

GOGORZA SINGS MONDAY NIGHT

Mendelssohn Choir Arranges Splendid Concert.

As soloist for its third annual concert in Calem hall Monday night the Mendelssohn choir of this city will present Emilio de Gogorza, the eminent Spanish baritone whose voice has delighted thousands of music lovers over the world. In reviewing one of his recitals the Boston Globe recently said: "There is no baritone in the world of music today who occupies as unique a position as that attained by Emilio de Gogorza. His great art and absolute musicianship have carried him to such heights that he is, as a recital and concert artist, without peer."

Perceval Owen, director of the choir, has assembled more than one hundred of the city's leading vocalists and will offer a well varied program of choral compositions, few of which have ever been presented in this city heretofore. It includes both secular and sacred songs and motets.

The advisory board of the choir is headed by J. Irving Holcomb.
