

The Banks of the Roman Empire

Strangely enough, the first scheme of saving in the Roman Empire was not evolved for the patricians, but for the slaves. A place of safe keeping was established where the slaves might deposit their meager savings little by little, until they had accumulated enough to purchase their freedom.

In the revolution of historic cycles this system lives today in the Christmas savings and Vacation savings plans, under which, mite by mite, people deposit their money that it may be protected from thoughtless spending and saved to buy the realization of a hope.

Our Fletcher Savings Club carries the Christmas and Vacations savings plans still further. It provides for 50 weeks of regular saving of small amounts, starting any day in the year. Folder on request.

Indiana Limestone Subject of Lecture

A lecture on the production of Indiana limestone, illustrated with three reels of film, will be given by a representative of the Indiana Limestone Quarriesmen's Association of Bedford at the monthly meeting of the Architectural League of Indianapolis, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Herron Art Institute. The Indiana Limestone Quarriesmen's Association has had the reels prepared with the primary object of bringing to those who have not had an opportunity to visit the quarry district a graphic picture of actual every-day quarrying and milling operations from the stone ledge to the finished product. Preceding the pictures, a representative of the association will deliver a short talk presenting some of the salient facts relative to the geology, physical characteristics, color, textures and grading of the stone. Following the pictures a selection of lantern slides will be shown of a number of the interesting buildings constructed of Indiana limestone.

Thousand at Work Seeking Irish Funds

More than one thousand Indianapolis persons were active today in the campaign to obtain money with which to provide food and clothing for the thousands of starving women and children of Ireland, according to reports received by P. C. Kelly, chairman of the State executive committee. This campaign opened Sunday and will close at the end of this week. M. E. Foley, former chairman of the State council of defense, will be one of the principal speakers at a general meeting of workers and other persons interested in the campaign at the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Kelly will preside. The State campaign will not open until next Sunday. It is hoped to obtain $350,000 throughout Indiana, including Indianapolis.

Begin Chapter Work Tomorrow Evening

The first three degrees of the chapter work will be given at a convocation of Keystone Chapter No. 4, Royal Arch Masons, at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow evening. Another convocation will be held March 26, when the Royal Arch degree will be given by several teams. A special convocation has been called for Raper Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, for March 22 and another for April.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS

To fool the robbers during the crime wave the assets of the Bank of Ticketville on its front window have been changed from $10,000 to $10.

Columbus Alleop says there is lots of sentiment about geese, and they are a great study in human nature. During the cold weather they stand on one foot in the warm sunshine on the south side of the stable with their bills tucked under their wings, dreaming of the good old days of last summer when they chased the sad-faced grasshopper and frolicked in the frog pond.

The members of the Hog Ford Church were late last Sunday, as they kept waiting for the bill to ring. Sim Flinders, whose job it is to ring the bell, says he done his full duty and rung it, but as somebody had stole the clapper out of the bell, nobody could hear it.

The regular convocation will be March 15. An entertainment for members of the commandery and their families will be given next Saturday.

"Ready-Made" GARAGES and Cottages

Pro-Slate Panel Buildings are simple and easy to erect; they go together like a youngster's house of blocks; they come to you complete in every detail; there is no worry about "extras." Sills are furnished; glass is already fitted in the sash frames; hinges furnished; screws and bolts are in convenient packages; the roofing is a part of the roof panels themselves.

They are built of standard unit panels which are bolted together, panel by panel, to form the building. Each panel is a simple truss in itself; no complicated frame work is used in Pro-slate Panel Building construction. The panels themselves carry with them studding and rafters. There are no tongue and groove joints to cause trouble in fitting. There are no cracks to open up in dry weather.

Omit Washing Your Face But Never Your Teeth

So many are alert to eternal cleanliness because it is considered a friendly act to remind an acquaintance that the face is smudged. But who is to remind you, or notice that your teeth are neglected? An unclean mouth poisons the stomach, and often leads to chronic disease. Keep your mouth in condition by having your teeth examined regularly. "I neglected my teeth for years. They were extracted without pain by the People's Dentists. I give this recommendation that others will not delay the work which is so necessary to good health."—Mrs. Marie Liss, 3846 E. Washington street, city. Sunday, 9 a. m. to 12 m.
