INDIANS TAKE ANOTHER WHIRL WITH DODGERS

Come Back Confident After Beating National Champions in Prolonged Battle.

SHOWING REAL CLASS

By EDDIE ASH, Daily Times Sports Editor.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 31.—Still confident in big league company, the Indians today were set to charge back into the ranks of the Brooklyn Dodgers, National League champions, after taking a second straight loss here Wednesday night to 3, in eleven innings of high-class ball.

The sensational victory scored over Redman's outfit in the first contest of the two-game series boosted the stock of the Indians in these parts, and as a result of their success in spilling the spring baseball dope, a big week-day crowd was expected to turn out this afternoon.

Stardust Stryker and Paul Jones were slated to do the tribe pitching, and both right-handers were expected to be groomed to repeat the winning start of their debut yesterday. Dixon was expected to pitch, because of his record in the spring, but because of the inability of Gossett to recover from a wrist sprain received at Cleveland, two weeks ago, following the battle this afternoon, the Indians will start Friday and then go to New York Saturday for games there on Sunday and Sunday before packing up for the trip to the South.

The Indians will not get to see Babe Ruth in action Friday, as they had hoped, because the proposed Yankee-Dodger game that day has been called off by New Orleans fans who will get to witness the home run king perform, however, as he is expected to appear here Saturday and Sunday, when the New York club will tangle with the National League champions.

Getting back to the Hoosier victory Wednesday, it was a grand achievement for Jack Hendrick, 1921 American Association pennant hopefuls. They tore into the big leaguers in amazing fashion, despite the fact that Brooklyn secured a late line-up, and so keen was the game that the fans were usually on their feet cheering a fast play.

Manager Robinson did not care to see his boys mauled by an American Association team and he was out on the bench, lining backstoppers and giving advice the entire afternoon.

BARTLETT DOES GOOD WORK

Bartlett, the Tribe youngster, opened on the mound against the Dodgers and but for a bad throw by Baird he would have blanketed the major league outfit. He retired the first five batters and then the fifth in order to give Paul Caved a chance to prove the right man for the place, because he made some of the big league sluggers look foolish with his change of pace and he held them off until his mates put over the needed marker in the eleventh.

Harry Smith, star Brooklyn south-paw, started on the hill for the Dodgers and the Hoosiers counted twice in the first frame. Baird singled, then he was out and then Dick Covington hit one to the center field fence, scoring Reg, then he himself was out, and then Covington from the outfield got by third base, in the second inning, Schreiber doubled, scoring Reg, and then the former scored on Dixon's sacrifice fly.

The winning marker in the eleventh came when Covington singled, Baird walked and Morrison sacrificed. Baird was out on Reg's fielder's choice, but Reg reached second on a sacrifice fly, and then he reached second and scored a moment later when Covington smashed a long single to center.

The Dodgers obtained their three runs in the third inning when a bad throw by Baird gave them an opening, which they took instant advantage of. The Indians refused to crack after that frame, however, and their regular defensive work was a feature. A flashy double play in the ninth inning, Baird to Sicking, cut a possible Dodger rally and sent the game into extra innings.

DODGERS USE THREE HURLERS

Sherry Smith retired after the second inning, when Leggett was used to hit for him. Al Memaux then took up the Brooklyn pitching for seven innings, giving way to Mohr in the tenth, Cather Krueger of the Dodgers was retired in the eleventh when a foul tip off Baird's bat clipped off a finger nail. The injury kept this Dodger regular out of the game for about ten days.

The game Wednesday was the third extra-inning affair Hoosiers have played this spring. In two of the four games staged with the Philadelphia Athletics the scores were 3 and 2, 2 and 1, and 1 and 1, thirteen innings.

The eleven-inning struggle here was pronounced the most interesting played in New Orleans this spring.

