2 GIRLS FACE CHECK CHARGES

Statement of One Defendant
Indicates Others May Be Implicated.

"If I go to prison somebody else will go with me," declared Dorothy Bowen, 16, alleged fraudulent check writer, as she defied detectives who were questioning her about checks she was alleged to have cashed in the city.

Miss Bowen and Zelma C. Jordan, 17, alias Cossell, living at Stop 5, T. H. I. & E. traction line, were arrested by operatives of the Quigley Hyland detective agency at the Federal building late Friday. Both are charged with passing fraudulent checks.

Seven weeks ago Miss Bowen was arrested in company with a man in an automobile at Riverdale Park, where she was charged with passing checks. She was released on bond signed by Louis Brown, Republican political worker and professional bondsman, who controls the West end vote for the "good government machine."

The police did not hear of the Bowen girl again until yesterday, when three merchants reported worthless checks had been cashed by two girls. One was cashed by the W. K. Stewart Company. The girl purchased fancy shoes worth $44 at a Pennsylvania street shoe store, and also bought $20 worth of silk underwear at another store. The total of the checks passed yesterday will reach more than $125.

The girls had three valuable silk dresses which the detectives described as "far past their speed," and which the police say were probably obtained in Terre Haute. The pair told of a visit to Terre Haute, where they were arrested. They also related their experiences on many automobile rides, expensive suppers at road houses with men and the detectives and women police today started an investigation of these stories.

Horseless Farming in Bartholomew

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.
COLUMBUS, Ind., April 9.—No horses will be allowed in the corn field of Charles Peterson, who lives near here, this year. Peterson plans to do the entire work of planting, cultivating and harvesting the crop with power machinery.

"Horses nip the tops out of the young corn stalks as they go along and cause big loss to the crop," Peterson states. He says that he will cultivate corn four feet tall with a tractor that has only a foot of clearance from the ground, claiming that the corn will spring up again after the tractor has passed over it. Tractors are being used to some extent in this county for spring plowing, but most farmers believe that horse power is the only thing for cultivation.

FILLING STATION BANDITS' WORK BAFFLES POLICE

Belief of Organized Gang Work.

TWO TRIALS LAST NIGHT

The successful robbery of a gasoline filling station last night and an unsuccessful attempt at another place showed that the "filling station bandits" still are making a good thing out of the situation. The scores of holdups that marked the advent of the new year have the officers bent to baffled by what they believe to be a well organized gang of highway-men.

The crimes last night brought the total of filling stations up to seven that have been visited by the bandits in the last few nights.

The first hold-up call last night was received at 8:30 o'clock at police headquarters. Two men entered a filling station at Kentucky avenue and Stock street and covered Loran Abram, 17, the night man at the station, with a revolver. One of the bandits removed $20.24 from the cash drawer while Abram was forced to stand with his face to the wall. The men escaped in a big high-powered automobile, the driver of which remained at the station. Max Novlin, 4665 Sunset avenue, is the owner of the filling station.

SAME MEN ATTEMPT SECOND HOLD-UP

The same gang attempted to loot a filling station at Kentucky avenue and Harding street at 9:40 o'clock. Roger Lake, 1544 South Harding street, night man at the filling station, told the police that he saw three men acting in a suspicious manner. Two crossed the street and asked him for tobacco, and later returned and repeated the request. The two then returned to their "job," who was waiting for them on the opposite side of the street. The robbers became frightened when Frank Mosier, owner of the station, who was at the place with Lake, went outside and fired a 45-caliber revolver in the air four times to attract attention.

Two of the men went south on Harding street and the other one walked two blocks from the filling station, where he got into an automobile and drove toward the city.

Harry Lord, 1546 South Harding street, followed the man until he entered the automobile. He gave the police a description of the men which is similar to the description of the bandits that held up the Novlin filling station earlier in the night.

On Wednesday night a burglar broke into the Novlin station and stole a revolver. The police believe the gun was taken by a member of the gang to be sure that it would not be used against them when they staged the "stick up."

