

ASKS SUPPORT FOR GAME LAWS
Letters Sent Out by Department of Conservation.

Officers and members of 108 fish and game protective associations are appealed to for support of legislation to be presented at the session of the General Assembly in January, to make Indiana a better State for hunting and fishing, by George N. Manfield, superintendent of the division of fish and game of the State department of conservation, in letter to the associations.

Mr. Manfield points out that concerted and cooperative action is necessary if Indiana is to continue to progress toward the conservation of the limited amount of wild life remaining.

"We are looking for advice and suggestions for improving the work of the fish and game division. You may have a thought or an idea that we have entirely overlooked. Let us assure you that we entertain no idea of 'knowing it all,'" he says.

"The absolute need of protecting fish, game and birds has long been discussed in the public press and, otherwise, especially protection to birds on account of their great economic value to the farmer, therefore, one would naturally suppose that the movement for their protection originated with the hand of man."

"Strange as it may seem, however, this was not the case. On the contrary, the organized sportsmen in the larger towns and cities were among the first to start a campaign for game, fish and bird protection. Strange still, the opposition from some members of the legislature to represent rural or farming districts; the stock argument of those legislators being that game and fish laws were intended for the benefit of the city sportsman at the expense of the rights of the farmer. Such is not the case, and to prove this the greater interest likely be in evidence at the coming Legislature unless a better understanding exists."

"Fortunately now the landowner or tenant looks upon game and fish protection as a necessity. We can no longer doubt that the bulk of the people in the State now favor the protection of fish, game, birds and fur-bearing animals, but it has come after the greater part of such resources have been sadly decimated. It seems to be the tendency of human nature to overlook and undervalue the blessings we enjoy. Not until they have passed away do we realize what has been lost."

Mr. Manfield urges that public sentiment be aroused to the vital necessity for better protective legislation, or Indiana will be a poor place to live in, in her waters and game in her remnants of forests and a revenue that could be made return thousands of dollars will be lost while the public generally will lose far more through lack of recreation and sport indicative of good health.

Spout Gets Many Lives

TANGIER, Nov. 30.—Many persons lost their lives in a waterspout which laid waste sections of this city Monday. A number of houses collapsed.

AMERICAN CENTRAL LIFE

Home Office Monument Place
ESTABLISHED 1899
INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

This Company is completing

TWENTY-ONE YEARS

of successful service to the people of Indiana and other States.

Its insurance in force is in excess of $90,000,000.00

Part Time Work for Women

How would you like to locate a capable woman to do mending, dress-making, house-work or care for the children so that you may have afternoons or evenings away from home? There are lots of women in this city eager to find part-time-work like this. They can't give you a full day but they can give you several hours each day. Ease the strain on yourself by employing such help. Find them with a Want Ad.

Or, if you are a woman who would like to increase your income by working part of the time watch our Want Ad columns. Or, better still, try a Want Ad of your own.

You Should Use Want Ads Like These:

WANTED—Capable, mature woman, middle aged preferred to help in mending, dress-making, house-work, etc. for children one week and care for children one evening each week. Laborer par. Please apply to Mrs. T. Wilson, 1020 S. Illinois, Indianapolis, Ind.

Part-time work like this solves problems for many households. Try it.

Read and Use the Want Ads in INDIANA DAILY TIMES

and from his work, who would have to foot the bill.

"While I'm not in favor of the 2-cent transfer, I am not opposed to granting some sort of car company relief of some sort. Frankly, I do not see how the company has kept afloat on a 5-cent fare when every other city of our size in the whole country is paying more. I just don't see how the company here can do it."

"If it is necessary to give the company relief, why wouldn't it be a great favor to give the company a straight increase to 6 cents and let everybody share the burden alike until the company is rehabilitated and then put the old rate into effect?"

Leaned far out over the sill, trying to catch a sparrow.

Exclamations of horror broke out as the infant reached farther and farther over the sill.

At length a woman spectator cried out: "What idiots you men are! Why don't you go and tell the child's mother?"

Three or four started, but they had not crossed the street before the child lost its balance and pitched out headlong.

"Think I don't know my business, eh? Well, I just do; and you can move on, please!"

UNFAIR TO MAN IN OVERALLS

Schmidt Says Laborers Would Pay 2-Cent Transfers.

President Gustav G. Schmidt of the city council said today he would like to have a chance to tell the public service commission how he feels as a city councilman about the Indianapolis Street Railway Company's petition for the right to charge 2 cents for each transfer and the stand which Corporation Counsel Samuel Ashby and Mayor Charles W. Price, Mr. Ashby's right-hand man, have taken thereon. The corporation has been asking any increase in rate whatsoever and the mayor says he feels that way, too.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose

positions enable us to wear better clothes and enjoy bigger incomes would not bear any of the burden of a 2-cent transfer charge, because we all ride downtown in the morning and get off in the business district. It's the man in the overalls who has to go from one end of the city to the other to get to

right where a 2-cent transfer charge would be applied.

Mr. Schmidt declared he would like to tell the public service commission that he, as a city councilman, is absolutely opposed to a 2-cent transfer charge for the reason that it is unfair to the men who don the overalls.

"We fellows whose business and whose