TROUBLE ON 'DE AV'NOO' SURE ENOUGH

Furness' Desire to Become Minister to Haiti Draw Political Lines Taut.

JEWETT SCENTS DANGER

There is war on the avenue-war which promises to grow in intensity until it beats anything that traditional battle ground ever has seen—a war which some leaders of the Jewett-Lemcke wing of the Republican party have begun to fear may result in the complete loss of their control of the negro vote, the balance of power in Marion County.

The conflict is one of knives and guns and galloping dominos, as so many avenue combats have been, but one in which the weapons are political pulls and the fears and aspirations of the contending factions. Which is by way of preface to the statement that everybody in the administration group of the Republican party in Marion County from Mayor Jewett and County Treasurer Ralph Lemcke, down to the last colored precinct committeeman is involved.

The generalissimo on the one hand is Dr. Sumner A. Furness, negro member of the city council. His able lieutenant is Rufe Page, king of the gamblers on Indiana avenue. William Lancaster, who also is famed for his gambling joint; Irving Hardy, former member of the Indianapolis police force, who was appointed shortly after he served a term in the penitentiary and for whose appointment the preceding city administration was roundly criticized; and Jesse Willis, former clerk in the city assessment bureau, who was discharged when caught in a gambling raid.

LEADERS OF OPPOSING FACTION.

Heavy Fleming, colored superintendent of ash collection; "Big Jack" Jackson, publisher of a colored newspaper; and Joe Broyles, a colored employee in the secretary of State's office lead the opposing hosts.

Rufe Page, insiders say, wants to see a monopoly on the gambling privileges. Lancaster wants to keep on gambling. Hardy wants to get out of the city and Willis wants to get in out of the cold.

The caucus held in Dr. Sumner A. Furness' ardent desire to be appointed minister to Haiti by President Harding, and his attempts to "get" Henry Fleming's ash-collecting job for one of his own followers.

The war was opened by Dr. Furness, those who have watched the fight develop assert. Dr. Furness desired to hold the negro vote in the hollow of his hand. With the help of City Controller Robert H. Bryson, who desired the support of the doctoring faction in his "shadow" race for the Republican nomination for mayor ("shadow" for the reason that his candidacy is regarded as only an attempt to obtain a weapon with which he may trade in order to land the postmastership of Indianapolis), Dr. Furness is said to have organized what is known to the elect as "The Precinct Commitment."

The organization is supposed to include all of the twenty-one negro Republican precincts in Marion County, and in reality, it is said, only nine apiece.

FREEDOM BEING SOUGHT FOR MRS. MYERS

Counsel for Slayer of Husband Files Petition to Obtain Bail

FATHER READY TO GIVE BOND FOR DAUGHTER

Judge Pritchard Expresses Regret That He Can't Fix Amount for Liberty.

A petition to obtain bail for Mrs. Ida Myers, who shot and killed her husband, Frederick A. Myers, in their studio at 1806 North Alabama street, will be filed today before the judge of the Criminal Court by M. L. Clawson, attorney for the defendant.

A transcript of the evidence presented in the preliminary hearing in City Court yesterday and a record of the case has been prepared to be submitted before the court.

Judge Walter Pritchard in City Court yesterday bound Mrs. Myers over to the grand jury without bail, declaring that he did not have the power to set the amount of her liberty on bond, but the judge walked into the matron's office after the hearing and shook hands with Mrs. Myers and expressed his regret that he did not have the power to set the amount of her liberty on bond.

Mrs. Myers was forced to remain in the Marion County jail during the night, although her father, Alonzo Salter, owns real estate unencumbered to the value of more than $50,000 in Warren Township, Marion County, was ready to sign the bond. Attorney Clawson declared that other relatives and friends are also ready to stand behind the bond if it is granted by the judge of Criminal Court.

The funeral of Mr. Myers was held at the parlors of Bailey & Kregelo, funeral directors, at 532 North Pennsylvania street at 10 o'clock this morning. Burial was at a cemetery two miles north of the city.

SAYS FARMERS SHOULD GET AID IN MARKETING

Federal Reserve Governor Cautions Against Bills for Temporary Relief.

DEFENDS RATE SYSTEM

Cautions in advocating measures which may seem to hold temporary relief from difficulties surrounding financial readjustment was urged by W. D. G. Harding, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, in an address before the national convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in a manufacturing and other lines of business is reflected in the reduced demand for farm products.

