

BRITAIN FIGHTS TO AVERT TIE-UP OF INDUSTRIES

Coal Strike 'Gravest Situation Since War,' Government Declares.

PARLIAMENT IS CALLED

LONDON, April 2.—The first flurry of violence in the great coal strike of England's 1,200,000 miners was reported this afternoon from the Dowlais Valley, where strikers, watching the removal of ponies from the pits, stoned the sheds, breaking windows.

At Gynney a crowd of striking miners marched on the Pont Lottyn colliery, and forced the officials to cease manning the pumps with emergency crews.

The strike was reported to be fast spreading to the mines in Scotland. The engineers of the Lanarkshire mines voted to abide by the orders of the miners' federation to cease work.

LONDON, April 2.—Although the United Kingdom trembles upon the brink of a tremendous industrial upheaval which is considered inevitable if the nation-wide coal strike lasts, the general public displayed remarkable calmness on this, the second day of the tie-up which saw practically all of the 1,200,000 miners of England idle.

The spirit of "muddling through somehow" was apparent on all sides but even in conservative quarters it was conceded that this crisis is more dangerous than any of this kind the kingdom has passed through.

The government, from King George down, is giving every indication that it is thoroughly aware of the gravity of the situation. The king has called Parliament to convene for Monday, eight days sooner than the date originally set, because "a state of emergency exists."

The government's official declaration, moreover, described the situation as the "gravest since the declaration of war in 1914," and a special cabinet committee has been appointed to deal with the crisis.

TRIPLE ALLIANCE

As in previous coal strikes the all-over-riding fear of the government again that the two other parties to the "triple alliance," the railroad men and the transport workers, will join the miners.

Thousands of dock workers employed in pumping to prevent flooding.

COAL RATIONED FOR HOUSEHOLDS

Meanwhile the usual stringent measures of restriction and economy have been ordered by the government. Rationing of fuel for households has been resumed and the service has been reduced to a minimum. The rationing of coal will be stopped Monday.

STRIKES STOPPED MONDAY

The government is appealing to the miners to exercise the strictest economy in the use of coal, light, transport, petrol and other necessities.

Other industries being dependent upon coal are beginning to be affected by the tie-up and many of the biggest plants and factories are notifying their employees that they must shut down in a few days if the strike lasts.

PRESS SHARPLY DIVIDED ON STRIKE

The British press is sharply divided in its discussion of the strike and its meaning. The general view, however, seems to be that it is a battle for the nationalization of the mines.

The Morning Post charges labor with a deliberate plot to bring about a revolution.

The Daily Herald, labor's official organ, on the other hand, brands it as a "lockout," saying the operators "terminated the contracts with the unions. In support of the continuation of the wage scale which the owners want to reduce, the Herald publishes figures showing the profits made by the owners during the war.

"In the fat years of production for destruction," says the Herald, "the owners drew from the industry total profits exceeding the prewar capital of the industry by 25,000,000 pounds (normally $125,000,000)."

George Lansbury, editor of the Herald, in a two-column plea for unity, expresses the hope that the government will use its powers to the fullest extent.

"Then we will have a battle line drawn between those that have and those that have not," he concludes.

NEGRO WAS DOG 'SEASONER' Picked Them Up and Kept Them for Time COLLEGE 'SCARED,' SO IS HE

Further investigation into the methods employed by the Indiana University School of Medicine in dealing with dogs for diseases has revealed that the school had a "dog seasoner" who picked up dogs from the streets of Indianapolis as well as in other cities of the state.

1. That dogs for the use of the college have been collected off the streets of Indianapolis as well as in other cities of the state.

2. That dogs have been subjected to experiments in the realm of surgery as well as to operations the purpose of which was instruction of students.

3. That more than a year ago a protest was made to Dr. C. P. Emerson, dean of the college, and assurances were given by him that there would be no more of the practices which have recently been established as occurring in the last few months.

Only a few weeks ago a negro who lives in the northwest part of Indianapolis was engaged in securing dogs for the use of the college. His practice was to pick up dogs on the streets and take them to his home where he kept them for a period before delivering them to the college. There is a wide variation in regard to the number of dogs he reportedly has delivered to the college. It has been admitted, however, by an attaché of the college that at least fifteen dogs were obtained from him.

IN A MANNER GAVE PROTECTION.

In this proceeding, the college was in a measure, protected from any criticism that might come from persons who had lost pet dogs. The animals were not delivered at once to the college.

KU-KLUX BRANDS NEGRO AND FREES HIM AS WARNING

Decrees Flogging at Trial Before Letters Are Seared on Forehead.

DALLAS, Texas, April 2.—The Ku Klux Klan held midnight court again in the South last night.

The main object of the order were burned in fiery acid upon the forehead of Alex Johnson, negro, "tried" with a rope around his neck, amid the lonely hills of Dallas County and "found guilty" of inflicting death upon a white woman.

