

BRANCH SENDS SIZZLING WORD TO PRESIDENT

Enters Protest to Appointment of E. I. Lewis to Commerce Job.

Lieutenant Governor Emmett Forest Branch of Martinsville has moved to line up with the peculiar political combination that has practically succeeded in placing E. I. Lewis, chairman of the Indiana public service commission, on the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington. He has sent a bitter telegram to President Harding, protesting in vigorous terms against the nomination of a man "who has never turned his head over for the party" and who "is a representative of the Indianapolis News, which fought us so bitterly."

The lieutenant governor's explosion has somewhat raised the nerves of the Republican politicians who have been proceeding placidly along the road of land-grabbing out here and there without thus far stirring up a fuss.

Lieutenant Governor Branch's message to the President is couched in the following terms: "See by newspapers that E. I. Lewis of Indiana is to be appointed a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. I believe in efficiency connected with public loyalty. Lewis has turned his back over for the party. Our success is due to recognition of worthy party workers. This is the doctrine of party workers in Indiana and as one of them, I protest against the selection of Lewis for such an important place when other Republicans of ability and party activity are available. Of course, my position is only that of Lieutenant Governor of Indiana and not one of the past experience (President Harding was once Lieutenant Governor of Ohio) what that means, but nevertheless reflect the sentiment of the rank and file of the Republican Indiana who Indiana do things in the State. Lewis is a representative of the Indianapolis News, which fought us bitterly."

Mr. Lewis is the selection of Senator Harry S. New, whose principal object is to strengthen his line for the expected battle for re-nomination against Albert J. Beveridge. Lewis has broken the ice, that Lewis never got down in the trenches and worked for the party and for political reasons few can see any great subject to be attained in his appointment.

It must be remembered, however, that Lewis was given his present place by former Governor James P. Goodrich and that his election for the Interstate Commerce Job is the first recognition accorded what formerly was a formidable machine in Indiana politics. It is not to be assumed that Lewis is not believed in being on friendly terms with Goodrich and that the appointment of Lewis may be one of the moves.

HARMONIE CLUB GIVES PROGRAM

Musical Illustration Accompanies Discussion.

As a finale to a series of delightful musicals the Harmonie Club gave a program from Verdi's "La Traviata" at the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York, with musical illustration by members of the club.

Miss Norma Mueller, contralto, opened the musical group with a nice presentation of "Buone Notte ma Figlia." The aria, "Ah Per Sempre," was expressively sung by Miss Mueller. Leonora, soprano, and Mrs. Mildred Berrett Pearson, soprano, gave a pleasing interpretation of "Addio, Addio." Miss Wright and Miss Jessie Barkley sang the duet "Sospeso L'Almo." In most delightful fashion, "Madre Madre" was sung with nice shading by Miss Louise Douglas. Mrs. Marie Allison Elliott's deep expressive contralto voice showed in an advertisement "Sole in Questa Terra." A record of Caruso's and Scotti's interpretation of "Sole in Questa Terra" closed the program. Mrs. S. K. Rutledge played the accompaniment, and incidentally, music in excellent fashion.

AUGUSTA VICTORIA LAID TO REST AMID IMPOSING SCENES

Approach to Former Imperial Splendor at Funeral of ex-German Empress.

POTSDAM, April 19.—Augusta Victoria, "empress of sorrow," was laid to her last rest here today in the Anteven Tempel, an antique mausoleum just off the Palace Sans Souci, built by the great King. The old Prussian King had named it so because it was the place where he forgot his cares and sorrows.

The funeral of the former Kaiserin was the most imposing event within the former German Empire since the days of the Hohenzollern reign.

The special train carrying the body arrived at Wild Park Station here promptly at 10:45 o'clock last night. At 9:35 o'clock this morning four pitch black horses, with black plumes waving from their heads, drew up in front of the mausoleum with the imperial hearse, which was decorated with four bunches of black plumes.

BRILLIANT MILITARY DISPLAY AT STATION.