Manager Hendrick was still without a win, and he was looking for a pitcher to put through to obtain more pitching talent and heavy hitting catcher. The Los Angeles team refused to talk trade and Hendrick outlined the Boston Red Sox Wednesday. He said he would like to see the Red Sox, but he would not let them go for anything but a big price.

CINCINNATI, March 31.—Heinle Groh has been located at Cincinnati, where he has gone to get into shape for the coming season. Groh's brother, Louis, is manager of the Cincinnati club and Groh will work out with him.

It is understood that Groh is coming to Cincinnati, a condition that he is given a two years' contract at the figures offered him by the Cincinnati club.

Presently, Groh is at French Lick and could not be reached last night, but it is generally believed that the club will offer no objection to his signing a two-year contract, if he will do so at the figures submitted by the club. It looks like a pretty sure thing that Groh will be in the lineup when the Reds start their season April 13.

CUB MOUND STAFF STRONG

By FOREST B. MYERS. CHICAGO, March 31.—It is hardly fair to Johnny Evers to predict that the Cubs will win the pennant.

It would not be unjust, however, to say that he has a club that will give a battle for the flag. The Cubs are predicting that he will have a first division club.

Their contentions appear to be certain. Wonderful pitchers he has in Alexander, Vaughn and Tyler. This trio alone, with a little help at the plate, is capable of assuring the Cubs a berth in the first division.

Alexander is in better condition than he has been in three years, and Vaughn is ready to work regularly with them. If Alexander does not win more than thirty games he will be the most disappointed man in baseball.

Every time a fourth regular on the staff, he has hoped to make it "Speed" Martin or Abe Bailey, but neither has come up to expectations. Virgil Davis is an excellent prospect, but he is only 20 years old. He is a right-hander. He has a good curve and fast ball and will take the place if he improves. Jones, Fehr and York are young southpaws who have a chance to travel with the club. The Cubs will be strongly fortified behind the bat with Killifer, O'Farrell and Daley. O'Farrell is an improved backstop, with the best arm in the league. There will be one change in the infield, Oscar Grimes covering the initial sack formerly graced by Merkle and Barber. Evers has counted on Wheeler making the grade. Grimes is not graceful, but can play the bag and hit. Hollocher and Deab will occupy the outfield bags with Kelleher and Warner as utility men.

The addition of George Mabel has added speed and strength to the outfield as well as bolstered up the batting strength of the team. Mabel is an aggressive and hustling player and seems a like candidate for the clean-up position.

His presence in the outfield with Plack and Barber will give Evers a fast trio that can cover the ground, throw and bat. The Cubs will not have to worry about the fielding strength of the club, the pitching looks to be in good hands and all they have to do to be a first division team will be to deliver a little steady batting.

Third of Big League Owners Must Go, Ban Johnson Declares

CLEVELAND, March 30.—"Thirty per cent of the owners of the American and National Leagues must go," Ban Johnson, president of the American League, declared today at the annual meeting of the Cleveland Recreation Council on "Keeping Baseball Clean."

Changes in ownership are necessary for good of the game," Johnson added. "I expect to see either 70 per cent of the owners combine with me to see that this much-needed change is brought about."

He did not want to say now who the 30 per cent are, but I guess they know." It is believed that Johnson had referred to the club owners who tried to force his resignation several months ago.

Herman Looks Ready for Shot at Crown

Former King of Bantams Shows Loads of Stuff in Stopping Spencer.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Pete Herman is coming back strong. He knocked out George Spencer, champion of the bantamweights, who lost his title to Joe Lynch last December, in on the highway today to a return match with the present titleholder.

Herman demonstrated his ability in a decisive manner before a packed house at the Pioneer Sporting Club last night, when he pulled off Willie Spencer in twelve rounds of a scheduled fifteen-round fight.

Spencer is one of the gamest, flashiest and most capable of the new crop of bantams. He is fast and hard to hit in the vulnerable spots, but in Herman's hands he was just April 8 and 7. Herman's victory over Spencer is the second he has scored here within a week.
