

CHILD'S VIEW OF BOOKS IS BIG PROBLEM

Effort Made to Overcome Mistaken Tendency to Avoid Reading.

NEEDS OF LIBRARY GROW

BY CHARLES E. RUSH, LIBRARIAN.

One of the big problems of the school today is to persuade the school children that books are not boring, but the most pleasant of companions; that just because their geometry, their history or some other subject they are struggling with is presented to them through a book they need not infer that all books are the avowed enemies of boys and girls—to be avoided as much as possible.

They must find that most delightful moments may be spent with the printed page (and that the Public Library offers free of charge to the highest entertainment, the heartiest laughs and the keenest enjoyment). Through its school libraries division the Public Library sends out books to school classrooms.

As it is purely optional with the child whether he reads the books, he finds himself attracted by the animal and fairy pictures and by the bright colored backs of some of the books. Before he knows it he is learning by his own desire in the evening delightful things in the life of an Eskimo who he heard about in his geography class that day. It is a real feather in the cap of the very best of them when he finds that there are actually library books in words small enough and print large enough for him to read by himself.

FINDS BOOKS HIS FRIENDS.

Through such book collections for classrooms the book has come to be an admirable friend, sometimes even a mighty counselor in the art of managing things with one's hands out of such available things in one's pockets as string, nails, paper and wire. When there are no pencils or grandfathers near to tell an Indian story books can tell them quite as well. Books, too, answer the many questions of children much more satisfactorily than the elders can.

A book in the pocket of an Indianapolis school child is coming to occupy quite as important a post as his top or his knife.

The first school libraries sent out here and there in small collections of books two years ago have raised a mad clamor from children all over the city for animal stories, stories of fairies and of children. In other hands, however, are books on electricity and engineering for boys. It has become a regular Frankenstein that threatens to overpower us unless it can be provided with the books that it demands.

SITUATION TO BE REMEDIED.

The situation is not one to be feared of, but certainly one to be remedied. It is the fault of neither parent nor teacher, but a sign of progress. We are outgrowing our skirts. Due to both economic and legislative conditions, it is not possible at present to increase the book budget.

It is but reasonable that the library should turn to the parents and friends of these children to help find a way out. It cannot be possible that their elders want these children told day after day: "No, neither Little Women nor Robinson Crusoe is in. Now run along and play."

Yet this is virtually what the library assistants must say over and over. The school libraries division must turn down not individual children but whole classes of them, simply because there are not books to send them. Even when it is possible to send collections, they are never the amount asked for by the teachers and are often too few to go around. Some children have no other point of contact with the library and the classroom collection opens up a new book world to them.

TEENS NOT INDIFFERENT.

Indianapolis is not indifferent. Individually her citizens will see to it that the books in the library are accessible to her children as the water they drink. This interest will be expressed through endowment funds, wills and large and small donations of money, as well as of books from her large-minded citizens. They will come to realize that the world of books is the rightful inheritance of every growing boy and girl.

The book needs for the high school students are quite as pressing. The library does not wish to register itself in the minds of these young people as a bureau for disappointments and yet it is fast acquiring this name. Students naturally should expect the public library to have for them the standard works of fiction on their required reading lists, but even such books as Scott, Dickens and Eliot are quite at a premium, as they are rarely to be found on the shelves. Some of the required reading the library does not even possess, as it has been read to pieces and cannot be replaced.

Many have had their patience tried at these empty shelves.

It has been suggested that some of the graduating classes might like to be as a gift and a blessing to the library to follow a beautiful collection at the library of the very books they have experienced such difficulty in getting. A special book plate provided by the library would designate the class which lent these books.

Many homes have little sets of these standard authors which they would like to offer for public use through the library. The library has earnestly asked of you, your money, your books, your good wishes and the influence you may have for her among your acquaintances. Will you prove her very good friend?

24 Hoosier Medics Are Made Internes

Twenty-four graduates of the Indiana University School of Medicine are among the twenty-five internes appointed for the city hospital for a year by the board of public health. Jacob K. Berman of the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, Pa., is the only graduate of a school outside Indiana to be appointed.