"I cannot conceive of any one questioning the fact that farming as a business must be remunerative or production will languish. It is highly desirable that the efforts of the farmer be supported and stimulated in every proper way and that he be aided in preserving the full measure of his harvest and that he be aided in preserving the full measure of his harvest and that he be given an opportunity of marketing his product on terms sufficiently profitable to warrant his staying in the business of farming."

In defending the Federal Reserve Board, Governor Harding said:

"The board cannot with propriety establish rates with a view of putting prices up or putting them down. In the determination of Federal Reserve bank discount rates must be given to general conditions in the money market and in the rate revisions which the board has approved from time to time, the view has always been taken that discount rates should not be pegged or fixed artificially. There are always certain basic conditions related to the demand for and the supply of credit in this country and throughout the world which must be taken into account, and the formal establishment of a Federal Reserve bank rate is merely an interpretation of these conditions."

Farmers were urged to stand squarely against the proposal to repeal the excess profits tax and substitute a new sales tax to make up the deficit in the Federal revenue in a speech by H. C. McKenney, of Warren, N. Y., chairman of the committee on taxation of the American Farm Bureau Federation at this morning's session.

Mr. McKenney asserted that the movement to repeal the excess profits tax is making an effort to shift the burden of the tax to the consumer.

WILSON SUGGESTS WAY OF OBTAINING WORLD LEADERSHIP

Says Example Within Our Own Borders and Stand for Right and Justice Will Make Democracy Prevail.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—President Wilson today called on congress to enact a program of legislation which he said would put the United States in the forefront of a movement to make the spiritual power of democracy prevail throughout the world.

In his final regular message to congress, which was sent to the two houses today by messenger, the President said there are two ways in which the United States can lead in establishing the doctrine of "right makes might" in the world. These ways, he said, are:

First, by offering the example within her own borders of the will and power of democracy to make and enforce laws which are unquestionably just and which are equal in their administration.

Second, by standing for-right and justice as toward individual nations.

The President declared that the display of an "immediate disposition on the part of the Congress to remedy any injustices or evils that may have shown themselves in our own national life will afford the most effectual offset to the forces of chaos and tyranny which are playing so disastrous a part in the fortunes of free peoples in more than one part of the world."

STIVENS SENT BACK TO JAIL

Judge Carter Holds That Suspended Sentence Must Be Served.

Although holding that a judge of the City Court does not have the legal authority to suspend a sentence, Judge J. Carter of Superior Court, Room 1, today held that Pat Stevens was originally sentenced to 180 days in the Indiana State Farm and fined $50 on a charge of violating the State prohibition act.

Judge Carter held that an illegal act by a judge, like suspending a sentence, does not invalidate a valid judgment of the court.

The court ordered Stevens remanded to the custody of the sheriff and he was returned to the jail after failing to obtain a writ of habeas corpus releasing him from serving the penal farm sentence.

Judge Carter ruled that Stevens' sentence of 180 days began on Nov. 11, the date of his arrest.

WOMEN'S WISH OF MOVING OUT MULES JOLTED

President of Council Says 'City Barns Are Long Way Off.'

Unmistakable indications that the Jewett city administration will not be able to fulfill its 3-year-old promise to build municipal yards and centralize therein all city barns, repair shops and equipment storage houses next year as it has expressed a hope to do, cropped out in the regular meeting of the city council last night.

Mr. Schmidt, president of council, told a delegation representing the South Side Women's Club that "the municipal yards are a long way off."

The statement was in answer to the women during a discussion of plans to move the city street cleaning and ash hauling mules from the present city yards at 1234 Shelby street. The women said they would like to see the yards built at once so they would have assurance the offensive animals would be out of the residential district.

The board of works repeatedly has stated that it cannot move the mules from their present abode until the yards are built. The yards cannot be built until the council approves a bond issue to finance the construction.

HOW STATEMENT IS CONSIDERED.

Mr. Schmidt's statement is taken, by those who are familiar with plans of the council, to mean that the present attitude of the majority of the body is to oppose the establishment of the yards as being an unwarranted expenditure of public money because of current building conditions.

