HOOSIER FANS GIVEN ANOTHER FEATURE WEEK

Indiana and Purdue Each Has Two Conference Scraps

Wisconsin, 4, 4	500 Northwestern, 1, 7

Three Western Conference games and the Butler-Wabash contest at Crawfordsville will be served tonight as the first course of this week's appetizing basketball spread.

The Crimson athletes play two games this week, meeting Iowa in both of them. They are in Iowa City for the first of these scraps tonight, and Friday night they take on the Hawkeyes in the Bloomington game. Iowa kicked a terrible dent in the Hoosier confidence last night by coming through with a win over Purdue, but this is not causing Hoosier fans to lose sleep. The Hoosiers are expected to score a pair of Big Ten victories this week.

WABASH PLAYS TWICE.

Purdue tonight is scheduled against Illinois at Urbana, and Saturday night they take on the Hawkeyes at Bloomington. This has prospects of being a mighty gloomy week for Lambert's men, unless they can overcome more traps than they have shown in recent games. Illinois is the club that is fighting it out with Indiana for the conference crown.

Wisconsin battles Ohio at Columbus in the other Big Ten scrap tonight.

Far Page will take his Butler quintette to Crawfordsville tonight for their second battle of the season with the Wabash crew, under Coach Tate Vaughan's wing. This is the only big game to be played on an Indiana court tonight and it is getting all due attention.

Tomorrow night will bring the De Pauw and Earlham teams together at Richmond and the Penn State and Rose Poly into action at Terre Haute. De Pauw defeated Earlham at Greensburg and the Dentsals defeated Rose Poly at Apollo earlier in the season. Both victories were scored by comfortable margins, so it looks as though the Quakers and Engineers are in for some rough use tomorrow night. Chicago meets Illinois in the conference attraction for Tuesday night.

VALPO TACKLES N. D. QUINCE.

Valparaiso and Notre Dame have the stage all to themselves Wednesday night. The Valpo athletes are clearing their decks for a battle with the Fighting Irish at Chicago and Rose Poly at Omaha Saturday night, but the scrap with Notre Dame Wednesday is considered of much more importance. The Hoosiers are expected to win.

Then there will be a let-up in collegiate circles until Friday night, when Wabash travels up to Notre Dame for their second contest of the season. Butler engages the Earlham combination on the Butler floor. This is also the night for the Indiana-Hawkeye scrap at Bloomington.

The Saturday night schedule is alive with interesting events. The Hoosiers play Northwestern at Evanston in the second conference contest of the week for the Hoosiers. The Hoosiers are expected to win. The Hoosiers are expected to win.

UPSETS KNOCK DOPPELERS OUT.

The games played Saturday night by Indiana teams brought forth some of the wildest upsets of the present season. The Hoosiers won the most prominent of these were the Iowa win over Purdue, the Ohio victory over Chicago, the Hanover triumph over the Dentsals and the Franklin slaughter by Kalamazoo College. Indiana and Illinois continued their neck-and-neck chase for the conference pennant by winning their contests with Northwestern and Wisconsin, respectively.

A field goal by De Hority in the last minute brought the Indiana University athletes their 23-21 win over Northwestern. Indiana had wide advantage in this scrap until a few minutes after the second half opened. The score stood 7 to 9 in favor of the Hoosiers. De Hority grabbed the ball on the tip-off, dribbled down the floor to immediately under the basket and scored the winning points. The Hoosiers were hard without scoring from then until the final whistle.

Illinois could not gain anything like a safe lead over Wisconsin until the closing moments of play, when Vail and Walquist registered three baskets in the four minutes of the final quarter. The final count was 17 to 9. In the first half, Wisconsin's sniping game appeared too much for the Hoosiers, but thrilling guarding by Vail and Sabo proved the equal of the visitors' offensive game. Wisconsin had defeated Illinois in a previous contest.

PURDUE LEADS FIRST HALF.

Purdue held an 8 to 2 lead over Iowa at the close of the first half of their fight at Iowa City, but some distance shooting by Shimek in the second session kept the Hawkeye total growing steadily until the Hoosiers were finally met and passed in a spirited battle during the closing scene. The final score was 20 to 15, and Shimek registered fourteen of the Iowa points.

Ohio broke through the Chicago defense to a 21-30 victory with less than a minute to go, after having fought an uphill battle from the start. Chicago held a decided advantage at the close of the half, but Ohio used a fast start in the second session and soon took all the steam out of the Maroon defense.

The Hanover athletes swooped down on the unsuspecting and overconfident Dentsals and put over a 38-29 victory on the Athenaeum court. DeKane was the only Dentsal who played up to standard in this scrap.

Kalamazoo held an 11-20 advantage over Franklin at the close of the first session, and came through with a final count of 18 to 13. The Franklin athletes lost all their form in an attempt to close the gap during the second half.

After getting away to a flying start and holding what appeared to be a comfortable lead through most of the first half, the Notre Dame basketball team met and dropped their third straight game on a Nebraska floor, 39 to 21, to the University of Nebraska.

McHale was the only Hoosier who could hit the ring consistently.

