

RELATES STORY OF 'ABOUT FACE' BY RAIL HEADS

Cuyler Denies 'Official' Influence to Reverse Stand on Labor Pacts.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The inside story of how the railroad executives of the country arrived at the decision to demand abrogation of the national agreements was revealed before the United States railroad labor board here today by Thomas Dewey, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives.

Frank P. Walsh, attorney representing railroad unions in the fight for the national agreements, questioned Cuyler about the apparent change in sentiment of ten of the eleven members of the labor commission of the Executive Association. Ten members originally favored the agreements and only one, W. W. Atterbury, opposed them.

Cuyler, a director of the Pennsylvania Railroad and "connected" with large banking institutions in New York and Philadelphia, said he stated, "without going out of his way," his position in opposing the national agreements to certain members of the labor committee.

DENIES ATTERBURY INFLUENCE

"I did not attempt to influence members of the committee officially," Cuyler said.

Cuyler said he opposed all national rules and working agreements.

Asked regarding the appointment of Atterbury as chairman of the labor board after Carl Gray of the Union Pacific had been forced out when Atterbury's stand against the national agreements was adopted, Cuyler said:

"Atterbury represented the majority opinion of the board which are members of the National Association of Railway Executives."

Walsh asked Cuyler who determined the labor policies of the Pennsylvania railroad.

"The railroad policy committee," Cuyler said.

"Are any of the committee practical railroad men?"

"No."

"How about other roads?"

"All about the same," Cuyler answered.

Cuyler said the members of the Pennsylvania committee were lawyers, bankers and retired capitalists.

Walsh attempted to develop through questions that the labor policies of the big railroads were not determined by railroad men, but by bankers, capitalists and lawyers.

Cuyler said if the New York Central had voted in favor of the national agreements it would have been adopted.

The witness denied he had any power over the railroads as chairman of the executives' association.

Cuyler admitted he wired certain railroads in February, however, asking them to fight the national agreements and said they had agreed.

"On your terms?" Walsh asked.

"Yes," the witness answered.

Efforts by Walsh to bring to light the publicity campaign conducted by the railroads against the national agreements failed when members of the board ruled that he would have to confine his questions to the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the national agreements.

IT PAYS GIMEL TO RIDE BICYCLE

Fact Obtains Acquittal in Blind Tiger Case.

The fact that Eli Gimel rode a bicycle was not in an automobile in which it was charged "white man" was being transported today resulted in Judge James A. Collins of Criminal Court finding Gimel not guilty of a charge of operating a blind tiger. This case is the result of an alleged attempt of George Chappel, who is now dead and whose wife, a fugitive, to hold up Gimel.

Vernon Jones, Edwin Johnson and Julius Wilkins, who were indicted with Gimel, also were found not guilty. The evidence was contradictory in several instances and the court admitted it was "some tangle."

Other cases were disposed of as follows:

Sallie Davis, alias Sallie Brown, assault and battery, six months at the Women's Prison; Clint Wagner, petit larceny, a year on the State Farm; James Henry Rice, vehicle taking, a year on the State Farm.

The court sustained motions to quash in the cases of B. R. Harris, charged with obtaining funds under false pretense, and William R. Middleworth, charged with failure to stop his automobile after an accident. The latter indictment was quashed because of a defect.

13 KILLED IN IRISH ATTACK

Sinn Feiners Give Violent Battle to Crown Forces.

LONDON, March 19.—Twenty violent pitched battles in which thirteen men were reported killed, took place in Ireland today. A heavy detachment of armed Sinn Feiners attacked British crown forces between North Cork and Brandon early in the morning and six of the soldiers were reported to have been killed, said an exchange telegraph dispatch from Cork. Six others were wounded. The attackers were said to have suffered heavy casualties. A reprisal followed the fight and the crown forces burned a number of houses.

Seven persons were killed in a six-hour battle between Sinn Feiners and crown forces near Dungarvan, Ireland, said an exchange telegraph dispatch from Dungarvan.

One British soldier was killed and another missing. Six of the attackers were killed.

"On your terms?" Walsh asked.

