Of unusual character and decided interest is the program that has been planned for the meeting of the Monday Club next Monday afternoon, to be held in the ballroom of the Proprietary. "A Miracle of a Child's Christmas," a Christmas play, will be presented by a special cast from the Little Theater, under the direction of George Sonnes. Those taking part are: Mrs. Elizabeth Bogert Schofield, Mrs. Mary T. Thornton, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Ruthine, Miss Margaret Miller, Mrs. Merle M. ... and several others. Lawrence Neidlinger, Isadore Adler. Preceding the play Mrs. Ethel Hall Behymer will sing a group of songs including "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," from "The Holy Infant," and "I Wonder When Silent and Dim is the Night." Following the production she is to sing "Silent Night, Peaceful Night," with a clavine accompaniment, played by Mrs. Herbert Adkinson. The committee in charge of the production is composed of Mrs. Edward Files and Mrs. Everett Schofield.

A "pre-holiday dinner-dance" will be given by the Independent Athletic Club in the clubhouse on the night of Dec. 16.

A visit to the Indiana Girls' Industrial School at Clermont, Friday afternoon will compose the December tour of the Home and Education Department Club. Mrs. David Ross will be the personal conductor and the party will take a 1 o'clock interurban, returning at 4 o'clock. All members of the department are urged to make the trip. Reservations may be made through Mrs. W. V. Thornton, secretary.

The S. T. S. Club of the Irvington branch library was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frankel, Miss Marion Eberle in Audubon Court. Following a short literary program in which Charlotte Totten gave a sketch of the life of Louisa May Alcott, Margaret Cook and Eunice King reviewed "Little Men" and "Little Women," and Eunice King read a poem by Whittier. Isabelle Layman and Elizabeth Hodges assisted in the hospitalities.

Miss Marjorie Wilson of New York will be the honor guest at the Delta Delta Delta Alliance tree, to be given at the Columbia Club Saturday. She will talk to the women on Vocational Guidance for Women. Mrs. Frank Kelle, 2515 North Delaware street, is in charge of reservations.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac E. Woodard, 8835 North Pennsylvania street, will leave for an extended trip through the West, the last of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Tantewiler, 1515 Park avenue, will have as their guest during the Christmas holidays Miss Catharine Dunn of Washington.

Miss Eila Kurtz, 1931 Broadway, was hostess for the luncheon of the Altrusitic Club today. The table was attractively decorated with polka-dot combinations with Christmas greens. Light shades, ices and confections, together with flowers and greens, carried out effectively the Christmas color scheme.

The marriage of Miss Ellen Shirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Shirk of Brookville, and Kenneth D. Coffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Coffin of Woodruff Place, took place in the home of the bride's parents last night. Miss Celia Shirk, sister of Fred Brinkmeyer of Indianapolis, acted as maid of honor. Mr. and Mrs. Coffin will be with Mr. Coffin's parents until after Christmas, when they will go to Florida for the winter. On their return they will be at home in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Housewife. Do You Know?

1. What is the difference between the sweet potato and the yam?
2. Is frozen fish wholesome?
3. How to minimize the odors and steam in your kitchen and steam room? (These questions will be answered tomorrow by the Housewife).

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS

1. The Jerusalem artichoke got its name as a corruption of the Italian word "Girasole," meaning sunflower. It is a tuber-bearing member of the sunflower family quite distinct from the French of Globe artichoke.
2. Rice usually increases from four to five times its original size in cooking.
3. For kitchen and steam room shelves a coat of enamel paint which can be wiped off with a damp cloth every day if you wish.—Copyright, 1920.

Meetings

The Needle Club, Irvington Temple, No. 411, Pythian Center, will meet with Mrs. William Thayer, 8820 Dewey avenue, tomorrow afternoon.

Division 1, L. A. of A. O. H., will give a euchre and lotto party in the Catholic Community Center, 124 West Georgia street, tonight.

The Story Hour of the Irvington Branch Library has been changed from 2:30 to 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Tickets of admission to be presented at the door may be obtained from the librarian. All children under 10 years of age are invited.

"Mary Broome," a comedy in four acts by Allen Monkhouse, will be presented by the Little Theater, Friday evening, Dec. 17, in the Masonic Temple. This will be the first performance of this play outside of New York, where it was given at the Neighborhood Playhouse. Originally it was produced in the Gailey Theatre, Manchester, England, by Miss Monkhouse's Company.

COMPANY TO EMPLOYEES 600.
MARION, Ind., Dec. 9.—Six hundred persons will be employed by the Wabash Basket Company when the new plant is in full operation in Marion. The executives, in an announcement of company officials, said that plants are now being operated by the company at Converse, Windfall, Swartz, Bunker Hill and Somerset, Ind., and Montgomery, Ala. Sixty thousand dollars have been spent here in preparing the new plant for occupancy.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION
Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisons matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow looks, dull eyes, a coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c-30c.

Making Art NameCOUPLE MARRIED AT FOOD SHOW

Miss Helen Louise Davis Becomes Bride of Robert Kirkpatrick.

The marriage of Miss Helen Louise Davis and Robert Kirkpatrick, which took place at the Pure Food Show last night, was a pretty ceremony which would have made any girl happy. The wedding party met the Rev. J. Ambrose Dunkle, pastor of the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church, at the pavilion in the center of the hall, and to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," proceeded to the stage erected over the pavilion.

The bride's attendants were little Miss Virginia Wheeler, ring bearer; Miss Gladys Hancock, maid of honor, and Mrs. Gertrude Stoops, matron of honor. Mr. Kirkpatrick was accompanied by his best man, A. M. Alkman.

Following the ceremony, the couple was presented with a large wedding cake and a $100 bill. At a shower held for them Tuesday night they received a large supply of foodstuffs presented by the firms exhibiting at the food show.

Irish 'Republic' Song Published at Marion

Special to The Times.
MARION, Ind., Dec. 9.—"The Song of the Harp," the proposed national anthem of the new "Republic of Ireland," has just been published in Marion and is to be presented to President Eamon de Valera for his approval.

The title page and cover design of the song depict the new flag of the republic, which has met with the approval of President de Valera.

The original lyric of the song was written by Thomas P. Gaynor, C. M. C., formerly a teacher in the Ft. Wayne schools, who is now a member of the faculty of the Holy Cross College in New Orleans. Gaynor conceived the song as the "Star-Spangled Banner" of the free Ireland of which he had dreamed.

He showed the verse to Clyde M. Mann of Marion, who is a prominent producer of songs and lyrics. He saw the latent possibilities in Gaynor's verses and, with the assistance of Mrs. Marie H. Brincombe, a local composer, the song has been published.

Believes Body Found in Fire That of Man

Special to The Times.
HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Dec. 9.—Dr. P. W. Rhamy, Ft. Wayne, specialist, reported to Coroner Shadley, Thursday, that the body found in the ruins of a fire on the Chapman farm, east of the city, probably is that of a man.

The fact, together with a failure to find any trace of William Frazier, formerly a tenant of the farm, since the fire, leads the authorities to be convinced the body is that of Frazier.

Whether Frazier committed suicide or died accidentally in the fire may never be known.

Heads of the news to Clyde M. Mann of Marion, who is a prominent producer of songs and lyrics. He saw the latent possibilities in Gaynor's verses and, with the assistance of Mrs. Marie H. Brincombe, a local composer, the song has been published.