A thousand German army and navy officers in dress uniform stood in military formation around Sans Souci palace. While others lined both sides of the avenue leading to the New Palace.

At 9:30 o'clock the former Crown Princess Cecile, accompanied by members of the former royal family and former court functionaries, arrived at Wild Park station.

Picked officers of the "Queen's Own" cuirassier and fusilier body guards (Augusta Victoria was Queen of Prussia) in addition to being German eunuchs acting as pallbearers, assisted by former court servants, removed the coffin from the funeral car.

In pomp and magnificence it lacked nothing of the old-time imperial display. At this cabling no untoward incident had occurred, though the atmosphere was tense, particularly in Berlin, where, according to telephone advice, the authorities are thoroughly prepared for any attempt by the extremists or conservatives to make the funeral of the former empress the occasion for a demonstration.

The pallbearers then carried the coffin through the black-draped rooms of the private station to the hearse. The absence of the imperial crown was noticeable in the decorations. Distinguished generals flanked and followed the hearse as it proceeded to the mausoleum.

To the extent of accompaniment of tolling church bells the cortege passed through a corridor of spectators organized by various patriotic societies.

Six hundred "green police" were detailed to line the route from Sans Souci to the mausoleum. Every spare room in garret or cellar in Potsdam was rented long in advance at fabulous prices. Bells in hotel lobby were rung from 8:00 to 8:30 p.m. while window seats along the line of the procession sold for as much as 2,000 marks. The old imperial coffins fluted at half-mast from nearly every building.

Reward of $5,000 Offered for Man Nabbed Here.

Police authorities in this city today are awaiting the arrival of an officer from Dallas, Texas, with papers to take Charles E. Gaines, alias Perry Schneider, 28, back to that city to answer the charges of robbery and possibly murder, which are said to be pending against him there. The suspect was arrested yesterday afternoon when he appeared at the general delivery window of the post-office to claim a letter sent him by his wife.

Gaines is alleged to have been a member of a gang of robbers who held up a postoffice at Dallas, Jan. 14. He admitted to detectives that he knew he was "wanted" for the hold-up, but claimed he did not take part in the robbery or shooting in the Dallas hold-up one man was killed and one wounded.

The authorities said by the Texas authorities that Gaines' wife lived at a Princeton, Ky., and that his mother lived at 1415 College avenue, Indianapolis. The letter for the hold-up was mailed at Greenville, Ky. nature to the document, nor by herself nor by Ed Jackson, Secretary of State, who affixed the seal of the State of Indiana on the papers, nor by Miss Jeanette Harris, executive clerk, who occupied a similar position under Governor Goodrich.

Miss Bush said the error had been rectified, and that the recommendation had been accepted, eliminating that portion which referred to a parole.

She said the matter would be called to Governor McCray's attention immediately on his return. Whether the Governor will rectify the error and order Bush's "parole" revoked, or whether he will let it go as a matter of mere technicality, The Governor declared emphatically when he was being pressed to release Bush that under no circumstances would he grant such a man his freedom.

FRANCIS EFFORTS TO FREE CONVICT.

Never in the history of Indiana has such a desperate effort been made to obtain executive clemency for a convict as was made in the case of Dennis Bush, confessed defrauder of the city, acknowledged race pool operator and convicted assassin of a State official.

The trail of the effort to free him from a penal farm sentence imposed about six years ago extends from Washington, D. C., through the city hall of Indianapolis and permeates the Statehouse. Throughout the administration of three Governors the effort has been prolonged. It originated in the Criminal Court of Marion County, became well known in the Supreme Court of Indiana, and was the subject of a dispute between the office of James P. Goodrich and Mayor Charles W. Jewett as to the authority of a note concerning a call made on Goodrich by Mayor Jewett in which Jewett is purported to have recommended the release of Bush.

Senator Harry S. New is among those who pleaded for the release of Bush. Practically every county official has at some time or another recommended clemency for Bush.

