

D. J. ROBISON IN G. O. P. RACE TO BE MAYOR

Former County Treasurer
Comes Out in Letter to Chairman Lemaux.

SECOND TO ANNOUNCE

Announcement that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor at the municipal primary election May 17, 1921, was made today by Edward J. Robison, 2336 Broadway, former county treasurer, in a letter to Irving W. Lemaux, chairman of the Republican city committee. The move was expected to precipitate the announcement of several other possible contenders.

Mr. Robison, in his letter, declared that if nominated and elected he will devote his "entire thought and energy to the further development" of the city and the advancement of the "many forward movements that will be inaugurated as a result of national conditions and of the increased franchise."

A native of Bedford, Ohio, where he was born Sept. 18, 1865, Mr. Robison received his early education at Bedford and later was graduated from Hiram College, at Hiram, Ohio, with the degree of bachelor of philosophy. He practiced law for a time and then became Indiana agent for a Cincinnati publishing house. He served for seven years as secretary of the Fidelity Building and Saving Union, which he helped found, and in 1895 resigned and went into the general contracting business.

ACTIVE IN PARTY
Many years.

Although active in politics for many years, Mr. Robison claimed no honor from his party until 1908, when he was elected county treasurer. He served two years, being beaten by the Democrats in 1910 and 1912, and in 1914 he was once a member of the board of school commissioners of Indianapolis and for several years was treasurer of the State board of agriculture.

Organizations of which Mr. Robison is a member are the Scottish Rite, Knights Templar, I. O. O. F., Knights of Pythias, Columbia Club, Marion Club, Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade and Academy of Music.

LETTER SENT TO CHAIRMAN.
His letter of announcement is as follows:

"I hereby announce myself a candidate for the nomination for mayor on the Republican ticket at the primary next May. The possibilities for Indianapolis in the next few years are practically unlimited. If nominated and elected I shall devote my entire thought and energy to the further development of the great work already contemplated for the city's commercial, hygienic and artistic improvement; to the law's enforcement and to the advancement of the many forward movements that will be inaugurated as a result of national conditions and of the increased franchise. To this end I shall appoint upon the various boards women and men whose qualifications eminently fit them for their respective positions. With the foregoing assurance given the public, I enter upon the canvass for the nomination confident that my appeal will meet the support I covet; and trusting that if nominated and elected I shall be able to fill the office to the full satisfaction of the people who wish to see the various departments of the city government attain the high efficiency contemplated by its framers of our city charter."

Mr. Robison is the second majority candidate to announce himself.

Hoosier Deaths

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Melissa Melis, 76, wife of Alex. Melis, is dead at her home, north of here, following an attack of apoplexy. The husband, three sisters, all living in California, survive.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Feb. 8.—The funeral of Henry Vorles, age 35, who committed suicide early Monday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Harry Spear, in Johnson County, when he slashed his throat with a pocketknife, will be held Wednesday at his late home in Brookfield, north of this city.

Believes Girl Lured Into Car and Abducted

Mother of Tech Student, 15,
Appeals to Police to Make Hunt.

That Lucile Fuller, 15, pretty Technical High School girl, was lured into an automobile, drugged and kidnapped is the belief of her mother, Mrs. L. Fuller, 18 East Pratt street. The police are searching for a man ten years older than the girl who is said to have been seen in a taxi carrying the girl's coat.

Miss Fuller left home yesterday morning. She took with her $30 to deposit in a bank and a fur coat to be left at a downtown store to be repaired. When she failed to return, Mrs. Fuller went to the bank and learned that her daughter had not deposited the money and had not left the coat to be repaired. She notified the police.

Investigation showed that a man Miss Fuller met at a dance at one of the leading clubs of the city a week ago was seen carrying a fur coat answering the description of the one the girl had with her when she left home. The man was seen in a taxi near the Traction Terminal station, but the girl was not with him. Later the police were informed that he had left the city.

