RARE FOOTBALL BILL ARRANGED FOR WABASHERS

Coach Vaughan Cards Nine Games, Meeting Grid Teams of Five States.

IN INDIANAPOLIS TWICE

Wabash 1921 Grid Card

Sept. 21—Augustana at Crawfordsville. Oct. 1—Tuttle at Lafayette. Oct. 8—Georgetown (Ky.) at Crawfordsville. Oct. 15—West Point, N. Y. Oct. 22—Butler at Indianapolis. Nov. 2—James Millikan at Crawfordsville. (Home-coming day). Nov. 15—Rose, 10th at Crawfordsville. Nov. 19—Pau at Indianapolis. Thanksgiving—Marquette at Milwaukee.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Jan. 28.—Athletic Director Vaughan today announced the Wabash College football schedule for 1921. Nine games, with perhaps one more to be added to the list, are on the card and of course Scarlet followers are expecting one of the stiffest grid schedules of recent years.

Wabash will send an athletic team East for the first time in its history when it meets the Little Giants. Travel to meet the team to the United States Military Academy (Army) on Oct. 15. Alumn in the East will be well represented and former Wabash men in that section promise to see that the Scarlet gets plenty of support when it tackles the husky soldiers.

Nov. 19 is the date set for the annual De Pauw-Wabash battle at Washington Park, Indianapolis. This is always the big scrap of the Wabash card.

MEETS BILLED IN INDIANAPOLIS

Wabash is booked to battle Butler in Indianapolis Friday, Oct. 28, and there are indications that this game will rival the De Pauw contest in competition. The date with Butler has been set because it is believed that it is better now than Oct. 25 will stand. It has been scheduled for Friday in order not to conflict with the annual Indiana-Notre Dame struggle in Indianapolis.

James Millikan of Decatur, Ill., a team that usually copes the "Little Nineteen" title, will hook up with the Scarlet men Nov. 22. Wabash is also carrying Thanksgiving day games. Rose Poly is carried for a game here on Nov. 12. The annual Purdie battle will be staged at Lafayette as usual, the date being Oct. 1. The test day says a four and last fall the Bollermakers barely nosed out the Scarlet in a sensational game.

FOUR HOME GAMES CARDED.

Of the nine games booked, Athletic Director Vaughan has four home contests, two at Indianapolis and three on other fields. The final clash will with Marquette at Milwaukee on Thanksgiving day. With Indianapolis, Wabash and Marquette officials were anxious that Vaughan give them the 1921 Turkey day date.

The season will open Sept. 21 when Antioch College of Rock Island, Ill., comes here for action. The schedule is varied and during the season Wabash will look up with teams of five states. Director Vaughan said that on the schedule and the student body is convinced that he has succeeded in lining up a card that is sure to give Wabash plenty of action and attraction.

With four games at home one at Lafayette and two at Indianapolis, Wabash supporters within the State are offered a great deal because the arrangement offers them the opportunity of witnessing seven of the Scarlet's nine games.

There will be no argument about who's who in south side basket-ball circles after tonight's contest between the Y. M. H. A. and the South Side Turners on the Turner floor. The two teams, composed of the best amateur talent in Indianapolis, have been drilling for the contest and are in shape to play the head-line attraction of the season for local fans.

The Turner team is composed of former high school stars, while the Y. M. H. A. team, for the most part, is made up of players who received their early training at the Boys' Club, like Joe Rosenthal, the latter one of the best forwards in the State, will be dependent on his team's going to the Jewish team, while Stevens, Underwood and Rice are on the books to get the Turners workers. Mike Sag-Jowsky, Dave Davis and Sam Simon will work with the Rosenthalis in Y. M. H. A. and with "Tubby" Stevens and Secret in Turner uniform. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., Feb. 2.—Setting a fast pace at the beginning and maintaining it throughout, the Greencastle High Schoolers have won the first of the Garfield quintette of Terre Haute here 29 to 17. At the end of the first period the score was 13 to 9 for Greencastle. This was rather surprising in view of the locals with regard to the Putnam County High School tourney to be played here Saturday in the De Pauw gymnasium.

WINTER BASEBALL

BIG WELCOME FOR TY.