The others appointed are as follows: Nicholas Joseph Eastman, Philip Bowser, Bert F. Ellis, Robert S. Mills, Joseph E. Killman, Stanley M. Casey, Ira Cole, Euclid T. Gaddy, Harvey L. Mordock, Orville Hamilton, Fred E. Gifford, Harry W. Garton, Edwin O. Alvis and C. V. Carter. Alternates are Donald Dryer, Vernon L. Butler, John Oliver, Elmer A. Cline, L. Forrest Swank, D. H. Hurst, Joseph D. Seybert, Orville M. Graves, Carl C. Reifolds, Wilbur F. Smith and S. L. Eppie.

Hiram Is Hired

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California has been retained as a special counsel for New York City in the traction dispute arising over the efforts of the companies to increase the fares from 5 to 8 cents. It has been announced this afternoon by Corporation Counsel O'Brien.

Society

Miss Genevieve Hughes, 88 Whittier Place, entertained Kappa chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon Sorority with a dinner-musical at her home this afternoon. The program was given by Miss Mildred Casey, pianist; Miss Elsa Holzworth, violinist; and Miss Isabelle Cannon, soprano. The numbers included a piano solo including a Chopin prelude and the "Prophet Bird," by Schumann; violin number, "On Wings of Song" (Mendelssohn), and two songs, "Into Your Garden" (Huerter), and "Hark! Hark! The Slumber Song." Following the program a buffet dinner was to be served. The decorations, table appointments and favors were in patriotic colors in honor of Washington's birthday.

The Yir-Si-Tel will entertain with an informal dance tonight in the Assembly room of the Claypool Hotel.

Miss Doreen Janice Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newell W. Ward, 1103 North Alabama street, and Roy Lyndon Danks of New York City, were quietly married this morning in Christ Church, the Rev. James D. Stanley officiating. Following the service a wedding breakfast was served at the Spikard chapter of the Danks have gone to Lakewood, N. J., where they will pass several weeks at "Laurel in the Pines." They will make their home at the Hotel Saville, New York City, until May 1, when they will go to their summer home in Allenhurst, N. Y.

Miss Dorothy Elliott, 2525 Bellefontaine street, will be hostess for the guest meeting of the Yir-Si-Tel Sorority tomorrow evening. Miss Bettie Trishoff is to be pledged to the organization during the evening.

The Welfare Club will entertain Thursday afternoon with a "bridge" in the home of Mrs. A. H. Shanberger, 2202 Central avenue. This is one of a series of parties being given by the organization this season.

An interesting guest meeting was held in the Propyleum this afternoon by the Caroline Scott Harrison chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The program was in the nature of a memorial to Anne Pamela Cunningham, founder of the Mt. Vernon Association. Mrs. Benjamin D. Walcott, vice regent of the association, talked on the life and work of Anne Cunningham, and at the close of her remarks presented the chapter with a carved maple from the wood of a wild cherry tree which blew down at Mt. Vernon in 1914. In the hands was an insect bearing the wheel and spindle, the D. A. R. insignia, in gold and blue. Miss Mildred Daugherty, vocalist, accompanied by Helen Warren Chapman, sang a group of numbers. Mrs. Ernest De Wolf Wales was in charge of the program, assisted by the hospital committee, including Mrs. W. W. Winslow, chairman, Mrs. Benjamin Walcott, Mrs. Robert Geddes, Mrs. Henry A. Beck, Mrs. Earl Ogle, Mrs. E. U. Graft, Mrs. John C. Henkle, Miss Nancy Newcomb, Miss A. B. Robinson, Miss Sallie Barbour, Mrs. Jessie C. Moore, Mrs. E. W. Warner and Mrs. Harry G. Epps.

Members of the Sigma Alpha Iota and Mu Phi Epsilon Musical Sororities will entertain March 7 with a benefit dance, the proceeds to go toward the Federation of Musical Clubs fund.