"I never permitted my daughter to attend a dance unless I was with her," declared Mrs. Fuller. "She was just a little girl, with curly hair, and she was only in the second year of high school. Two of the high school boys who knew her were at the dance. They introduced her to the man, who is 25 years old. I was ill that night and it was the first dance she ever attended without me. I am sure she was lured into an automobile, drugged and kidnapped, for she would never go of her own free will."

Miss Fuller, living at step 6 on the Danville traction line, appealed to the police to search for his daughter, Miss Stella Greenfield, 18, who came to Indianapolis Sunday and has not returned home.

Elbert Bishop, 19, 517 South Harris avenue, left home Wednesday and is still missing. The police have been asked to search for him.

WOMEN'S CHORUS IN FIRST CONCERT

Athenaeum Audience Pleased With Program.

The Women's Chorus of the Athenaeum made its first formal bow to the public last night, appearing on the concert program given in the auditorium of the club. The members included "Israfel" (Edgar Stillman Kelley), "The Swan" (Saint Saens), and "The Snow" (Edgar Elgar), which were given in the most pleasing manner. The chorus is made up of women of professional and amateur positions which accounted for the richness of voice and smoothness of tone.

On the first number, "Israfel," Mrs. Frank Whitte Webber played a harp accompaniment and on the other numbers Mrs. Christine Roush and Mrs. Ruth McCune, violinist, assisted the accompanist.

Arthur Kraft, Chicago tenor, was the soloist for the evening. He is well known among local musical circles, having appeared in Indianapolis several times. He possesses a clear, pure voice of delightful quality. His numbers included "Give Me Thy Heart" (attributed to Bach); "Have You Seen But a Whyte Little Grow" (old English); "Pastoral" (Veracini), a group of Brahms numbers, "Serenade," "Song of the Lark" and "The Messenger," "The Nightingale" and "The Rose" (Rimsky-Korsakoff), and two La Forge songs, "To a Violet" and "Song of the Open." He sang two charming encore songs, "A Sprig of Rosemary" and "Hey Eyes" from Prof. Burleigh's cycle, "Passionate" (from opera La Roi D'Ys) by Lalo and "Celle que je préfère" (Fourdrain).

The men's chorus gave a group of numbers, including "The Vagabond" (Daniel Protheroe), "Leonor" (Mexican air by Frederick Stevenson), "Viking Song" (S. Coleridge-Taylor). In the latter, Messrs. W. J. Burleigh's cycle, "The Nightingale" and "The Rose" (Rimsky-Korsakoff), and two La Forge songs, "To a Violet" and "Song of the Open." He sang two charming encore songs, "A Sprig of Rosemary" and "Hey Eyes" from Prof. Burleigh's cycle, "Passionate" (from opera La Roi D'Ys) by Lalo and "Celle que je préfère" (Fourdrain).

DEATH PENALTY IS NOT SOUGHT IN MYERS CASE

Court, Attorney Arthur Robinson indicated that an exhaustive and careful examination of every prospective witness would be made.

Some of the main questions Mr. Robinson put to the talesmen were as follows:

"Do you believe that the presumption of innocence follows the defendant through the entire trial as long as there is a reasonable doubt? Do you believe that to be good law?"

"Do you believe it to be good law that when the defense is that of justifiable homicide that the defendant does not have to satisfy the jury that it was self-defense, but that it is the duty of the State to show that the defendant's plea is false?"

"You see in the newspapers a great deal of talk about a crime wave, generally burglary and larceny. Would these printed opinions in the papers have any effect on your judgment in this case?"

"Are you acquainted with any member of the grand jury which returned the indictment against Mrs. Myers or with Mr. Myers during his lifetime suit with a large white collar case previously to this trial?"

Mr. Robinson is being assisted by his partner, Frank A. Symmes.

Mrs. Myers, who is small in stature, came into court with her counsel and two stepsons, Arthur and Byron Myers, sons of the late Mr. Myers by a former marriage. Mrs. Myers was dressed in a dark tailor suit with a large white collar and wore a brown hat. On entering the courtroom, she took a chair next Mr. Symmes and back of Mr. Robinson. She faced the jury box, carefully studying each man. She did not appear to be nervous and often consulted with Mr. Symmes during the examination of the jurors.