DETROIT, Feb. 2.—Detroit baseball enthusiasts acclaimed an old star as a new leader Tuesday, when Ty Cobb paid the city his first visit since his appointment as manager of the Tigers.

A full day's work had marked his welcome and convinced him of his selection to head the team was a popular one, and that the city was behind the club.

Cobb's characteristic comment, after he had been given the keys to the city, fated at various clubs and banqueted was: "They like me now, but what will they say to me when I leave?"

Last night's banquet, attended by nearly 900 admirers of the famous player, was the feature of the day's program. The speaker was the Hon. Frank J. Murphy, president of the American League; President Frank Navin of the local club; Hughay Jennings, former manager of the Tigers; George L. Gosselink, Detroit public relations and other prominent in sports affairs and men.

BLUES MAKE TRADE.

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 2—Odis Lambeth, a pitcher, has been traded to Kansas City of the American Association for Goffielder Van Miller. Manager Ralph Lister of the Akron International team announced.

LONG SHOOTING BEATS WABASH

Normal Hits From Distance to Hand Scarlet First Collegiate Defeat.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 2.—The Wabash College contrarian warms up in the basketball upset floor here last night and handed a 33 to 32 defeat by the State Normal combination. The Wabashers had a 10-point lead for the Scarlet in collegiate play, and the game probably will go down as one of the greatest upsets of the season. Wabash previously had triumphed in a game at Crawfordsville.

Coach Vaughan's Wabash team was favored to win in a walk from the Normalites who had won the previous game of the secondary teams in the State this year, but in this battle the Scarlet athletes faced a vastly different sort of attack in that they struck from the outside in conquering the season and when they old down to the fact that they were facing defeat, it was too late for them to turn themselves around.

Long shots, the kind at which the Normal team excels on the local floor, were responsible for the downing of the Little Giants. The Scarlet did not figure on breaking through the defense of the visitors, but opened the game with a bombardment of the basket from the distance range. In the first half the visitors traded 10 to 10, the teams the count being tied at 19-all at the rest period.

Wabash displayed a better door game by the opening half, but the smart guard of the Scarlet and Green caused the visitors to lose several chances from under the basket.

In the second period, the visitors seemed to gain the upper hand, the Scarlet girls and as play progressed they lost the punch in both defensive and offensive play.

Normal's five points behind its first-half total, Coach Vaughan shifted his Wabash line-up several times in the second period to effort to check the momentum of the Normals, but his efforts failed to get results.

The individual stars of the contest were Groseberry for Wabash and Goldsberry and Stasand for Wabash.

Groseberry shot the mashes for points on distance shots seven times, while Conover delivered four baskets over the same period. Conover also made a clear guarding game. Goldsberry and Stasand, who worked for a forward instead of at center, collected five field goals and six foul marks for Wabash. Stasand, substitute for Adams, gave Wabash three field goals.

AGGIES WALLOW IRISH.

ESTATE LANSING, Mich., Feb. 2.—The Aggies exhibited from the four line, when he was up to 10, and made many marks to the New York total. His shots were made without apparent effort, yet they sailed through the hoop as though they were pulled through with four.

In a double-headed certain rasher, the "ex-rovers" defeated the Lauter, A. C. five, and the Pottawatomies won from the Eight Christian quiet.

EM-ROES GIVEN HARD CONTEST.

In order to win basket-ball games it's necessary to score baskets regardless of how good a team may be in all other departments of the game. The truth of this assertion was exemplified on the New York court last night when the New York Nationals ran rampant through the ranks of the Terre Haute, only to miss their basket shots and come out of the contest on the short end of a 24-to-20 count.

The Scarlet girls were the best at several angles of the game. The passing of the New York team was better by far than anything seen on a basketball floor since the competition began.

The Aggies had many popular stars on the court, but the Scarlet girls were the best.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 2.—The Stars of Four Clubs Mentioned in Rumors

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Rumors of trades affecting both the Yankees and the Giants were in circulation here today.

If Frank Baker decides to return to baseball it is said he will be traded to Wabash, while the Yankees are said to be interested in getting back Joe Judge and Outfielder Sam Kline.

It is also reported, a deal in view with Pittsburgh through which they may secure the veteran Outfielder Max Carey. Which of the Giants players would go to the Pirates in such a deal is uncertain.