The State board of parole recently publicly announced that it had refused to curtail Bush's sentence, but had recommended that his fine be remitted.

VOTERS URGED TO REPUDIATE 'G. O. P. MACHINE'

force economy, not because I have no plan, but because I do not want to promise any single thing that I cannot do. I do not have the opportunity to determine just what city departments can best stand out.

"They tell me sometimes that I am too rough with the professor. I am not concerned with the feelings of any man when the welfare of an entire city is at stake. Professor Howe failed as a preacher some years ago. He resigned as president of Butler College because he was only getting $3,000 a year and the athletic director was getting something like $7,500. He thought the trustees would refuse his resignation and raise his pay, but they fooled him. They had appointed him the first place hoping for a large donation from his wealthy wife and it hadn't come through.

"So for more than a year the professor has been out of a job, dependent on his wife for help. He has no business concern of Indianapolis or elsewhere came forward with a job for him. His wife has extensive interests in Kokomo, Kansas City and elsewhere. He is not the directing head of any of these concerns. He isn't even secretary.

HOW HOWE ENTERED CAMPAIGN.

"Some of our friends seeing him out of work and sleeping late mornings while they were at business decided that he ought to go to work. Some one had a brilliant idea. 'Let's elect him mayor,' they said. 'He'll be a good mayor and what work there is we can do for him. It will give us a nice respectable mayor and we'll just what we want at the same time.'

"Next is that the way we want to hire a mayor? Wouldn't it be wiser to pick a man who had made a success of business and had had experience running the city. I want you to decide your attitude toward me by looking over my record as mayor and as a lifelong citizen of Indianapolis.

"Ed Robison says he is willing to spend more than the office of mayor pays to get it to order that his boy may always boast that papa was once mayor. Ed is no millionaire. His business career is chiefly notable for the number of failures he has been connected with. If you believe he has money to spend on such an ambition your logic deceive you.

"SPECIAL PRIVILEGE.

"Part of the old crowd of special privilege seekers are behind Howe and the rest are behind Robison. When the two are divided the righteous come into their deserts.

"We are going to win this election, and it is not going to be stolen from us. You may not like my record for that. Why up in the Fourth ward we have got more workers than we got votes the last time, and they had to steal to keep me out. Polls from all over the city indicate that this will be true.

Mr. Robison, speaking at five meetings in various parts of the city last night, carried his attack on the city hall or organization to large audiences. At the St. Mary's Church, 129 Shelby street, he charged that the organization was using coercion on city employees to force them to support the man the organization nominated for the nomination.

CAMPAIN ATTRACTS RECORD INTEREST.

"I have participated in political meetings for many years, but never did I see such much interest. A primary campaign as is being shown by the men and women voters Indianapolis," Mr. Robison said. "It means that they desire a housecleaning in the Republican party and they want to see a clean election.

"Why, the huge attendance at my meetings indicates that there will be scores of voters who want to repudiate the Republican machine's domination in primary elections and they know that by supporting me they will surely do it. The machine has dictated Republican politics long enough and it is high time that the voters declared themselves against such methods."

He has five meetings tonight, at the Metha Theater, Nineteenth street and Merrill avenue; the Dream Theater, 2337 Station street; 712 North Senate avenue; L. H. Hall, Park and Michigan streets and at Eleventh and Sansard streets.

Women in the Robison organization held a mass meeting yesterday afternoon at the Harmon Club. Mr. Robison, Dr. Amelia R. Keller and Mrs. Robison, wife of the candidate, were the speakers. The hall was almost filled by the women voters who are participating in their first primary.

"I am not here solely as a candidate, but as a citizen and a taxpayer interested in the city's welfare," Professor Howe told the employees of the Pennsylvania railroad shops in a speech at noon today.

"When I am elected mayor of Indianapolis I'll be mayor of Indianapolis," he declared. "I mean by that that I'll assume the full responsibility of managing the city government and I expect to give the best that is in me to keep the faith with the people of Indianapolis."

