

DRAMATIC CLUB GIVES COMEDY

A Successful Calamity Presented by Local Talent.

"A Successful Calamity," the four-act comedy presented by the Dramatic Club at the Murr theater last night, was cleverly handled by the cast of local chespians.

The plot is woven about the worn out, surly-smothered man of wealth, who for the sake of his family and self, announces that he is ruined, cleaned out absolutely, which wakes up his family to the fact that he needs them for the first time, and the consequences of his fabrication form a delightful frothy farce.

Mrs. Herbert Woolen made the most eloquent of French maids with her saucy tongue, shrugs and impudent gestures. Miss Katherine Watson as Marguerite Wilton was charming in a series of racy gowns; Mrs. Hewitt Howland as the young wife, Mrs. Wilton, and Anna Louise Griffith as Julie Partington, pretty belle, all won the admiration of the enthusiastic audience.

Anton Vonnegut played the part of Mr. Wilton, the instigator of the plot, in excellent fashion. Thomas Hendricks, as the irresponsible, immature son, Arthur B. Grover as John Belden, Wilton's partner; Lee Burns as Conners the butler; Gilbert Hurty as George Struthers; Elms Atkins as Clarence Rivers; Herbert Wycoer as Pietro Ruffolo, the artist, and Frank N. Lewis as Dr. Broodile, all exhibited surprising ease in their respective roles.

D. Laurence Chambers directed the play and the committee in charge included Mrs. Charles B. Fletcher, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Grover, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stafford, Oscar P. Welborn and C. E. Fletcher.

A merry party of local musical folk went to Columbus today to attend the annual Christmas party of the Mu Psi Epsilon Society of the Metropolitan School of Music, which was held at the home of Miss Louise Mason. Miss Jesse Kitchen of Columbus, also a member of the organization, assisted Miss Mason. A luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and was followed by a special Yuletide musical program, some Christmas "stunts," and the distribution of gifts from the Christmas tree, festooned with dazzling tinsel and brilliant with twinkling tapers. The house was decorated throughout with Christmas greens, glowing poinsettias and bells, with miniature Christmas trees, holly and red tapers in crystal holders, attractively arranged on the luncheon table. The place cards confections and favors all carried out the Christmas colors. The group of guests included members of the active chapter and of the alumna club of Indianapolis. Miss Jesamine Barkley is president of the active organization and Mrs. Lloyd Elliott heads the alumnae association.

Among the attractive weddings of the holiday season was that of Miss Ruth Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of Mrs. Evert M. Thompson, 3053 North Meridian street, and Boyd Milton Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Welch Gillespie, which took place last night in the home of the bride's mother. The Rev. F. C. M. Montfort of Cincinnati, who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents, assisted by the Rev. O. D. Odell of the Second Presbyterian Church, read the service. Baskets of pink roses against a screen of Southern sassafras, in the soft glow of tapers set in silver holders, with palms, ferns and floor vases of roses composing the altar, made an artistic setting for the ceremony. A program of bridal music was played by a pianist. The group of attendants included: Mrs. Lyman H. Thompson of Columbus, Ohio, matron of honor; Miss Helen Isabel Eaglesfield, bridesmaid; Bryant Milton Gillespie, Jr., brother of the bridegroom; best man; Lyman H. Thompson and Paul Hanley, ushers. Mrs. Thompson wore her wedding gown of bridal satin with a shower bouquet of pink roses and stelia. The bride wore an exquisite gown of ivory satin, combined with Michael Angelo lace brought from Italy, fashioned with a court train. Her trousseau was arranged in coronet fashion, caught with point lace, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride roses. Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, wore a beaded net over turquoise blue satin and Mrs. Gillespie, mother of the bridegroom, was in ciel blue charmeuse and silver lace. Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Montfort, Miss Mary Montfort, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fredell of Cincinnati, the Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Johnston and Charles W. Hubbard of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Tournier, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Tournier and George