"Yes," the witness answered.

Efforts by Walsh to bring to light the publicity campaign conducted by the railroads against the national agreements failed when members of the board ruled that he would have to confine his questions to the reasonableness or unreasonableness of the national agreements.

$50,000 ASKED IN EGG 'CORNER'

Chicago Exchange Forced Price Up, Charge.

CHICAGO, March 19.—Charges that the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, successor to the Chicago Butter and Egg Board, cornered the market in cold storage eggs in January of this year and forced the price up to a point 11 cents higher than the price for fresh eggs at the time, are made in a suit filed in the Federal Court here today.

The suit was filed on behalf of the Louis Meurs Company, a Boston commission house, and asks $50,000 damages from the Exchange and twenty-seven of its members. The Meurs Company alleges it lost $50,000 in the transaction in cold storage eggs, which it had sold "short" because of the alleged corner in the market.

EDITOR DANIELS CALLS ON DENBY

Tells Official Raleigh Should Have 'Air Station.'

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A self-styled country editor, hopelessly tainted with the salt of the sea, today exchanged felicitations with the Secretary of the Navy.

Josephus Daniels, proprietor of the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer and naval secretary during eight of the most stirring years in American history, joined his old colleagues, the newspapermen in their daily conference with Secretary Edwin Denby, his successor in the Navy Department.

Daniels said he had written to Mr. Secretary, and wish you the best kind of a trip to Guantanamo Bay for your inspection of the fleet," Daniels said, clapping his hand.

"After eight years' vacation," he added laughingly, "I am now going back to work."

"Since I have found what a great amount of work is called for I now know what kind of a vacation you had here," Denby replied.

"I recall that I was guilty of a great omission while Secretary of the Navy," Daniels said.

"A naval base should have been established at Raleigh, 'very much to the hand' at least there should be an air station there."

"Wouldn't an air station be presumptuous, since I am sure you supply all the air at Raleigh at least the warm air?" asked Denby.

Daniels shot back, however, "You get the appropriation and I'll supply the air, all right."

They parted, again felicitating themselves, Daniels leaving his colleagues, the reporters, to get the news of the day from Denby.

A search of their car revealed whisky valued at $2,000. The men were taken to jail at St. Joseph, Mich., and it is understood they will be held for trial in the Federal Court.

LEGISLATION FOR FARMERS COMES FIRST

Harding May Ask Congress to Empower Him to Ban Imports.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Legislation to relieve the agricultural situation will be urged upon Congress as the first measure of its schedule by President Harding, it was learned today. His plans appear to be for enactment of a joint resolution empowering the President to take necessary action in forbidding importation of various foodstuffs. The effect is expected to be the same as a resort to the trading with the enemy act which is opposed by Harding and his Cabinet. This legislation would encounter so little opposition that it would not delay work on the tax and revenue measures, it was believed at the White House.

Secretary Hoover and some of the directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce at a conference discussed steps which President Harding has under consideration for aiding the American farmer. These include:

1. An embargo on importation of wool, meat, wheat and perhaps other products. The President would prohibit them under the war trade act, still in force.
2. Immediate emergency tariff legislation.
3. Anti-dumping legislation to be followed by protection in the regular tariff bill.

At the same time Hoover urged efforts to extend and increase European credits through the War Finance Corporation, the so-called hundred-million dollar corporation being organized by banking groups for foreign trade promotion and by Edge law banks.

Hoover regards selling to Europe as a necessity for relief. The United States, while producing more than consumption, is the "dumping grounds" for South America, Canada and Australia wool, meat and wheat. The United States is in the "dumping grounds" for South America, Canada and Australia wool, meat and wheat. Clothing valued at $785 was stolen from the United Merchandising Company, 125 North Delaware street, last night, according to a report made to the police by Samuel Wiseman, proprietor. MAKE APPEAL FOR MAURICE BLEIWEISS.