Long before the courtroom was opened a large crowd of men and women were in the corridors of the courthouse. The main floor was filled quickly, as was all standing room in the rear of the room. The galleries were opened to the public and were filled in a few seconds.

When court adjourned, counsel for the defendant had used six of their twenty peremptory challenges, having dismissed Albert Shaw, Henry O. Gresh, W. P. Watts, Charlie Collins, John M. Conkley and Levi J. Carson. The court excused one talesman because his hearing was defective. When John M. Scudder stated he had an opinion on the guilt or innocence of the defendant, caused by reading the papers and when he strengthened it by saying he could not try the case by law and the evidence, he was excused, for cause.

The defense resumed questioning the talesmen at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. Up to that hour the defense had not passed the jury to the State but Prosecutor Evans had questioned several talesmen when they were challenged for cause by the defense.

Indications are that the jury will not be obtained until late this afternoon.

LENIENCY AGAIN PROVES FUTILE

with Sheriff George Snyder preparatory to being moved to the State prison.

"I am informed that Guffie has been convicted up before this was bootlegging, but he was not convicted, as he hid behind the skirts of a woman and allowed her to lay out the thirty days," said Judge Collins. "Schwartz is out on a suspended sentence and is doing well."

So ends for the time being at least the Guffie experiment in suspended sentences.

Two at Terre Haute Held in Still Case

John and Dede Schaffer of Terre Haute, arrested by Federal prohibition agents at Terre Haute Sunday, are being held there on a charge of operating a still, according to word received yesterday by Lee Kidder, chief of prohibition agents in this district. It is believed they will be bound over to await action of the Federal grand jury.

Fair Visitors Embarrassing to Councilmen

Members Wish for New Door to Escape Questions on Votes.

New evidence that some women in Indianapolis are taking the possession of the franchise with increasing seriousness develops at each meeting of the city council.

At the regular meeting last night Miss Julia E. Landers, woman member of the Democratic national committee from Indiana, occupied a seat in the front row in the spectators' section. She said she was a delegate from the League of Women Voters, which has started the practice of sending a member to each council meeting to familiarize the membership with this branch of the municipal government.

Members of the two women's civic organizations on the south side, which are interested in the establishment of branch municipal markets, have been attending the meetings and taking a lively interest. Recently women from other sections of the city, who also say they would like to see the branch market idea tried out, have been attending, stating that several weeks there have been more women than men at the council sessions.

After the meetings are over the women buttonhole the councilmen and other city officials present and some lively arguments ensue. Some of the councilmen, desiring to refrain from explaining their votes on certain measures, have expressed the wish for some way to get out of the council chamber other than through the main entrance. As there is no other means of escape, they must rush out as soon as adjournment is taken or wait and run the gauntlet of other councilmen bravely through the group of women and do their best to answer the questions fired at them.

It has been suggested in some political quarters that both the Democratic and Republican parties should have women candidates for the council on their municipal tickets this fall, but most of the women who attend the sessions say they would not desire the job because they would have no chance against a majority of men. It also has been suggested that there should be a woman candidate for city clerk, but no woman has come to the front as a contender.

PLAN TO CALL IN REPUBLICAN ORGANIZATION

In theory, but in practice it is very impractical," he told of the hardships on a candidate who is successful in obtaining the nomination, to have to make two campaigns in one year, from the Ohio River to Lake Michigan.

The Governor said the fight was not an administration affair, inasmuch as the primary repeal plank in the Republican State platform in the last campaign had been drafted by fifty representatives of the party, and therefore the fight would be up to the State committee. Governor McCray indicated he would take no part in the contest over the primary bill, since it is purely a party affair.

SWAIN TO FATHER REPEAL MEASURE.

