The All-American team of 1920 represents a greater breadth of ability on the part of every one of its members than any team ever before selected.

The first team put into the hands of that remarkable little field general, Lurie, Princeton, all the weapons of attack we can possibly give him by the use of Way, Penn State, and St. Louis, Ohio State, as half backs, and the late George Gipp, Notre Dame, the greatest back field man the country had in the past season, as full back.

We put in front of him a line of supreme power—a line upon which we can count three remarkable men for

Butler Five Gathers Speed for Clash With Purdue Quint Friday

Court Pat Page, Butler basket mentor, is daily increasing the pace of his hard-fighting net squad in preparation for the crucial and all-important contest with Purdue Friday. The game is to be played at Lafayette.

The Technical High School five worked out with the Pagens yesterday afternoon at the Butler gym, and it is probable that one of the other local high school quintets will do the same before coaches hit his practice work for the coming battles.

Chances of a Butler victory against their strong Big Ten opponents rested somewhat of a setback yesterday when it was learned that Phil White, floor guard, was suffering from an ankle injury and might possibly be out of the line-up Friday.

However, Page has a number of likely substitutes who have been pushing the regulars hard, particularly in the guard department, and in the event that White is unable to start his place will be ably filled by one of these men and the Blue and White machine will lose little of its power. With the exception of White all members of the regular squad are in great condition and eager for a crack at the strong Lafayette aggregation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Jack Dempsey has been the main attraction of a catch-as-catch-can guessing contest today.

Jack is still the world's boxing champion and tonight, the result of his twelve-round knockout victory over Bill Brennan last night. He is also the latest thing in puzzles.

The thing which the champion against Brennan was a big surprise. When they met before Dempsey won in six rounds. Last night Brennan stood up twice as long and gave the champion a hammer blow on the right side of the head that won the plaudits of some 13,000 fight fans away from the titleholder.

What the fight fans want to know is: "How come?"

CHAMP NERVOUS BEFORE BOUT

Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, said after the bout that Dempsey was a bit too easily drawn. He looked it, at that, as he was seen as a nervous wreck while he stood with Brennan for the camera men. His legs were atremble as he stood facing the Chicagoan, and he did not look like the champion.

Throughout the twelve rounds it appeared to some at the ringside that Dempsey was not in his normal condition. Some whispered that maybe he was busy making a good movie of the fight. Others said that he was too tired from traveling at a fast clip lately, gaining K. O. over Wallace and Lavery at Philadelphia and Springfield, respectively, in his last two bouts.

SOLOLY EPSTEIN BUSY

Solly Epstein will tackle Sammy Marino at Toledo Thursday night in a scrap billed to go ten rounds.

Epstein has been traveling at a fast clip lately, gaining K. O. over Wallace and Lavery at Philadelphia and Springfield, respectively, in his last two bouts.

GEORGES IN ROYAL CHAT

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Georges Carpentier expressed great interest in the Dempsey-Brennan fight. He said that he was a big fan of the champion and that he was a big fan of the challenger.
