria, British agents and officers have done everything possible to make the French mission more difficult. At Constantinople the English reign supreme. They have organized a government of puppets and pull the strings. Everything that is suspected of favoring French influence is dismissed."

Both the Matin and Echo de Paris have printed bitter attacks against Premier Lloyd George. Several prominent French journals have shown a spirit of retaliation by supporting the Sinn Fein cause.

CITES CURE FOR WORLD UNREST

Nashville Minister Asks More of Spirit of Paul.

"Have you ever given as much to the church as you have spent on a motor car? Have you ever given so much that it hurt? Have you ever given what you need?" asked Dr. John I. Vance of Nashville, Tenn., in a noon address at Keith's Theater. "The payment that counts is the payment that counts."

"If this poor, troubled world is to be saved from the chaos which it is verging on, if the industrial unrest which threatens the very foundations of its civilization shall be ended, some men and women inspired with the passion of the Preacher Paul must be found who will be more than willing, who will be glad to sacrifice."

"I am the man," declared Dr. Vance, "whose filled with God, desirous of doing His will and carrying out His commands."

"Is the man," he asked, "who plans his life according to God, lacking in practical business sense? I do not think so. The true object of life is not getting all you can out of life but in putting in all you can. Is that kind of a man silly who does not see, how much money he can save when he dies, but sees how much he can do for civilization by the time he dies?"

Dr. Vance declared that the motto taken by the man or woman who is trying to live the right kind of life should be "not what I own, but what I owe, in the world."

"The civilized barbarians in a church are those who were willing to contribute to the church dues and for bountiful harvests but are not willing to contribute anything to foreign missions. This is an obligation of yours as well as supporting your family, if you are a man; of taking care of your home, if you are a woman."

"We have no more right to be selfish than Paul, who felt that he had no right to be selfish."

"You may be sure if you have anything that God will get after you, and if you shirk your obligations you will have to reckon for it."

Given Half Interest in Property by Court

Judge Linn D. Hay of Superior Court, room 2, today held that William F. Christian was entitled to one-half interest in a former residence near the fair ground, which was known as the Christian Roadhouse.

Christian, following the death of his father, filed suit in the Superior Court against Mrs. Maggie Christian, wife of his father, asking that he be given clear title to the roadhouse site which had been sold to the Lake Erie Railroad.

The court had allowed Christian, prior to his death, had illegally transferred the interest of his son to his wife. Judge Hay held that the court would take no steps to modify the sale of the site to the railroad, but that the plaintiff was entitled to one-half of the money obtained by Mrs. Christian from the sale of the property.

Attorney Emory Johnson, representing Christian, stated his client would abide by the decision of the court.

Pennsylvania Man Lodged in Jail Here

Mike A. Ryan of McKeesport, Pa., an employee of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company at Ft. Wayne, was brought to Indianapolis today and committed to the Marion County Jail to await action of the grand jury on the charge of violation of the Mann white slave act.

Ryan was arrested Saturday by Deputy U. S. Marshal W. H. Harperty of Ft. Wayne after evidence that he had transported Mrs. Marion Ethel Lowry, 18, from Pennsylvania to Indiana, had been obtained by operatives from the bureau of investigation.

He was taken before Commissioner T. J. Logan of Ft. Wayne, who fixed Ryan's bond at $2,000, which Ryan was unable to secure.

Ryan is 56 and has a wife living in McKeesport, Pa.

Most Perfect Girl

MISS DOROTHY E. KELLOUGH.

Miss Dorothy E. Kellough of Buffalo, N. Y., won the Sarah Streetter cup at Holyoke College. This cup has been given each year since 1914 to the senior found to be in the best physical condition at the time of her final physical examination. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in gymnastic work and athletics. Miss Kellough, like winners of the cup in former years, is an all-around athlete.

THANKSGIVING BABY CENTER OF COURT BATTLE

(Continued from Page One.)

ness means my boy," said Mrs. Houston at her home in this city. "Any mother would fight to keep her own flesh and blood. This is the first time that Edward and I have had a real home. I just want them to leave me alone and I will be happy with my baby and my boy."

While Mrs. Houston was speaking Edward, whose third birthday is being observed at the Houston home, romped happily with his new possession—a dog.

