

SHOP AWHILE AND THEN PAY MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ARTISTIC MELODY OFFERING

BEATRICE MORRELL SEXTETTE

DAINTY, DIGNIFIED, DISTINGUISHED

4--CASTING CAMPBELLS--4 SENSATIONS IN THE AIR

SMITH AND BAGLEY | WATTS and RINGGOLD

THE LEAGUE OF NONSENSE

"THE BLUSHING BRIDE AND GROOM"

M'Cormick & Winehill | KELLY and DAY

"JUST FOR A LAUGH"

Fox Film Farce

"A DOGGONE WEDDING"

EXTRA-ADDED ATTRACTION-EXTRA

FISHER'S CIRCUS

A CLEVER COLLECTION OF DOGS, PONIES AND MONKEYS

MOTION PICTURES.

ALL WEEK
Starting Sunday

Chas. RAY

in "PEACEFUL VALLEY"
HIS LATEST PICTURE

LARRY SEMON COMEDY

MISTER SMITH'S THEATER

"THREE MELODY GIRLS"

MUSIC THAT PLEASES
Playing 1:30 to 4:30,
7:00 to 10:00.

INDIANA DAILY TIMES, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1920.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

into the water. The third time, the ex-cowboy was not alone in his glory, for he as well as Mary Alden (who plays Mrs. Hutchins), Priscilla Bonner (who plays Ellen Hutchins), Nick Cogley (who plays Hiram Joy), and Director Clarence Badger, slid in together.

LOIS WEBER'S MOVIE
HELD OVER AT ISIS.

Owing to the wide-spread interest manifested in Lois Weber's special production, "To Please One Woman," the picture will be held over at the Isis all next week.

Embracing as it does an interesting aspect of American life, "To Please One Woman" is made all the more when Harrison Ford, as an artist friend of the fat man, takes a hand in the game.

The picture was directed by Maurice Campbell, for many years a noted producer for the stage, and who is the husband of Henrietta Crossman. Other program features will include a Mutt and Jeff comedy and the Fox news weekly.

TUMBLING IN RIVER
IS ROGERS' FAILING.

"It's all right to tumble into the river once on a trip, but three times in one day is the limit," said Will Rogers, when he returned to the Goldwyn Studios after being "out of location" during the filming of "Honest Hutch," which comes to the Ohio Sunday.

The first time the star got an unexpected bath it was entirely his own fault. He was on the back of a tug in the Sacramento River, (where river is for the pictures) when he slipped and overreached himself in taking a swing with his inseparable rope. He went in with a splash to the enjoyment of all aboard.

The next time he got a ducking he staged a rescue when his small son in the picture (Edward Trebaol), tumbled.

AMUSEMENTS.

SHOP AWHILE
AND THEN PAY
MOVIES VISIT

(Continued From Page Five.)

</