FINED $500 AND GIVEN 6 MONTHS.

Claude Bensley, 23, 1306 Broadway avenue, charged with failure to support his child, today was under a sentence of six months and a fine of $500, which was imposed here yesterday by Judge Frank Lehr of Juvenile Court. Judge Lehr stated that Bensley may be wanted by the Federal authorities on a serious charge. Bensley is being held in jail.

INMATE EVENS UP OLD SCORE

Victim of Alleged Frame-up Causes Arrest of 3 in Tiger Raid.

Three men were arrested last night charged with operating a blind tiger after Federal officers had raided a still in a barn at Dr. Don J. Miller's truck farm, 2943 South Meridian street. Dr. Miller was one of those arrested. The others are John Noon, 1319 Blaine avenue, and Victor Lockwood, 1321 Blaine avenue.

The plan to catch the gang dated back to the time Lee Graham was arrested at Martinsville in company with four other men some months ago on the charge of operating a blind tiger, after Federal agents had raided a big still near that city. The court found Graham guilty, but the agents failed to produce evidence that indicated the others were guilty. One of the men arrested but not convicted at that time was Victor Lockwood. It is said, Graham wanted revenge on Lockwood for the alleged frame-up that sent him to the Indiana State farm. The Federal officers gave him his chance for revenge and ten days ago obtained a parole for him from Governor Warren T. McCray, that Graham might find the still for the Federal officers. Graham obtained the information and then returned to the Indiana State farm, from which place the Federal officers are attempting to have the Governor pardon him.

In the raid on the barn at Dr. Miller's farm the Federal agents claim they found two forty-gallon stills and one fifteen-gallon still, 120 gallons of mash and eighty-four gallons of "white mud" whisky, and a filtering outfit which is said to improve the whisky. The barn was arranged in such a way that the odor of the liquor and mash could not escape, and it was fitted for living quarters, with kitchen and cooking outfit, beds and electric lights. Dr. Miller and Noon gave bond after their arrest. Lockwood is ill at his home with pneumonia and his condition was such that he could not be moved.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Notice was served today by Senator Penrose, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, that he will oppose all efforts to amend the tariff provisions of the emergency tariff bill.

Penrose termed as "impossible" proposed duties on eggs, poultry and other commodities not incorporated in the bill passed by the House.

Penrose's statement was made to a delegation representing the American poultry farmers which appeared before his committee to urge a protective tariff. The delegation accepted Penrose's suggestion that they seek such protection in the permanent tariff bill, which he said he hoped would be passed promptly.

WOUNDED AUTO THIEF SOUGHT

Man, Baked From Stealing Car, Shot by Detective.

Detectives today are searching for an automobile thief who is believed to have been struck by a bullet fired at him when he escaped from Detectives Hyman Ruzenski and Reuch last night. Marcus Cohen, 21, 209 South Noble street, is under arrest charged with vehicle taking. The thief, when chased, is said to have been Cohen's accomplice in an attempt to steal an automobile owned by John Krennen, 2014 South Audubon road.

The detectives had followed the two men in an automobile and when they reached Washington street and Highland avenue Cohen's companion is alleged to have left Cohen's car and to have entered Cohen's automobile. He saw the detective approaching and jumped out and ran, followed by a fusillade of bullets from the detectives' guns.

Keep Efficient by Keeping Well

This Letter Will Tell You How

"I suffered terribly every month, and was always tired and nervous, and had indigestion, and often could not do a thing. I was this way about two years, and had to stay home with my mother. I tried several medicines, then I found a book of yours, and mamma told me to try the Compound. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it certainly worked wonders with me. I have taken six bottles of it, and am still taking it when I feel the need of it. I have already recommended it to a number of working girls, who are taking it. I am working now, and stand up all day and feel fine. I am glad to say that Pinkham's medicine did a lot for me and for my mother, and we only wish we had taken it a long time before."—Rose Schoeff, 4876 Annunciation St., New Orleans, La.