"When Edward was in Bloomington he had a dog called Billie, and since he has been here he has often spoken of the dog," said Mr. Houston. "So I went upown to Edward and said, 'Edward, we are going to get a dog for you.' He expected full support from France and Belgium. The assembly practically decided yesterday to await the new administration in the United States before attempting amendments to the covenant.

As a result of a prohibition officer that he was instructed in wine and pepsi could not be sold as a medicine, but not as a beverage.

FAIL TO LOCATE WOMAN IN CASE

Oklahoma Politician, Victim of Shooting, Improves.

ABANDON CAR OF MURDERED MAN

2 Men and 'Blonde' Hurriedly Leave Wheeling.

HARDING MAKES TRIP ON CANAL

Views Famous Gatun Lock From Mine Sweeper.

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Nov. 24.—Making his first inspection trip through the Panama canal, President-elect Warren G. Harding, accompanied by his two children, was expected to arrive here today to care for the wounded man.

Mrs. Houston denies that she unlawfully secured her son to keep him away from Mrs. Arnold's home at Bloomington.

"My mother sent me Edward's toy, his blocks, a wooden horse and other playthings dear to the heart of any child," explained Mrs. Houston. "The last time Edward was brought to me by my brother and sister."

Edward, the Thanksgiving baby, was greatly engrossed in building a castle of blocks when he was captured by the thief.

As the trial date approaches, Mrs. Houston is confident that mother love will win over the love of a grandmother.

18 PROFIT BY EXPERIENCE OF 1

Moss Draws Heavier Fine, Others Dismiss Appeals.

John Moss, charged with conducting a gambling house in 1918, was fined $15 and sentenced to ten days in jail by Judge James A. Collins of the Criminal Court. Moss and eighteen others appealed from the City Court, where they were given small fines for visiting a gambling house.

Judge Collins decided that the fine of $15 against Moss should be figured at $1 a head for each visitor caught in the act. The court decided to give the same amount of fine and sentence, which drew their appeals and decided to pay the small fine assessed by the City Court.

Indiana Judge was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days on a charge of gambling in blind tiger.

The court decided on a special venue of one hundred days to appear next Monday to answer questions concerning their qualifications to sit as jurors in the case of John Dangler, charged with keeping a gambling house, was fined $10 and sentenced to ten days.

Indiana Judge was fined $100 and sentenced to thirty days on a charge of gambling in blind tiger.

The court decided on a special venue of one hundred days to appear next Monday to answer questions concerning their qualifications to sit as jurors in the case of John Dangler, charged with keeping a gambling house, was fined $10 and sentenced to ten days.

Glass Plants in Four States to Be Merged

KANE, Pa., Nov. 24.—Twelve to fifteen glass plants in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana will be merged into an organization after the first of the year, it was announced here today. The consolidated companies will be known as the Interstate Window Glass Company, Incorporated in West Virginia. The merger is the result of patent litigation against several independent window glass companies brought and won by the American Window Glass Company.

Awarded $16,000

A verdict of $16,000 was returned today by a jury in the Circuit Court in Marion, Ind., Nov. 24, in favor of the company of New Albany, in a suit asking $25,000 damages against the Taft M. Heggen Company of Indianapolis, for damages said to have resulted from a contract to supply veneered lumber used in making airplanes for the United States Signal Corps under a Government contract during the war.

George H. Chamberlin presided at the hearing, which required about ten days.

HOTEL PURITAN

All the comforts of home. Absolutely fireproof.

Rooms $1.00 to $2.50

Corner Market and New Jersey Sts. Weekly Rate on Application.

BOCHE AT LAST FORCE WAY TO LEAGUE FLOOR

Hun Protest Against Colony Distribution to Come Up Thursday.

MILLEN LEADS FIGHT

GENEVA, Nov. 24.—Germany has forced her way into the League of Nations' discussions. The whole German situation will be canvassed Thursday when her protest against the distribution of her colonies under mandate is to be discussed.

E. D. Millen, Australia, with the assistance of President Hirman, carried the fight through. Vivian of France, Tittoni of Italy and Balfour of Great Britain, usually at the forefront in any discussion bearing on the Germans, took no part in the debate.

In an interview today, Millen declared:

"It was necessary to call a showdown on Germany's impudence. Berlin was inspired by two motives in sending that impudent note, threatening she would no longer consider the mandate given to the colonies classed as the treaty.

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

"Australia will insist on a distribution of the mandates until she becomes a member of the league, qualities as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."