BANDITS HAVE MANY VICTIMS.

Other places visited by the bandit gang during the last few weeks are: Emrichville station on Speedway avenue; the Standard Oil station at Thirtieth and Meridian streets, where they obtained $10; the station at 1001 East Washington street, where the robbers were frightened away and escaped after a thrilling automobile race on Washington street with a police car Saturday night; the successful robbery at the Silver Flash station at Maple Road boulevard and Ruckle street, next door to a police station. There the bandits escaped in a big maroon colored automobile stolen in this city and later recovered by the police and the unsuccessful holdup planned Thursday night when the automobile bandits left before robbing the filling station at Washington and Giesendorf streets.

Gets 1 to 5 Years on Forgery Charge

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.
SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 9.—Charles Feahney, 32, charged with passing a fraudulent check for $5 at the Morris & Bird grocery store in this city last summer, entered a plea of guilty in the Shelby Circuit Court today. He was fined $100 and was sentenced to serve one to five years in the Indiana State Prison.

The request of Feahney that he be permitted to remain here until next week, in order that he may see his mother, who is expected to arrive here from her home at New Orleans, La., was granted by Judge Blair. Feahney was arrested at Louisville, Ky., after eluding the local authorities for almost a year. It was stated he traveled over the country under a number of aliases, one of which was given in passing the worthless check here. Feahney is said to be the son of a wealthy New Orleans (La.) wholesale grocer. He is well educated and also particular, having made a complaint when placed in the jail here that it was not a fit place for a "gentleman."

BUILDING TRUST QUIZ ON MONDAY

300 Witnesses Will Face Federal Jury.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Approximately 300 witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear before the Federal grand jury here Monday in connection with the inquiry now under way into the activities of an alleged building material combine.

Most of the persons subpoenaed are Chicagoans and they will be asked concerning alleged illegal acts of sheet metal and plumbing manufacturers and of building contractors. Attorneys in charge of the investigation declare they expect to obtain evidence from these witnesses that will result in the indictment of a score or more manufacturers and contractors.

Indictments are planned under the Sherman anti-trust law and both corporations and officers of corporations are said to be involved.

The investigation into the building situation being conducted by the Dilley-Kessinger Committee of the Illinois State Legislature is progressing and thirty witnesses have been subpoenaed for today's session. The committee has sent a telegram to Attorney General Daugherty asking him to center in Chicago the inquiry in plans into conditions in the building industry.

Rushville People Stopped East of City

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES.
RUSHVILLE, Ind., April 9.—Five Rushville motorists have reported attempted hold-ups to the local officials, declaring that they were stopped on different nights this week, on the Brookville pike, near the Hawthorne stop, just east of Indianapolis. The matter, as far as the local people were concerned, has not been reported to the Indianapolis police.

Frank McIlwaine, John D. Stewart, E. R. Cassidy and J. T. Arbuckle, driving separate machines and on different nights this week, were stopped near the eastern edge of Indianapolis by a lone bandit, who flashed a revolver in his hand. None of the drivers were asked to hand over anything, but the occupants of the machine in each case were scrutinized, and a word spoken by the motorist.

After examining the people and contents of the machine, he motioned them to proceed.

In each case the people were badly frightened, and had long drives home. They were guarded themselves while leaving the eastern suburbs of Indianapolis. Several Rushville motorists who attended theater parties in Indianapolis Friday night pursued another route home, and several machines went in pairs.

MINERS VIEW U. S. POINT IN BRITISH CRISIS

Britain Wants Thing for Which Americans Were Indicted, Is Assertion.

The British government is attempting to have British miners do the thing for which more than 100 members of the United Mine Workers of America were indicted by the Federal grand jury in trying to induce the miners to put the pumps back at work so the mines can be saved, according to a statement issued at the headquarters of the U. M. W. of A. here today.

