

WARMLY GREET'S MUSIC ARTISTS

Appreciative Audience Hears Flozaley Quartette in Concert

A decidedly appreciative audience greeted the Flozaley quartette, presented in concert by the Maenners' Society at the Academy of Music last night.

The four artists, Adolfo Deit, first violinist; Alfred Poebon, second violinist; Louis Bailey, viola player, and Ivan D'Archean, cellist, are individually masters of technique and interpretation and collectively they have reached the highest rung of the ladder in ensemble chamber music. Their program last night, of the highest order of classic composition, exhibited their unusual artistry to an advantage that delighted their hearers.

Beethoven's Quartette in B Flat, Major Op. 13, No. 6, was, possibly, the favorite and was played with glowing warmth, delicate shading and rich tonal effects. Their presentation of Mozart's Quartette in D Major was played with the same marvelous skill and sympathetic understanding. An Adagio from Quartette Op. 69, by a Hungarian composer, E. M. Moor, who has dedicated his latest composition to the artists, completed the regular group of numbers. Among the encores was a Technis "Silly Scherzo," a burlesque of Oaten Bracken's, and the charming Granger favorite, "Molly on the Shore."

Society

Miss Frances Madden will entertain the "Polo" Club at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ruth Madden, 5334 Burgess avenue, tomorrow afternoon. A feature of the entertainment will be the opening of a "Claus pack" for which each member will bring a gift. Myrtle Butcher and Samantha Lancaster will be in charge of the entertainment. Assisting the hostess are Margaret Campbell and Emma Swineford. Miss Pearl Bedford will be a special guest.

Mrs. Hazel Galey, 2206 Ashland avenue, will be the hostess for the Christmas party of the Independent Social Club to be held next Tuesday afternoon.

The "senate" of the home and education section of the Woman's Department Club will meet in the clubrooms tomorrow afternoon. Several bills of interest will be presented. Mrs. Felix McWhirter, president, desires each senator to be in her seat by 2:30 o'clock. Today the section made a tour of the plants of the Indianapolis Water Company. Automobiles conveyed the party which gathered on Monument Circle at 10 o'clock. Luncheon was served to the ladies by the company and the workings of the shops were studied. Mrs. McWhirter was in charge of the tour, which was personally conducted by officials of the water company. This is the December tour of the series of inspection trips that are being conducted by the section this season.

A Christmas party will be given Tuesday afternoon by the Heyl Study Club in the home of the president, Mrs. Verne B. Sharritt, 2308 Talbot avenue. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. W. D. Long, Mrs. P. C. Rubush, Mrs. Fred Salt, Mrs. Albert Alexander, Mrs. F. P. Woolery and Mrs. James Beatty.

An attractive dancing party was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fleming last night in honor of Miss Esther Fleming and John H. Willford of Memphis, Tenn., by a group of Miss Fleming's close friends, including Miss Greta Hite, Miss Alma Ayres, Miss Josephine Crossley, Miss Ota May, Miss Dorothy Esser, Miss Violet Ellis, Miss Mary Crossland, Miss Dorothy Heslett, Miss Grace Aldrich and Miss Helen Byrkit. Holly, mistletoe, poinsettias and bright tapers gave the parlors a gay Christmas atmosphere. The dining-room was arranged with bridal decorations, the centerpiece of the serving table was a miniature bride banked with maidenhead fern and white blossoms.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Henry Beck for the marriage of her daughter, Catherine Marie, to Lieut. Charles Davis Williams, U. S. N., to take place Dec. 23 in Christ church.

Mrs. J. W. Tins, 2645 Sutherland avenue, was hostess for the Christmas luncheon and party of the Semper Fidelis Needle Club, yesterday afternoon. Baskets of poinsettias, combined with Christmas greens, were used throughout the rooms and the luncheon table was attractive with holly, burning red tapers in crystal holders, with place cards in Christmas design.

A bridge party will be given tomorrow afternoon by the women's bridge section of the Independent Athletic Club at the clubhouse. Mrs. Jack Leon and Mrs. Edward Sheppard will act as hostesses.

The board of the League of Women Voters will meet tomorrow afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce.

Christmas bells, holly and poinsettias were used throughout the home of Mrs. A. De Witt in University Terrace for the miscellaneous shower and "5000" party given last night in honor of Miss Esther Berry, bride-elect. The hostesses were Mrs. Walter Kemp of Franklin, Mrs. C. E. Schowe, Miss Helen Schowe and Miss Boneta Cox.

The Amicus Club gave its Christmas party this afternoon in the home of Mrs. O. F. Kinney, 104 South Warman avenue.

Miss Christine Wilson will come tomorrow to pass the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, 3216 Washington boulevard.

Mrs. Ewing Brown of Hazard, Ky., is the house guest of Mrs. John Talbot, 2043 North Talbot avenue.

Miss Geraldine Barker and Miss Josephine were used throughout the home of Mrs. A. De Witt in University Terrace for the miscellaneous shower and "5000" party given last night in honor of Miss Esther Berry, bride-elect. The hostesses were Mrs. Walter Kemp of Franklin, Mrs. C. E. Schowe, Miss Helen Schowe and Miss Boneta Cox.

Comedy to Be Given by Little Theater

For its third bill of the season the Little Theater will present "Mary Broome," a four-act comedy by Allan Monkhouse, tomorrow night in the Masonic Temple.

This play was first presented in Manchester, England, in 1911 and later in New York by the Neighborhood Players. The cast will include Mrs. Eugene Fife, George Sommes, Montgomery S. Lewis, J. Gales, H. L. Earnest, H. H. Hunsman, Mrs. J. D. Peirce, Mrs. Alexander Hamilton, Miss Ruth Parry and Miss Angeline Bates.