Alvah J. Bunker, former prosecuting attorney of Marion County; B. E. Griffey of the B. E. Griffey Motor Supply Company, and brother-in-law of Miss Adah Bunker, private secretary to Governor Warren, T. McCray, and R. C. Root, Indianapolis, cousin of Maurice Bleiweiss, appeared with the latter before the board to seek remission of a thirty-day jail sentence, which Bleiweiss has never served, imposed when he was convicted many months ago of assault and battery. Bleiweiss has paid a fine that was assessed against him by the Judge of Criminal Court.

Little discussion was held in connection with Bleiweiss' plea. The impression given by the board was that it was acquainted with the facts in the case.

It is contended Bleiweiss was slated on an assault and battery charge, following the death of a person struck by an automobile which he was driving, and that he should have been charged with manslaughter. No attorneys appeared for Bleiweiss.

DISCHARGES 3 IN EMMERICH CRASH

Grand Jury Holds Carroll, West and Ittenbach Blameless.

The Marion County grand jury today returned a discharge against David B. Carroll, Marion T. West and Carl Ittenbach, who were held responsible for the collapse of the Emmerich Manual Training High School annex by Coroner Dr. Paul F. Robinson.

The grand jury indicted only one man, John M. Melvin, superintendent for the Hetherington and Berner Steel Works, when it reported last Tuesday. The action of the grand jury today recommending the discharge of Carroll, West and Ittenbach ends the case as far as those three men are concerned.

The grand jury returned twenty-three indictments against Melvin, who was indicted for embezzlement by the grand jury on Jan. 12, 1920, today was indicted on a charge of embezzlement and grand larceny. He was charged with embezzling $11,000 from the Cleveland Grain Company, by whom he was formerly employed as an agent.

Maney was first indicted on an embezzlement charge and today the indictment charged him with both embezzlement and grand larceny, growing out of the same transaction.

Among others indicted were: Four indictments against William L. Foster, charging sodomy and rape; Raymond Moon, burglary and robbery; Joe Lann, Emmet Donahue, Everett McQueen, Dewey Burdett, Harry Stuck and Alfred Lawson, vehicle taking; David R. Jones, Earl Ellis, robbery and grand larceny; Morris Griffin, burglary and horse stealing; Bruce Criss, grand larceny; Ira Jones, burglary; Harry Morgan, grand larceny; and also burglary; Samuel Stemon, Newcastle, Ind., selling mortgaged property; Louis Cooper, 631 Prospect street, failing to stop after an accident; Albert Henry and Jimmie Jones, robbery and grand larceny; Harry Everett and Archie Dickinson, 2517 Northeast avenue, and Vincenzo Sferuzzi, 1013 North Illinois street, rapist; and Thomas Pett, Philip Williams and Frank Wisdom be discharged. O. K. PLANS ON NEW OFFICE

New Engineering Department to Function Soon.

The State conservation commission which met today heard and approved the plans of Richard Lieber, director, for establishing the division of engineering, authorized by an act of the Legislature. The division will be established and operated in connection with Purdue University in a manner similar to the division of geology.

The State engineer will be a member of the faculty of Purdue and serve without salary. An assistant will be provided, with office in the State House. The engineer and assistant will be named soon, it was stated.

The commission will ask Governor Warren T. McCray to give his consideration and assistance to the establishment of a State tree nursery at one of the State institutions, preferably at the Platfield Boys' School. The nursery would be cared for by the inmates of the institution, under the direction of a head to be selected for the work.

Governor McCray also will be asked to lend assistance and funds to be used in improving the McCormick Creek Camp, near State Park. It is planned to modernize the hotel and equip the park with electric power and water.

LAW SUCCESSOR IS MENTIONED

Austen Chamberlain May Take British Post.

LONDON, March 19.—Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, was being mentioned in political circles today as the probable successor of Andrew Bonar Law, who has resigned as spokesman for the coalition government. His designation for that position was said to be contingent only upon his wishes.

Should Chamberlain accept, it was believed that either Sir Robert Horne, president of the Board of Trade, or Sir W. Winston Evans, minister without portfolio, would be made chancellor. Stanley Baldwin, under-secretary of the treasury, would succeed whichever of these two was named as Chamberlain's successor.

Efforts to induce Earl Derby to accept leadership of the Unionist party apparently have been unsuccessful.