Between twenty-five and thirty lashes were applied to Johnson's naked back and later beaten and bleeding, the letters "K. K. K." burned in his forehead as a "warning to other negroes not to associate with white women," he was turned loose upon the steps of the fashionable hotel, where his alleged offense was committed.

With the "solemn" fifteen standing in a circle about him, he was made to take oath he would never associate with another white woman.

GIVEN CHOICE OF OATH OR DEATH.

He was given the choice between this oath and death.

The trial was conducted by men in white masks—all were prominently dressed.

Newspaper reporters, "blinded" by a haze and taken to the "court" to write the story for the world, and commanded to "chronicle faithfully what you see and hear, that all may be warned," witnessed the affair, using a fallen log as a "press table."

"Trial" was held under a great elm tree, the "courtroom" lighted only by the dim rays of a fading moon. The scene was a picture of the black. The wind rustling leaves was the only sound and at times made the negro's frightened, almost inaudible answers, unintelligible.

SLIPPED QUIETLY OUT OF TOWN.

Members of the "Klan" slipped the negro out of town so quietly that the authorities did not know anything was going on. After the trial, he slipped out of the hotel, he disappeared as mysteriously as he gathered.

Johnson, the negro "tried," whipped and branded, recently was arrested in a white woman's rooming house in Dallas, because of the character of the woman, sufficient evidence was not obtainable to press a charge comprising intimacy and cohabitation.

SEE FAILURE OF LATE PLANS TO CREATE STRIFE

Republican Politicians Fall Short in Efforts to Start Democratic Fight.

LISTS COMPLETE TODAY

Approach of the end of the period for filing declarations of candidacy in the city primary election found desperate efforts being made by some Republicans to create a fight in the Democratic ranks, the object being to keep the Democrats from participating in the Republican primary mayoralty race against Mr. Thomas C. Howe, former president of Butler college, representing the city administration.

Late today indications were that their efforts were in vain. Only the three candidates for the Democratic nomination for mayor have filed. It also appeared that the Republican mayoralty column would contain only the four names.

SEVEN ASPIRANTS FOR MAYORALTY.

The Democratic mayoralty aspirants in the order of their filing are: Willet A. Judson, 322 South Illinois street; John W. Losh, 533 Coffey street, and Boyd M. Webster, 2222 Tenth street.

The Republicans are Samuel Lewis Shank, 3547 East Washington street; Edward J. Robison, 2336 Broadway; Adolph J. Meyer, 828 North Pennsylvania street, and Mr. Thomas C. Howe, 30 Audubon Place.

The period for filing with the city clerk will end at 5 o'clock this evening. No person who does not file a declaration of candidacy before the deadline will be eligible to run in the primary or at the general municipal election.

A new law passed by the recent Legislature prohibits candidates from entering the race in the general election independently unless they file a declaration not less than thirty days before the primary so unless some one files in this way by tonight the primary and election will see no independent ticket in the field.

SIX WOMEN FILE NAMES.

Six women are in the lists and more may be in before they are closed. Three of those who have filed are Republicans and the other three are Democrats.

On seeing a delegation of soldiers from Ft. Benjamin Harrison march into the tabernacle and take seats in front of him, the evangelist cried out: "I want a big rousing cheer for the Americanization day program which will be carried out in this tabernacle Saturday night."

The big audience united in one of the biggest and heartiest demonstrations of the kind ever known in Indianapolis. The evangelist announced that there will be no revival services today as Saturday is "rest day" and also because the tabernacle will be used for the big patriotic demonstration tonight.

At the close of the service the choir leader instructed the choir to sing "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the Gipsy Smith and the audience stood at attention as the choir in song observed Americanization day.

CAMPAIGN FOR AMERICANIZATION WEEK.

The evangelist called attention to the Sunday revival program and the beginning of the campaign on next Monday night. At 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon Gipsy Smith will address a woman's only meeting at the tabernacle and at the same hour the Rev. Dr. Frederick Taylor of the Baptist Church will preach to men only at the Roberts Park M. E. Church. On Sunday night the regular Sunday night service will be held at the Tabernacle for both men and women.

"I call attention to the meeting for women Sunday afternoon," said the evangelist. "If there is any doubt that the women are wanted, let them come to the Roberts Park Church and hear Dr. Taylor. If we can capture the women for Christ, we shall capture the homes."

Many Offer to Pay Judge Lindsey's Fine

DENVER, Colo., April 2.—Judge Ben Lindsey, "the boy's friend," was swamped with offers from all over the country to pay his $500 fine for contempt of court.

Judge Lindsey, who faces final arraignment today on charge of contempt of court for refusing to divulge what a boy told him in confidence, refused to say whether he would go to jail or pay the fine.