BASKET-BALL

In a snappy game featured by the fast passing and slight defense of the winners, the Silvert Hoosiers, representing the Indiana State School for the Deaf, defeated the Fairbanks-Morse at the school gym. The winners scored 27 points and were never headed. The losers were forced to rely on long shots at which McEoy started. Bates was high-point man for the winners, scoring 11 points. The score at the end of the first half was 12 to 11 in favor of the winners. The final score was 28 to 23.

Silent Hoosiers met the school annual Saturday night at the school gym. This game, and the one with Fairland H. S. this week finish the season for the deaf school.

Wednesday evening at the Riverside gym the Potawatomi met the Riverside A. C.'s and the South Side Stars took up with the Riverside Triangles in a double-header that would furnish some good entertainment.

GUN CLUB RESULTS.

A high wind was responsible for the unusually low scores at the regular weekly Indianapolis Gun Club shoot Saturday. Sinkard led with 90 birds out of 100 and Wiegman and L. Chevrolet were tied for second with 74. Beginning next Saturday a series of Saturday handicap contests of twenty-five birds will be staged. The high man in each squad will receive a box of cigars.

Twenty of the fastest independent amateur basketball teams Indiana ever boasted of will gather in Indianapolis Thursday morning to start their battle for the Hoosier pennant in the finale of Wayne Emmelman's second annual championship tournament on the Y. M. C. A. floor.

These twenty teams represent twenty districts into which the State was divided for the first round of the contest.

Twenty teams in which Indianapolis fans are chiefly interested are the South Side Turners, champions of the Indianapolis district, and the Fairbanks-Morse team of Broad Ripple, champions of the Valley Mills team. The Joy-Glooms won the district title last year, and the Fairbanks-Morse team has been a consistent winner in recent games here, which makes Indianapolis fans feel as though they really are representing the Indianapolis basketball.

The Turners, who have known nothing but bad luck in both the 1920 and 1921 tournaments, would stand a great chance to get away with the State prize if they were able to put their regular line-up on the floor, but "Hank" Stevens, Turner forward, who is in a goal-kicking class of himself, is still confined to his bed with the mumps and will be unable to get in the big fight.

The Turners got through the sectional without "Hank," but it is doubtful if they can pull the same trick in the State play. Vailie Middleworth, a Shortridge High School teammate of Stevens, is taking his place in the Turner line-up. This youngster has been playing a great game, but there is some doubt as to whether he can fill the place of Stevens in the State who can fill the place of Stevens in the State who can fill the place of Stevens in the State.

The field that will fight it out here in the finals next Thursday, Friday and Saturday is considerably larger than was the one that staged the first independent amateur State scramble last year, owing to the fact that the entry fee for this year was $1.00 and also due in part to the fact that the State was divided into more districts.

There is a technical view of the fact that made strong fights for State honors last year will be minus when the next State tournament starts, for they were eliminated early in their respective sections.

HIGH SCHOOL BASKET GOSSIP

Tech bumped off another one of the State's best Saturday when they beat Crawfordsville, 21 to 6. "The bigger they come the harder they fall" is the Tech motto. One lone field goal by Wiley, a 35-yard shot, was the only highlight of the wonderful defensive game played by Tech, while only hard luck on the basket held the Tech count to twenty-one points.

Manual's sensational winning streak was stopped Saturday night, Friday when the Red and White succumbed to Bloomington, 41 to 26. Bloomington recently beat Shortridge, 45 to 18. The similarity of these scores looks interesting considering the local sectional tourney is less than two weeks distant.

"Shortridge won another game yesterday," starts out an article in the local press. "Shortridge won another game yesterday," starts out an article in the local press. "Shortridge won another game yesterday," starts out an article in the local press.

Tech has won twelve out of her last fifteen games played. Included in this are victories over two teams as good as unbeaten, Kokomo, Bedford, Lebanon and Crawfordsville.

Prior to Friday's defeat at the hands of Bloomington Manual was going at top speed. Wins over Martinsville, Kokomo, Kokomo, Bedford, Lebanon and Crawfordsville.

The less said about the record of Shortridge the better, but there is no denying the fact that in the sectional tourney at Kokomo, Kokomo, Bedford, Lebanon and Crawfordsville.

BUTLER ENTERS SCARLET CAMP

Another Basket Thriller Is Promised on Crawfordsville Court Tonight.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 21.—The coming of Pat Page, his Butler basketball team and a horde of Butler rooters is expected to be the cause of another great conflict on the Wabash College court tonight.

The event will be the second meeting of the Butler and Wabash teams and it is expected to be every respect to that staged in Indianapolis last week, when Wabash won, 29 to 23, should be the result.

Sickness and injuries have bothered Coach Vaughan's athletes considerably since their first meeting. Butler's victory and it is doubtful if the full power of the Scarlet machine will be seen in tonight's affair.

When Bush first reached the penal farm he was expecting "something soft." When he discovered that the powers that be had not made arrangements to make his vacation from his duties in Indianapolis a pleasant one, he started a howl that was heard all the way from Indianapolis to the farm.

Just at present, when his old friend, Thomas C. Riley, is directing the fight to deliver the Democratic organization to the Republicans, Denny can only help from the confines of the penal farm.

If the officials of the State of Indiana to their duty toward the State, Denny will stay at
