

SUIT HITS AT KOKOMO MAN

'Belshazzar Feast' Principal, Sued by Bank, Reported to Have Left State.

Special to The Times. KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 30.—The Peoples Trust and Savings Bank of this city filed suit in Circuit Court here against Victor Pinnell, who received wide publicity for staging a stag party at the Country Club here some time ago, and Florida E. Thomas for the collection of a sum of $2,000, and a restraining order to prevent Thomas from acting under power of attorney executed by Pinnell, Dec. 14, 1920.

It is alleged in the suit that Pinnell borrowed $2,000 from the bank, the amount falling due Nov. 20, and that Pinnell has left the State of Indiana, and neither Thomas nor Pinnell have made payments on the note.

The complaint further sets out that there is fear the property of Pinnell is being sold and there is danger of creditors losing their money.

Judge Overton has granted the request of the complainants and issued the restraining order.

NEW DEPARTMENT ADDED BY BANK

Fletcher Savings and Trust to Appraise Real Estate.

Changes in the organization of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company have been announced by Evans Woolen, president of the institution, under which a new department of appraisal is to be established. J. W. A. Young, head of the real estate trust department, will manage the new department. Burt E. The new department of appraisal will not only benefit the various departments of the trust company, but will offer its services in land and improved property valuations to the general public at well. The real estate trust department of the trust company will continue to emphasize the type of real estate business that centers on details connected with conditional contracts of sale, acreage for subdivision and the complete management of improved property. Gradually the trust company has eliminated practically all of its brokerage transactions in real estate and has devoted its organization to the larger field.

TIMES CARRIERS GUESTS OF LYRIC

Manager Olsen Personally Supervises Entertainment.

Eight hundred carriers of the Daily Times were the guests of the Lyric Theater management at a New Year's theater party this afternoon. Under the direction of Charles Olsen, manager of the Lyric, the entire balcony was reserved for the boys. Mr. Olsen made special arrangements for the boys' party, to be held from 1 o'clock to 2:30, in order that the carriers might deliver their regular evening papers on time. The program consisted of the regular vaudeville and a motion picture.

The system and to leave future candidates to the tender mercies of convention.

The Governor-elect indicated considerable resentment toward discussion of the primary question, declaring "an attempt to change the constitution by message in advance." This was his first intimation that the abolishment of the primary would be recommended in his message. He declined to discuss the question of how far he would go in recommending the abolishment of all or part of the primary system, saying that he was learning that his opinion does not correspond with the opinion of many other persons and that he may change this part of his message somewhat.

Mr. Hines was one of the many callers at Mr. McCray's office in the Claypool hotel during the morning. He appeared, he explained, at the request of Mr. McCray and he brought with him a number of bills, including one for the proposed common school tax increase. The present low levy was brought about, he explained, by a cut ordered by the present board.

LEVY NOT HIGH.

He declared he does not consider a 20-cent levy high, inasmuch as the State at one time had a 16-cent school levy. He admitted, however, that this was before the present high valuations were put on the property and the Goodrich tax law. When asked if his proposed levy would not be at least 40 cents on the basis of old valuations, he replied that this probably is true, but that he expects a rapid decline in valuations.

Mr. Hines also presented a bill providing for civil service for teachers, an eight-months school term bill, and a number of other proposed educational measures. Mr. McCray declined to comment on these bills, saying he had not had time to read them.

COMMITTEE VISITS GOVERNOR-ELECT.

A committee of the State Chamber of Commerce called upon Mr. McCray. They explained that they merely desired to pay their respects to the Governor-elect and that they "did not wish anything and did not even wish to give the new Governor any advice."

Among the other visitors were William Lowe Bryan, president of Indiana University; Emmett F. Branch, Lieutenant Governor-elect, and Bert Thurman of New Albany, Republican chairman of the Third District.

The Governor-elect was expected to meet with the legislative visiting committee either this afternoon or tomorrow. He will return to his home in Kentland tomorrow afternoon.

Royal warships already patrol the harbor. Workmen will soon be engaged in repairing the damage done by shell and rifle fire.

Under the treaty of Rapallo, which d'Annunzio dramatically denounced and which he declared he would resist to the death, Fiume is to become a tiny independent state between the frontiers of Italy and Jugoslavia.

The islands of Arbe and Veglia and the Dalmatian coast north of Zara which the volunteers had occupied, will revert to Jugoslavia.

Under the Austro-Hungarian and Rapallo treaties Jugoslavia becomes a powerful nation, her frontiers extending from the Adriatic to Roumania.

PARTY GIVEN FOR CHILDREN BY SHRINERS

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, in full regalia, strangely-shaped, but "honest to goodness" Shrine camels, bumpy looking donkeys, a cunning monkey that danced to the lifting music of a grind organ, all cavorted and jazzed around to the breathless, shrieking joy of several hundred excited Shrine youngsters this afternoon at the annual Christmas party given in the temple for the little folk under 12, of Shrine paragon.

There was a whirling merry-go-round that the little girls could ride endlessly and nervous slides for the small boys were out their brand new klickerlockers on a great snow fort with a snow man guarding it, and rubber snowballs for ammunition which were used to storm the stronghold for the pleasure of the children with combative tendencies.

ROOM TRANSFORMED INTO FAIRYLAND.

Hundreds of brilliant varicolored lights gleamed from the walls and ceiling and masses of holly and festoons of laurel screened the walls and pillars. And not all public, private and parochial schools, Christmas trees, glittering with tinsel and silver cascades, and laden with gifts for every child, which were distributed by Old Santa and his bixom wife.

LEGION AND LABOR TO GET TOGETHER

Galbraith and Gompers Exchange Views.

Closer relations between the American Legion and organized labor are promised as a result of letters exchanged between F. W. Galbraith Jr., national commander of the legion, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, according to information from national headquarters here.

Mr. Galbraith's letter defined the purposes of the legion and emphasized its neutrality in politics as a body while in no way infringing on the personal freedom of its members. In reply, Mr. Gompers explained the effort of the A. F. of L. to make life brighter for its members and to encourage them to "perform the obligations they owe to our country and fellow men."

Mr. Gompers said that he had aided members of trade unions to understand the legion's purposes and that, on several occasions, resolutions presented in labor meetings had been tabled or defeated because of information he had provided in relation to the work of the legion. The national commander replied to Mr. Galbraith's letter by saying that there was nothing in the declaration of the A. F. of L. to which the legion could object, and that the legion subscribes to every word of its sentiment.

Japan Comes to State for Stock Law Ideas

Indiana legislation relative to livestock sanitation is being used as a model for similar legislation in other States, and probably will form the basis of such a law in Japan. Copies of the law have been requested from Dr. L. E. Scherrin, State veterinarian, by officials in Texas, Virginia, Nebraska, Missouri, Georgia, Vermont, Michigan and New Jersey.

K. Yamada, a Japanese commissioner, recently visited the Indiana veterinarian, in order to study the Hoosier law. Alaska also is contemplating establishing a law similar to that of Indiana.