The statement follows: "There is one very interesting feature of the strike of coal miners in Great Britain that is well worth thinking about in this country. The British government is endeavoring to persuade the British miners to do one of the very things that members of the United Mine Workers of America have been indicted by the Federal grand jury at Indianapolis for doing in this country. When the British miners went on strike a few days ago they called out also the pumps who man and operate the pumps that keep water out of the mines and save these properties from ruin. This action has caused a great uproar in Great Britain. The miners have been severely censured for calling out the pumps. Reports say that water is filling up many mines, and that the mines may be destroyed or rendered useless thereby. Dispatches from London today say that the government is making every possible effort to induce the miners to put the pumps back at work so the mines may be saved."

"How different this is from the way the miners in America are treated. The indictment returned by the Federal grand jury at Indianapolis against coal operators and members and officers of the United Mine Workers says that when the miners went on strike in 1919 they left pumps and others at work in the mines to protect the properties and charges that this was a criminal act under the Sherman anti-trust law. The indictment charges that this was a part of the alleged conspiracy entered into by operators and miners. In other words, if the charge in the indictment is valid it is a crime for coal miners to protect mining property and prevent its being ruined while they are on strike for the settlement of a wage dispute. What would have been the charge in the indictment if the miners had called out the pumps and engineers and allowed the mines to go to ruin? Certainly it is a strange doctrine that men become criminals when they protect property from damage."

City Joins National 'Seed Sowing' Move

With scores of other cities, Indianapolis will join in a "seed-sowing" campaign, known as children's week, April 24 to May 1, in a nation-wide effort to awaken in parents the need of larger religious instruction of children.

The general chairman of the committee in charge is Mrs. Joseph L. Stacy, county superintendent of the children's division of the Marion County Sunday School Association. The week's program will center around the children's divisions' educational aim, "Growth and Fidelity."

Coal Purchased for Indiana Market

PRESTONBURG, Ky., April 9.—Indiana coal interests and consumers are interested in a big Kentucky coal mine deal just completed at Huntington, W. Va. Involving more than 30,000 tons of coal, much of which will pass to the Indianapolis market. The deal was between the Lake and Export Coal corporation of Huntington and the Eureka Coal and Mining Company, the former taking over the tonnage of the latter's operations at Prestonburg.

A remarkable engineering feat, new in these mining fields, has been successfully accomplished at the Eureka-Leeco mine, a suspension bridge, 80 feet high, having been swung across the Big Sandy river. By means of a great rubber band it conveyed 250 tons of coal an hour across the river to the railroad on the opposite bank. E. J. Payne, well known in Indianapolis coal circles, and president of Lake & Export corporation, headed the Eureka deal at Huntington.

China Missionary Gives Nation Boost

That China, with its dense population, will in time become one of the leading commercial nations of the world, was predicted at the luncheon of the Exchange Club yesterday at the Hotel Lincoln, by Dr. Samuel Moffet of the Presbyterian board of missions, who is on a speaking tour for the mission board of the Presby. terian church.

Dr. Moffet formerly was a resident of Indiana, and has recently returned to the United States on a year's leave of absence, after thirty-one years in missionary work in the Orient.

JAP MISSION IS TO VISIT AMERICA

Predict Several 'Gestures' to to Cement Friendship.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Japan is about to make a number of important "gestures" to strengthen the relations between that country and the United States, it was learned today.

The Mikado government is understood to be making these important moves to avoid the least possibility of a break in the present friendly relations between the United States and Japan and to emphasize the absolute importance to the peace of the world of maintaining the strongest friendship between the two countries.

One of the important steps to be taken soon by Japan to strengthen American-Japanese relations will be the sending of a Japanese congressional party to the United States.

There may be some significant pronouncement on the subject of American-Japanese relations while the mission is here.

There are probably no two countries in which "Jingoism" is more prevalent than in the United States and Japan. It is believed in responsible quarters here. Race antagonism also is said to have been fanned during the last several months to a dangerous point by these two issues existing between the United States and Japan.

America's protest against the inclusion of the island of Yap under a Japanese mandate.
