

CONCERT STAR TO BE HEARD AT MURAT SUNDAY
Mabel Garrison of Metropolitan Opera to Appear in Recital Here.

Mabel Garrison, the concert star coming to the Murat Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the park and school boards has accomplished a remarkable list of successes in various fields of opera, recital and oratorio. In the Metropolitan Opera she now occupies a place second to none of the imported celebrities in Mr. Galli Cusci's forces and after a glance over some of the choral work in which she has been featured it is apparent that this American soprano is a true artist. Every note she is expected to be by far the most polished and musically exponent of florid song of which the country can boast. Mr. Muncker of the New York Times, declared last winter that Miss Garrison's recital in Carnegie Hall was "the most delightful gift of singing heard since the golden days of Marcell Sembrich."

Other local events announced by James H. Lowe, superintendent of the park board for this month include Municipal Symphony orchestra, with Ottile Schlegel, soprano, Caleb Mills Hall, Wednesday night; Harmony Club, opera night, Caleb Mills Hall, Thursday evening; Women's Chorus, presenting John Quine, Caleb Mills Hall, April 16; Elkhorn oratorio by Indianapolis Community chorus, Tomlinson Hall, April 20.
