

TIGER OPERATOR GETS SENTENCE

George Wrassman Draws Farm Term and $250 Fine.

George Wrassman, 106 North Arsenal avenue, who was arrested Nov. 24 by Lieutenant Winkler and Patrolmen Wening and Higgs in the poolroom of Harry James, 1409 East Washington street, and slated at the city prison for operating a blind tiger, was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to serve ninety days on the Indiana State Penal Farm by Judge Walter Pritchard in City Court yesterday afternoon.

Lieutenant Winkler said that Wrassman, as soon as he saw the officers coming into the poolroom, ran into a room. When the police searched the room they found two half-pint bottles of bonded whisky standing near the wall, warm and "hardly settled." Although Wrassman had been the only one to enter the room during the past few minutes he denied the ownership of the liquor.

Wrassman was arrested and convicted once in 1919 and fined $25 and costs for having six cases of beer under a barroom counter, and was given a similar fine again in 1920 for having two quarts in his possession.

The State failed to subpoena a person, who, according to the police, said that Wrassman had been bootlegging in and around the James poolroom for quite a while.

Try to Join Men Held With Murder Case

Special to The Times.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 9.—Local police today are trying to connect two reputed robbers under arrest at Jasper with the murder of Dennis Kuban, 17-year-old taxi driver of this city, who was murdered the night of Nov. 16.

The men arrested at Jasper gave the names of William Wise, 26, and George Murphy, 29, with homes at Grafton, W. Va. They were found with stolen loot, and drove an automobile supposed to have been stolen from Kokomo.

The description of one of the men employed are taking place throughout Indiana, but they are being conducted quietly.

Gloomy predictions as to the British economic outlook are being made in parliamentary debate upon the unemployment situation.

One of the latest seizures was at Aytoun where 500 unemployed seized the municipal baths yesterday.

An organization known as the Federation Council of Unemployed has been organized. Madame Tring, one of the officers, declared in a speech that the lo-

LONDON, Dec. 9.—British unemployed are organizing for direct action. A general staff has been formed, it was learned today. The officers will wear red badges in the form of rosettes. Headquarters have been established at Islington to direct demonstrations in London. The Islington headquarters are constantly guarded by armed men.

Seizures of property by the unemployed are taking place throughout England, but they are being conducted quietly.

The general staff of the "unemployed army" has formulated long lists of demands which have been sent to fifty mayors in London and suburban cities. These demands have been turned over to the home office, which is studying the unemployment question.

The unemployed are threatening to march upon Whitehall and to make a silent demonstration in front of Parliament building and the premier's official residence in Downing street, but the exact time of the demonstration is not known.

cal organizations would receive the full support of the national body in seizures and other activities. Local councils of the organization have already been established in thirty-six boroughs of London and others are being formed.

Fears of disorders lead the government to adopt a policy of aloofness toward the seizures where no damage was being done to property.

For the most part the seizures were carried out in orderly action without interference by the police. In a few instances, however, the police attempted to interfere, leading to reprisal threats by the demonstrators.

Municipal offices of seven subdivisions of Greater London have been occupied by unemployed to shelter their families.

Found With 'Mule,' Fined and Sentenced

John Smith, who was arrested with Sandy Taylor, both colored and living at 1352 Pershing avenue, and slated at the City Prison for operating a blind tiger, pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve 510 days on the Indiana State Farm by Judge Elmer Pritchard in City Court yesterday afternoon. The trial of Taylor was continued until Dec. 10.

Smith was arrested at his home when policemen found a five-gallon still in operation, fifty gallons of mash, a quantity of shelled corn and a meat chopper, which was used to prepare the corn. The still was of five-gallon capacity.

Taylor was later arrested on the street trying to dispose of his products.

KENTUCKY JUDGE THERE.

BOSTON, Dec. 9.—John J. Sullivan and Daniel Santry, who conduct a near-beer saloon, were found not guilty in the South Boston court of making an illegal sale of whisky to Patrolman Doherty. Doherty said he put the whisky in a bottle and showed it to Judge Hayes in the court, but the judge ruled that there was insufficient evidence.