The council is in a postponing mood. An ordinance providing for a 10 per cent increase in patrolmen's salaries and a 5 per cent raise in the pay of higher officers, up to and including the lieutenant of the police department, introduced by Councilman William B. Peake and backed by Attorney Fred P. Bonfield and a delegation of patrolmen, was tabled until the first meeting in March, Councilman Russell Wilson, chairman of the special committee of the whole, considering the ordinance ratifying the contract to amend the franchise of the Citizens Gas Company, received extension of time for his report until the next regular meeting. Councilman Peake likewise got more time for consideration by the finance committee of an ordinance ratifying a contract of the board of works with the local agent of the White Motor Truck Company for the purchase of two motor trucks for use in the ash hauling department.

VOTES RAT FUND OF $1,000.

After an appeal by Dr. Mark Ziegler, United States Public Health Service, to the campaign to exterminate rats the week of Dec. 13 receive the council's support, and after the board of public health had been called from its own meeting to the council chamber in a body to express its views on the matter, the council suspended the rat fund.

POET RENEWS FIUME DEMAND

Delegation Makes Little Headway With D'Annunzio.

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 7.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, "dictator of Fiume," in a conference with the parliamentary delegation from Rome renewed his demand that Italy annex Fiume harbor and the hinterland, according to advice reaching here today. The treaty of Rapallo, recently negotiated between Italy and Yugoslavia, prohibits Italy from carrying out such annexation. The committee from the Italian Chamber of Deputies has remained at Fiume hoping for a conciliatory agreement with D'Annunzio.

Gabriele D'Annunzio's "war" against Italy was to have opened last Friday, but the only hostilities reported consisted of some rifle firing against Italian warships which were out of range. In order to prevent the possibility of domestic strife the government troops blockading Fiume were ordered not to attack D'Annunzio's legionaries.

SAYS JURY OF WOMEN CAN'T TRY MRS. HAMON

Reputed Slayer Seeks Sob Outlet, Oklahoma Prosecutor Declares.

ARDMORE, Okla., Dec. 7.—Existing laws of the State of Oklahoma will prevent a trial by twelve women jurors, Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, reputed slayer of Jake L. Hamon, multimillionaire Oklahoma oil king, according to County Attorney Russell P. Brown today. Brown said "he would be glad" to try Mrs. Hamon before a jury of twelve men, but that the State laws interfered.

The sensational interview held with the missing woman near San Antonio by Perry M. Ross, a newspaper correspondent, has caused the pursuit to be re-kindled. Attorney Brown has wired San Antonio police to "use every known agency" to apprehend Mrs. Hamon and to arrest Ross if necessary as a material witness to compel her delivery.

BUCKNER CASE TO BE TRIED DEC. 20

Change of Venue Granted to Shelbyville Court.

The case of William Buckner, one of seven men indicted on a charge of the murder of Adam Naparlu, former city health inspector, who was fatally shot while a delivery of "white mud" was being made on Aug. 14, today was taken on a change of venue to Shelbyville.

After Judge James A. Collins of the Criminal Court granted the change, Judge Alonzo Blair of the Circuit Court there informed Deputy Prosecutor William Evans that he would assume jurisdiction in the case and would set it for trial on Dec. 20.

Judge Collins at the time of granting the change stated that the case should be tried at once because six other defendants are being held in jail. Attorney Frank McCray, counsel for Buckner, stated that Prosecutor Charles Adams refused to compromise the case on a manslaughter charge instead of a murder charge.

Others who were indicted and are waiting trial on a charge of murder are Edgar Harrison, John Montgomery, Mike McGuire, Henry Lee, Lawrence Allen and Harold Kauffman.

IDENTIFIES SELF AS BEING ALIVE

Man Tells Undertaker 'That's Not My Corpse.'

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—"The police told my wife that they have the body of Alexander Adamovitch here," said a man at the Central Undertaking rooms, 422 South Clark street, Monday.

"We have," replied Louis Cohen, the proprietor. "Are you a friend? Would you like to see the body?"

"Well," said the stranger, "I know Adamovitch, so you'll have to get an other name for your dead man. Adamovitch is my name and I'm far from dead."

The police had notified Mrs. Adamovitch that her husband had been killed in a fight at the saloon of Jake Abraham, 416 South Clark street. The dead man had an identification card, which Adamovitch lost some time ago, in his pocket.

So the police got busy and identified the body as that of John Shannon, 426 South Clark street, formerly a laborer at Camp Grant. At the inquest held later George Burke and Leo Maloney, both of 535 South Clark street, were ordered held to the grand jury on charges of manslaughter. They are said to have participated in a fight with Shannon.
