

WOMEN OBTAIN VIEWS OF MEN IN ASSEMBLY

Grow Indignant When Told of Surroundings of the Mentally Deficient.

VOTERS' LEAGUE ACTIVE

Indignation waxed high among the members of the League of Women Voters at a conference with the Marion County legislative delegation yesterday in the Chamber of Commerce when James L. Kingsbury, a representative, stated that many people mentally deficient are placed in the county jail, which, as he expressed it, "is very much like treating a person with a violent sick headache by confining him to a boiler factory." The women discussed informally the measures they will advocate in the coming session of the Assembly.

Mr. Kingsbury is working in the interest of a measure that will give better care to the insane. "People who are insane," he said, "are only sick mentally, and what they should have is medical attention and decent surroundings. Sixty per cent of the people sent to our hospitals are sent home cured or in a decidedly improved condition so that they may safely live with their people. There are over 50,000 mentally deficient in the State, and too small a number are getting proper attention in public institutions."

LEGISLATION

Mr. Kingsbury will also endorse various measures concerning the profiteering problem, especially as to the coal situation. He warned the women that legislation was a tricky proposition and that the women should study carefully the bills and men back of them to see that there is not a catch somewhere, "for the biggest thing that a man can do in the legislature is to kill unnecessary legislation."

Robert E. Moorhead, Senator-elect, said he was particularly interested in the high rent situation and would advocate a bill fixing the fair value of a rental property and the placing of a fixed rate of interest on the money invested in the property. Twelve per cent of the value, he stated, should be on an average a fair rental.

Another bill which Mr. Moorhead is decidedly interested in is a measure to be backed by the American Legion for the protection of the adult foreigner in the principles of Americanism.

WORLD ABOLISH SERVICE COMMISSION

Representative Omer L. Newman expressed himself as actively working for bills favoring the reduction of the high cost of living. Something should be done by the legislature to relieve the tax burdens of the people, he said, and he scolded the public service commission as an "aunt-sally" to the people of Indiana. He said it was unheard of that public corporations entering into solemn contracts should not be called upon to carry out their part.

"If they are not able to do so," he said, "They should be allowed to quit. You women must wake up to the fact that this board should be abolished."

Another statement he made was to the effect that state officials are not efficient, that they do not plan in enough time, thereby making it necessary to have twice as large a staff of public servants as is necessary. He urged the women to make a survey of the Statehouse and they would see where a big portion of their money has been going.

The interest of the woman has been concentrated upon bills which concern chiefly women, children, education and citizenship.

Woman With Revolver Seeks 'Mr. Stump'

"Mr. Stump" is the most fortunate man in Indianapolis.

"Mr. Stump's" luck started last night when a woman made the mistake of searching for him in a house wherein he was not known.

The woman, who was evidently fond of "Mr. Stump," called at the home of Mrs. Lucile Simmons, 239 North Davidson street, at 7:35 o'clock last night, and asked for "Mr. Stump."

She was informed that the person was unknown to Mrs. Simmons and she went away.

Returning in a few minutes the woman waved a revolver and demanded the right to search the house. She was told that she was welcome, and while she searched the house Mrs. Simmons telephoned the police, but the woman hearing her left the house and ran west on New York street.

The woman with the revolver failed to tell why she desired to meet "Mr. Stump."

She was described as being 5 feet 7 inches in height, weighing 155 pounds, and was about 30 years old. She wore a brown coat with a fur collar, and cuffs, and a broad-brimmed hat.

Striking Piano Makers to Have Own Plant

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Striking union piano workers, deadlocked with employers over demands for increased wages, today planned to manufacture their own pianos.

Workers will contribute the first months' wages to put the new firm on its feet.

Vincennes Girl Dies From Escaping Gas

Special to The Times. VINCENNES, Ind., Dec. 9.—Ruth Perry, 18, was found dead in her bed at a rooming house here Wednesday morning, an investigation showing that she had been asphyxiated by escaping gas.

Ruth Perry, a sister, left the room early, lighting the gas before she departed and cautioned her sister to arise and turn it off.

It is believed the blaze was blown out and the gas left to escape in the room.

Gets Life Term for Slaying Sweetheart

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 9.—After being out less than two hours, a jury in the Vigo Circuit Court, found W.H. Fulkerson guilty of murder in the first degree and he was sentenced to life imprisonment in the State prison. Eight of the jurors favored the death sentence, it is said.

Board was convicted of killing Bertha Buck, his sweetheart, a few weeks ago, and throwing her body in a vault, covering it with ashes.

KIWANIS EDITOR TO SPEAK. MARION, Ind., Dec. 9.—Roe Fulkerson of Washington, D. C., magazine writer, attorney and newspaper man, will address members of the Marion Kiwanis Club at a meeting Friday evening. Mr. Fulkerson is editor-in-chief of the Marion Times, the official publication of the organization; is first vice president of Kiwanis International and is the author of "Andrew and Eugene," a syndicated feature which appears in a number of newspapers.

THINKS REPUTED SPY IS INSANE

Willer's Uncle Says ex-Captain Lived in Lafayette.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 9.—In connection with the arrest of John A. Willers on a charge of absconding with $6,000 belonging to Company 1, 48th United States Infantry, Frank Dose of the city of Lafayette, uncle of Willers, say he believes the man insane.

Dose states Willers made his home here for some time and worked for a local packing house as a butcher. He left here and went to Fort Slocum, N. Y., where he enlisted in the army in 1914.

Mr. Dose says Willers was born in America since he was 14 years old and he has no knowledge of his ever returning to Germany, although his mother still resides there.

Willers visited Lafayette last summer and spent some time in the city here, stating that he had been discharged from the army because of injury.

According to his physician, who refused to allow his name to be used, the grandson of the multimillionaire in question was recently operated on for tonsillitis at an Ann Arbor hospital. The surgeon charged a fee based on the size of the bill, he threatened to obtain a law fixing a definite scale.

MONSIEUR BEAUCRAIRE

Prices Nights, 50c to $2.50 Seats Thurs.

To the Public.

Never in twenty-two years as manager of English's Opera House have I given advance personal endorsement of an attraction, but the beautiful production of "Monsieur Beaucaire" is an exception with its famous story of our Bush Tarkington, its music composed by the great Messager and its splendid cast of singers and actors, that it makes me feel that I would not do my duty were I not to urge every woman to see it. I guarantee "Monsieur Beaucaire" as one of the finest attractions of this or any other season.
