

BRANCH BANK BILL PASSED IN SENATE 34 TO 12

Would Restrict Activities in Neighborhood of Other Institutions.

LOCAL INTEREST SHOWN

After a bitter fight in which strong tobacco on both sides played a large part, the Senate yesterday afternoon passed the branch bank bill, which, as now stands, prohibits the establishing of branch banks in the "immediate neighborhood" of institutions already established. The vote was 34 to 12.

The bill as originally introduced provided that no State bank or trust company should establish branch banks, but on second reading the amendment providing they shall not be established in the "immediate neighborhood" of other banks was inserted at the suggestion of Senator C.
Over Holmes, Gary.

The vote on the bill follows:

Adams, Albridge, Arnold, Bal-num, Baxter, Bowers, Brown, Buchanan, Cleveland, Decker, Dunn, English, Fitch, Hartzell, Hays, Hepler, Hegson, Kipke, Kline, Leard, Lindley, Mc-Cormick, McCullough, Mader, Masters, Meeker, Miller, Moehring, Nejdl, Self, Southworth, Steele, Swain.

Noes—Beardsley, Behmer, Cravens, Doughlass, Duncan, Holmes, Humphreys, Nichols, Ratts, Richard, Schaefer, Tamm.

On the second reading of debate Senator J.
Joseph M. Craven moved that the bill be recommitted to a committee to consider further the Holmes amendment. Senator Holmes agreed on the ground that the amendment is "indefinite." The movement appeared to be intended to delay action on the bill until adjournment, but it was lost.

The next move to kill the bill came from Senator Don F. Strode, Kokomo, when he moved that it be indefinitely postponed. After a number of protests, Senator Alfred H. Gaston, Marion, moved that the bill be tabled. The latter motion was carried with a vote of 26 a yes, the notes not being recorded.

It was brought out in the course of a long debate that the bill was aimed directly at a condition existing in Indianapolis, but a number of Senators pointed out it would have a State-wide application.

Practically every bank in Indianapolis is lined up on one side or the other of the controversy and every effort is being made to get the bill through the House as it is, on the one hand, or on the other hand to have it killed there.
