Richmond Plans Old Form of Election

Special to The Times.
RICHMOND, Ind., April 4.—B. A. Basher, city controller, first Republican to announce his intention of making the form for mayor of Richmond on the Republican ticket to succeed Dr. W. W. Zimmerman, chief executive of this city, for the last twenty years, was the last man to file his formal declaration.

Lawrence Handley, prominent in Democratic circles, who has been mentioned as a possible mayoralty candidate for his party, has filed formal declaration. He is the only aspirant from the Democratic ranks.

In case the petition for a special election for a city manager form of government is accepted by the common council the May primary will be postponed automatically. Should the new form of municipal government be defeated a primary election would then become necessary and another date for filing of intentions would be set.

The action of candidates in filing at this time is taken in case any hitch should occur in the proceedings calling for the special election.