A delightful Washington's birthday party was given in the green parlors of the Y. W. C. A. this afternoon by the Hamilton Berry chapter of the Service Star Legion. American flags were used for decoration, with the table appointments carrying out these patriotic ideas. The program included piano numbers, "Gondola Song" (Godehard), and "An Imaginary Ballet" (Coleridge Taylor), Ronald's "Cycle of Life," including spring, summer, autumn and winter, and readings by Mrs. Elizabeth Bogert Schofield in colonial costume, and a talk concerning the membership drive of the American Legion by the Rev. George Allison of the Irvington Presbyterian church, chaplain of the Marion County American Legion. Mrs. Frank Edenharter was the accompanist for the voice group. Hostesses for the afternoon included Mrs. Arthur Wells, Mrs. Myron E. Williams, Mrs. Cora Young Wiles, Mrs. M. E. Van Brickle, Mrs. Jerome Vedder, Mrs. W. W. Winslow, Mrs. D. L. Woods, Mrs. George Warnock, Mrs. H. L. Waterbury, Mrs. Thomas Welch, Mrs. C. R. Wright, Mrs. John R. Welch, Miss Louise Wiles, Mrs. O. L. Winks, Mrs. Oscar L. Watkins, Mrs. Nellie P. Wiggins, Mrs. W. N. Wilson and Mrs. Lettie Youngs. Women of the State Assembly Club of which Mrs. Russell Redwood of Lafayette is president were special guests.

Kiwanis Club Plans Blue Sky Law Talks

"Blue Sky Laws in Indiana" will be the topic before the Kiwanis Club at noon luncheon at the Hotel Severn on Wednesday, when Maurice L. Mendell of the Indiana Securities Commission will be the speaker.

Manufacturers' division No. 1, W. B. Harding, chairman, will have charge of the meeting. Elmer E. Steffen, leader of the Kiwanis chorus, will be the silent booster of the day. The club is getting ready to pick some of its "top" members as delegates to the International Kiwanis convention to be held in Cleveland in June.

The club will lay plans at the Cleveland meeting looking to a future international event in this city. It is understood Indianapolis may have the big convention whenever the city is ready for it.

PAY FOR REVEL ON HAIR TONIC

Six Men Who Liked It Better Than 'Mule' Fined.

The climax of a "hair tonic party" at the home of John Kelleher, 220 North Liberty street, Sunday night, came in city court yesterday afternoon. Kelleher was fined $5 by Judge Pritchard for disorderly conduct. A charge of operating a disorderly house was dismissed. Five other men arrested at Kelleher's house were fined $1 each on charges of drunkenness.

Bicyclemen Drunk and Bernauer went to Kelleher's residence on a complaint that there was a fearful noise there. They found a quart bottle and four smaller bottles that had contained hair tonic. "Hair tonic is better than this white mule that is floating over the town," said Kelleher.

Mrs. Comstock Tells How Cuticura Healed Child's Eczema

"My little daughter had eczema when she was eighteen months old. The eruptions on her face were large and red and festered and scaled over with a black scale. There were small, watery places on her scalp which turned to a soft white scale. She was terribly disfigured and restless at night. I began using Cuticura Soap and it was a great help, but not until I began using Cuticura Ointment, together with the Cuticura Soap, did the eruptions entirely leave. She was healed." (Signed) Mrs. J. A. Comstock, 213 S. 13th St., Richmond, Ind.

Legion Quotes Washington in Loyalty Plea

Officers Cite Prominence of February in Teaching of Patriotism.

A joint statement by the officers of the Marion County Council of the American Legion was issued last night in commemoration of the anniversary of George Washington. It reads:

"February is the greatest month for the teaching of patriotism and national service. The two great national heroes, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, whose birthdays we celebrate, give distinction to the month, and no time could be more propitious for inculcating a deeper understanding of the blessings of American citizenship and renewing the spirit of loyalty to our American institutions.

"The deeds of Washington, and the great principles for which he stood, embodied at all times the resolute ideals and high motives which inspired the American Legion to dedicate itself to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States and to foster and perpetuate 100 per cent. Americanism, and it is held fitting and proper on this memorable date to call on every man and woman who serves his country in its hour of need to again come forward to service of God and country by rallying to the support of the American Legion, as a special tribute to the Father of our country.

"In issuing this appeal to those who served in time of war it will not be inappropriate to include the words of George Washington, in his farewell address to the American people Sept. 17, 1796, when he said:

"Toward the preservation of your Government, and the permanency of your present happy state, it is requisite not only that you steadily discontinue irregular opposition to its acknowledged authority but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretenses."

The statement was signed by J. F. Cantwell, chairman of the council; H. C. Ketchum, first vice president, and E. O. Hobbs, treasurer.