The primary repeal question has been brought to the front again with the announcement of Senator William M. Swain, Pendleton, that he will introduce a bill providing for the repeal of the primary in so far as it effects candidates for Governor and candidates for United States and State judges. The Senator has been made that Governor McCray is back of this bill, but he has repeatedly denied this.

Another bill has been introduced in the House of Representatives to bring about the complete repeal of the primary law. It has been pointed out that this could be worked in with Senator Swain's bill which would provide a substitute primary election to apply only to local offices and candidates for Congress.

CHILDREN'S AID TO USE AUTOS

The Children's Aid Association is to have the assistance of a motor corps recently organized by Mrs. Joseph B. Keating, chairman of the home finding committee of the association. The women of the motor corps will each serve one day a month, when they will put their cars at the service of aid association visitors in making calls at some of the more inaccessible homes. The corps also will provide transportation for babies, taking them to the central baby health clinic, carrying them to and from the city dispensary and aiding in placing children in the boarding homes.

Those who have offered their services and the use of their cars are Mrs. B. A. Lemcke, Mrs. Willis Adams, Mrs. W. M. Rockwood, Mrs. Richard Fairbanks, Mrs. Frank A. Witt, Mrs. M. J. Spencer, Mrs. Douglas Jilison, Mrs. W. A. Zamppe, Mrs. Frederic M. Arras, Mrs. H. A. Knuchemus, Mrs. Charles L. Buschman, Mrs. Carl Walk, Mrs. Charles L. Bieler, Mrs. M. E. Townsend, Mrs. Frank J. HEART FLUTTERS

Millions of women are victims of fear, they imagine they have heart trouble. Wonderful relief can be obtained by everyone who is troubled with constipation, indigestion, sour, gassy stomach, biliousness or weak kidneys. Take a cupful of Bulgarian Blood Tea once or twice a week; assist nature to remove the gas from around the heart, flush the kidneys and gently regulate the bowels. Taken hot at bedtime helps break up a cold, guard against Flu, Grippe or Pneumonia. Physicians and pharmacists highly recommend Bulgarian Blood Tea.—Advertisement.

"Every Picture Tells a Story"

Has Your Back Given Out?

ARE you dragging along day in and day out with a dull, throbbing backache? Do you feel lame in the morning, tired all day; suffer sharp, torturing twinges at every sudden move? Then there's something wrong! So why not find out what it is and try to correct it? You may never have suspected your kidneys, yet often it's the kidneys that are at fault. A cold, strain, or overwork congests the kidneys and slows them up; poisons accumulate in the system and many mysterious aches and pains result. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with perhaps some annoying bladder irregularity. Don't wait for more serious trouble. You owe it to yourself to get well and stay well. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped many Indianapolis folks. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These are *Indianapolis Cases:

Shelby Street
Louis Lohman, prop. barber shop, 752 Shelby St., says: "It has been some time since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, but I couldn't recommend a better remedy. I have long hours of confinement and being on my feet for many hours at a time was responsible for my kidney trouble. Lumbago was the worst symptom and shooting pains would catch me across my back and loins. My kidneys wouldn't act regularly and in different ways showed signs of disorder. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills from Haag's drug store and they were not long in putting me in good shape."

South East Street
Mrs. J. D. Ricketts, 435 S. East St., says: "Some time ago I had a lot of trouble with my kidneys. My back ached awfully and I had headaches. I was badly run down and for a time was laid up in bed. Any kind of housework was out of the question. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and sent for two boxes. After using them the troubles disappeared entirely. I have had nothing to complain of since Doan's cured me and I have many times recommended them to others."

Woodlawn Avenue
Chas. W. Hardy, locomotive fireman, 612 Woodlawn avenue, says: "Whenever my kidneys get out of order or my back gets to aching I resort to Doan's Kidney Pills and it doesn't take them long to relieve this trouble. I have been a locomotive fireman since 1909, and the constant rough riding on the engine has a tendency to bring on troubles with my kidneys. I have pains across my back and would be dizzy by spells; my kidneys wouldn't act regularly either. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly relieved these troubles."