Henry Kramer, said to be an employee at the Statehouse, took the stand and testified regarding the "good reputation" of Brown and Prather. It is also understood Mr. Kramer has been active around the courthouse in the "interest" of Prather and Brown.

As the cases now stand, Brown and Prather will not know their fate until Custodian Schultz can be brought into court to determine if his feelings are nice and sweet toward the men who are convicted in the city court of stealing coal.

In the city court Brown and Prather were fined $1 and costs and sentenced to forty days, Judge Collins stated.

The cases against Brown and Prather have been in the Criminal Court docket since Jan. 5, 1921, the records show.

Tries to Divorce Wife, 86, So He Can Marry Girl of 19

DENVER, April 2.—Because his 86-year-old wife was tired of him, Gabriel Graljez, a Hungarian, attempted to get a divorce so he could marry his wife's pretty 19-year-old granddaughter, Lena Bertram.

"I want a divorce so I can marry that girl," he told Judge Moore, and at the same time pressed a $50 bill into the judge's hand.

The bride was turned down and Gabriel was told the decree would receive consideration without any remuneration on his part.

Motorists' Warning

Keystone avenue, between the Schofield Mills bridge and the Millersville road, is being rebuilt at a higher grade. There is a detour sign at the Millersville road, but no warning at the bridge.

The road, in its present condition is impassable for heavy autos and two enterprising young men with a team are enjoying a lucrative business hauling out cars at $5 a haul.

The county commissioners, who have jurisdiction over the road, are too busy dabbling in the city fight for mayor to see that a warning sign is maintained at the north end of the impassable road.

ALL-AMERICAN SPIRIT TAKES FULL CHARGEPatriotic Day Demonstration

FLAGS DECK BUILDINGS

Not since those hectic, exciting, grim days of '18 and '19 when the youth of Indianapolis today, and when the big Americanism meeting at the Gipsy Smith tabernacle tonight there will be not the slightest question that Indianapolis is all-American, all the time, promoters of the event declared today.

Flags are being displayed with a wartime profusion. They are to be seen on homes, factories, business houses and public buildings.

Final arrangements were completed yesterday for the big meeting and it was decided to hold an overflow meeting on the steps of Castle Hall on Ohio street between Delaware and Alabama streets, only a half block from the tabernacle.

Judge Keneaw Mountain Landis, principal speaker at the big meeting, will address the overflow meeting also and there will be a number of other addresses.

Judge Landis, Mrs. Landis and their son, Reid Landis, who served as an aviator in the World War, will arrive from Chicago on the Monon Railroad at 5 o'clock. They will be met by members of the reception committee and will be taken to the hotel where they will remain.

At 5:45 o'clock Judge and Mrs. Landis will go to the Clapp Hotel to attend the banquet of the Service Club, which city controller in the sum of one thousand dollars.

The shooting occurred at 9:45 o'clock this morning in one of the rooms of the school of business administration.

The theory advanced by Chancellor Day of the university is that the shooting was the result of a quarrel between Beckwith and a student who was in the room at the time.

Beckwith was a student of the school of business administration and was in the room at the time of the shooting.

Dr. Wharton was a graduate of Syracuse University and had been a member of the university for several years.

Dr. Beckwith was a bank examiner and expert in finance and statistics. He joined the faculty of the college of business administration last September.

Previously he had been a professor at Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Colo., and at other times was teacher in the College of Iowa and the school of commerce at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Charles, again 'King With No Country,' Seeks Haven

Reported En Route to Switzerland, but He's Not Wanted There.

PARIS, April 2.—Charles of Hapsburg, once more a "king without a country," having failed utterly in his spectacular attempt to re-establish himself upon the throne of Hungary, was still the center of interest in Europe today, but his movements were no longer watched with alarm for all danger of any considerable part of his former subjects recognizing him as their ruler seemed passed.

His main concern at the present hour, according to all dispatches, is to hit upon a route out of central Europe and a safe place to go to and stay.

Dispatches had it that he was returning to Switzerland, despite reports that the little mountain republic's government considers he has forfeited the right to its hospitality. The East Europe Agency's Budapest correspondent telegraphs that the ex-monarch, under a Spanish safe conduct and accompanied by two British officers, has left Sombathely, near the Hungarian frontier and is heading for Switzerland.

He has not signed the act of abdication, however, the dispatch added.

The Matin's Geneva correspondent says Charles is expected back there.

An early dispatch to Central News from Vienna said the former Emperor's "departure was delayed until evening, possibly till tomorrow, negotiations regarding his traveling route being still in progress." It was not finally settled, this dispatch added, whether he would return to Switzerland by way of upper Italy, or whether he would go to Spain by way of Genoa.

A number of Austrian politicians, all royalists, are expected to accompany Charles.

EXPECT CHARLES WILL TRY AGAIN

VIENNA, April 2.—Former Emperor Charles still considers himself king of Hungary and is determined to have his departure for Switzerland that he might make another attempt to regain the Hapsburg throne.