The society will also present a Christmas play, "The Little Star of Bethlehem," on Dec. 23, in the Masonic Temple.

Advertisers Hear Chamber Director

"How Cities Get Their Names Across" was the subject of a talk by Robert E. Tracy, director of the bureau of municipal research of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, as the principal feature of the program for the weekly luncheon held today noon by the Advertising Club of Indianapolis, at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Next Thursday is "New Member Day," and the club, in its weekly publication, asks this question of its members, "Have you signed up a new member for this day?"

FORMER FOLLIES BEAUTY SHINES As Movie Star in Harry J. Smith's 'Blackbirds'

"Blackbirds," a "crook" drama, written by Harry James Smith, comes to the Alhambra for the last half of the week, starting today, and brings a new star in the person of Justine Johnstone. Miss Johnstone, like Mae Murray, first attracted attention when she was a member of Ziegfeld's Follies.

In "Blackbirds," she has a play of more than ordinary appeal. It is not a tale of sordid life, but of a woman who moves in a circle of thieves and gamblers, and who is placed by strange circumstances under obligations and in the power of a band of international sharpshooters who specialize in stealing gems and rare paintings. Though the life is distasteful to her, yet her cleverness soon gains her the reputation of being the smartest smuggler in the world. She falls in love with a man whom she little suspects follows a career similar to her own. It is not until they engage in a battle of wits for the possession of a valuable painting which she has been commissioned to steal that she learns the truth concerning him. In the scenes that follow they both determine to "go straight."

OLCOTT BOOKED.
The Chaney Olcott comes to English's Monday for a three-day engagement. "Macaulay," an Irish vehicle, which has been meeting with favor on tour. The engagement will close with matinee and night performances on Wednesday.

CONTINUING ATTRACTIONS.
The following stage and movie attractions may be seen today: "Monter Beauregard," with Marion Green (not to be missed) at English's; "Buddies" at the Murat; vaudeville at Keith's; popular vaudeville at the Lyric and Broadway; musical comedy at the Rialto; musical extravaganza at the Park; "The Fatal Hour" at the Regent; "To Please One Woman" at the Isis; "The Little Grey Nones" at Mister Smith's; "Rebeld My Wife" at the Ohio; "The Palace of Darkened Windows" at the Colonial; and "Stop Thief" at the Circle.

Mrs. Housewife, Do You Know?

(Note—Each of these household problems has been worked out by the author, who has not only taken a course in scientific housewifery and dietetics at Columbia University, and written and edited a woman's newspaper and magazine for years, but is a practical housekeeper as well.)

1. How do mutton and lamb differ in food value?
2. How to cook cabbage with the least odor in the house?
3. How to prevent the formation of a ring when cleaning a spot on woolen cloth without putting the entire garment in the gasoline?

(These questions will be answered tomorrow by the HOUSEWIFE.)

ANSWERS TO YESTERDAY'S QUESTIONS.

1. It is probable that chickens were first domesticated at a very early period from the wild jungle fowl of Asia and Oceania.

2. Cabbage and cauliflower are soaked in cold water to which salt and a little vinegar has been added in order to drive out any hidden worms or insects.

3. Milk bottles and glasses should be rinsed first in cold water as milk contains proteins which become insoluble of being heated.—Copyright, 1920.

KIWANIS GOVERNOR SPEAKS.
COLUMBUS, Ind., Dec. 16.—John M. Bromert of Indianapolis, lieutenant governor of the Kiwanis Clubs of the Indiana district, spoke at a noon luncheon of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce yesterday. In speaking on the labor problems of the country, Mr. Bromert called for the leading men of the city to stand together in the fight to prevent any body or group of men from dominating in the government. Harlan Sanders, secretary of the Jeffersonville Chamber of Commerce, was present.

200 Mid-Season Hats Intrigue Your Sense of Value With a $5.95 Price

They are hats with all the chic of line and piquancy of decoration that holiday parties assume for madam's correct wear.

Chin-chins, mushroom shapes, turbans, sailors and gay off-the-face models make up this collection in fabrics of Lyons and panne velvets, duvetyne and silk and satin.

Crowns are broadened in some instances; other hats are trimmed with fur, flowers, ribbons and ornamental conceits.

And the color range is equally wide; navy blue, Royal purple, orange, mahogany, gray, red, black and brown.

At $5.95 these hats are in a class by themselves—and a very charming, desirable one. —Ayres—Second floor.

Jersey Blouses at $5.95 Are Good for Giving

Smart little models of wool jersey in tie-around styles with sash; or collared and cuffed with white organdy; or collared and cuffed in a contrasting shade of jersey.

If you know some one on your "list" has a plaid skirt, just choose a jersey blouse to match the predominating or a lighter tone, and you'll delight the recipient of such a gift.

Incidentally, the shades available are navy blue, brown, heaver and henna. —Ayres—Blouse dept., third floor.

Camisoles to Make In One Easy Lesson

The lace section is offering patterns of delicate laces in camisole widths, with semi-circles cut out for the armholes at just the right distances apart and with "peninsulas" of lace for fashioning the built-up shoulders.

All that's to be done after purchasing such a pattern is to hand it at the waistline, run pretty ribbons through the top, and finish the shoulders, and behold, the thing's done. A yard and a quarter to the pattern. Prices, $1.50, $1.95 and $2.50 each.

—Ayres—Lace section, second floor.