This information was contained in a dispatch received today from Steinhilber, where Charles made his headquarters during his attempted coup.

LAW IS FARCE, CITY GARBAGE PROBLEM SHOWS

Reduction Plant Failure Due to Mayor's Neglect, Facts Reveal.

NO RESTRICTION 'ASKED

For more than a year Mayor Charles W. Jewett and his board of sanitary commissioners have been explaining the operation at a loss of the city's white elephant—the $175,000 garbage reduction plant—by saying that private collectors of garbage took so much of the city's refuse that there was not enough left for the city's plant to be run at a profit, notwithstanding there was an ordinance upon the statute books which would have made it possible to have so crippled the activities of the private collectors that they could not have made serious inroads upon the city's collection.

These facts were brought to light today when it was learned that the board of sanitary commissioners, in a meeting yesterday, had decided to write to four private collectors, holding city licenses, and ask them for lists of the places they collect from. The move was considered preliminary to a movement of the board to finally awaken and start a drive to eliminate the private collectors.

ANTIS BUREAU FOR FAIRE.

Mayor Jewett has insisted repeatedly that the garbage plant operation was crippled because the anti-administration members of the city and county boards passed an ordinance giving the city the exclusive right to collect garbage. However, the council on Feb. 3, 1919, passed an ordinance which gave the city the exclusive right to collect garbage, while the measure passed does not.

HERE IS THE ORDINANCE.

Section 3 of this ordinance reads as follows:

"That any person, firm or corporation desiring to collect or remove garbage from the city of Indianapolis shall obtain a license from the city controller of said city, who shall issue such license to any person, firm or corporation who shall pay to the city controller the sum of five dollars for each year of such license, and who shall be approved by the city controller in the sum of one thousand dollars."

The measure is general ordinance No. 8 of 1919. It was passed as a substitute for a measure prepared by the city legal department. The legal department ordinance overrode the fact that there is property right in garbage, while the measure passed does not.

Ohio Woman Urged for Diplomatic Post

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Woman is about to break into the field of diplomacy, it is asserted.

Attorney General Dougherty and Senator Willis of Ohio today conferred with the President and Secretary of State Hughes relative to a diplomatic post for Miss Lucille Atcherson of Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Atcherson served as a relief worker in France during the war. It is probable she will be appointed as a secretary of an embassy.

Missouri Freed of Poisoning Charge

FAIRPLAY, Mo., April 2.—King Bruce, farmer, charged with first degree murder, was freed today by a jury here today. Bruce was charged with poisoning his wife and with complicity in the alleged poisoning of C. E. Decker, his neighbor, in the spring of 1919.

Decker might be free to carry on an alleged illegitimate love.

Mrs. Decker died while awaiting trial.

CHILD, 2, RUN DOWN BY AUTO, DIES HOUR LATER FROM HURTS

Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Macy Injured in Front of Home at 4246 Park Avenue.

TECH H. S. TEACHER, DRIVER, HELD

Susanne Macy, 2 years and 9 months old, daughter of Ray F. Macy, 4246 Park avenue, was killed today when she was struck by an automobile while playing in the street in front of her home. The automobile was driven by Emerson Wright, 36, of 4136 Park avenue, a teacher at Technical High School, who was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

According to Mr. Wright and Mrs. Mary Norton, 4140 College avenue, and her son, John Norton, who were with him, the child ran into the street from between an automobile and a wagon standing along the curb. They said what she had reached the middle of the street she turned back directly in front of the automobile. The witnesses said the car was going slowly and that it was stopped in less than its length.

Coroner Paul F. Robinson, who investigated, ordered Wright's arrest. He was released shortly afterward on a $1,000 bond signed by Leander Hoover, 2426 North Delaware street.

The child was taken to her home, where she died about an hour after the accident. She is survived by her parents and one sister, Betty Louise, 5. Macy is manager of the People's Coal and Cement Company.

The delay in the case was caused by an appeal to the Supreme Court and later a ninety-day reprieve granted by former Governor James P. Goodrich "for business reasons."

When the case was before the pardon board members of the board expressed surprise that Bleiweiss was not charged with manslaughter instead of assault and battery, as one of the victims of the accident died.

Mr. Rockefeller is in splendid health, it was said here at his offices.

Skip Stop Order May Be Included

An order for the installation of the skip-stop system in the operation of cars is very likely to be included in the order of the public service commission in creating the rates of the Indianapolis Street Railway Company, according to indications at the Statehouse today.

Joseph A. McGowan, secretary and treasurer of the company, had a long conference with Ernest I. Lewis, chairman of the commission. He presented Mr. Lewis with detailed figures showing the company would save $48,000 a year through the operation of the skip-stop system.

The order in the street railway case is expected to be issued early next week.
