

CONSERVATION SERVICE HEAD ASKS ECONOMY

Cooperation of Citizens Declared Need in Preserving State's Resources.

LEIBER AT HUNTINGTON

Special to The Times.
HUNTINGTON, Ind., April 29.—Richard Lieber, director of conservation in Indiana, addressed two civic bodies in this city Thursday. At a noon luncheon at the Kiwanis Club he spoke of the work of the State department of conservation and the vital need of cooperation by all citizens in these days when the Nation is in a state of readjustment. In his evening address at the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Lieber took up the department's work in detail, and explained why all States of the Union are turning their attention to the conservation of natural resources.

"That which thinking men and women had realized before the year 1914, the war has made plain to us all, namely, that our extravagance and wastefulness are a liability to the Nation and render it unfit for international competition," declared Mr. Lieber.

NATURE BASIS OF NATION'S WEALTH

The address in part follows:
"The State of Indiana in creating a department of conservation has taken a great step in the direction of safeguarding the people that enjoyment and proper use of its natural resources, inclusive of fish and game. The act creating the department had for its object businesslike management of the people's interests, and concern in nature's gifts. Reduced to its primitive principles, the basis of wealth of a people consists in the relative fertility and productiveness of the soil, its habitability, water, air, soil, its richness in minerals and its fruitfulness determine the possibilities of national wealth, while cultivation and propagation and conservation are the forces at work which will guarantee the greatest possible return from nature's bounty."

Mr. Lieber said that under the old system, when politics predominated in many State offices, party interests often interfered with efficiency and some offices dealing in conservation work led a planless and disconnected existence. The new department of conservation removed from politics, functions differently, for it knows that the principle of conservation is not a simple subject which can be treated with reference to a single resource, independently of others; it is an interlocking one. It recognizes that nature's wealth is the foundation and mainstay of the State's prosperity and these riches must be treated comprehensively and in an entirely non-partisan, non-political and businesslike manner.

"Waste reduced and resources saved are the first, not the last object of conservation," said Mr. Lieber. "The material resources have an additional value when their preservation adds to the beauty and habitability of the land. Ours is a pleasant land in which to dwell. To increase its beauty and augment its fitness cannot but multiply our pleasure in it and strengthen the bonds of our attachment."

The speaker called attention to a recent article by E. M. East, Harvard University, of the possibility of our country caring for 300,000,000 people before all of our children have "ceased their struggle for existence, and of supporting

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It

In the year of 1892 I was attacked by Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted know for over three years. I tried every remedy known to me, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely and so such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number of people who were terribly afflicted, even bed-ridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case. I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it, and it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it. One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer, when I have thus offered you free. Don't delay. Write today.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinges of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and pain had been intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all sufferers to know that he has instructed the Haag Drug Company to guarantee it in every instance.—Advertisement.

BEST ROAD TO FRANKLIN SET

Masons Making Trip Are Told to Take Bargersville Route.

Members of the Masonic order in Indianapolis and vicinity who are planning to drive to Franklin next Sunday to attend the all-day basket dinner and consecration exercises of the Scottish Rite World War Memorial building at the Indiana Masonic Home are advised to use the South Meridian street route via Bargersville, in a statement issued by M. E. Noblet, secretary of the Hoosier Motor Club. Mr. Noblet also states that the Hoosier Motor Club has arranged to provide emergency service trucks along this route to take care of any cases of trouble that may develop in the cavalcade, this service to be free to all motorists, whether members of the Hoosier Motor Club or not.

"The better route to Franklin is by way of the South Meridian street road," said Mr. Noblet. "It will be necessary to go by way of Illinois street, however, since Meridian street is being resurfaced south of the Union Station. Starting on Illinois street south, following the street car tracks, the motorist will bend into Meridian street. All that is necessary then is to follow the car tracks and continue straight south. About twelve miles out there is a right and left jog. The road then continues straight into Bargersville, eighteen miles south of Indianapolis. A big sign on the roof of the corner store points the way to Franklin, six miles distant."

Mr. Noblet says the Jackson highway road by way of Madison avenue, Southport and Greentown is rough in the places where the hard surface paving has not been laid, and in addition there is a lot of detouring. "The Bargersville route is in fair condition," he said, "and our service representatives will have emergency trucks along this line which any motorist in trouble is invited to use, without charge."

Special tow-in and other emergency service is hereafter to be a regular feature of the Hoosier Motor Club, according to Mr. Noblet. "We have arranged with the Automotive Ambulance Service to provide this protection to our members at one-half the charges made to the general public," Mr. Noblet stated, "and announcements to this effect are now being sent out. We feel this will be an incentive for nonmembers to join our organization and assist in the work we are doing for the benefit of every one who drives an automobile."

LEAGUE FLARE-UP IS ECHOED HERE

Former Leader in Disabled Soldiers' Body Dropped.

Echoes of the flare-up within the ranks of the National Disabled Soldiers' League which resulted in the dropping of Sidney Marks, former vice chairman of the league, were recorded in a telegram to Charles A. York, Indiana secretary of the organization. The message came from George Gillin, national commander, who suspended Marks and then preferred charges against him.

This action led to Julius S. Berg, an active league member, taking up the cudgels against Gillin. Marks made sensational charges against the league which resulted in his expulsion. The message is as follows: "Charges of Sidney Marks retracted publicly in the New York Tribune, April 28. Marks, under investigation by the committee, has been voted out as a member of the league for accepting money from bed patients for settling compensation claims. We are now awaiting action for criminal indictment of liability of Marks and Berg. Dirty attack by American Legion, but we have beaten them to it here. Your position is to suppress the news. If impossible take action against responsible party for publication. You will have full support from national headquarters."

GAS OVERCOMES TWO ROOMERS

Italians Stagger From Fumes Filled Room.

Two men were overcome from gas in a rooming house at 42 North West street at 5 o'clock this morning. Tony Shiarrotta and Alphonso Zaituto, Italians, were taken to the city hospital and Zaituto's condition is serious. Mrs. Halie Justice, 42 North West street, who owns the rooming house, heard a noise in the hallway. She investigated and found the two men lying unconscious in the hall. She notified the police, and Motor-policemen Hudson and Landers sent the men to the hospital in an ambulance. A jet turned on about half way had filled the bedroom of the two men with gas. Shiarrotta revived after reaching the hospital and declared that the jet must have been left turned on accidentally. He was able to return to the rooming house in the police automobile.

First Putnam Co. Coal Goes to Greencastle

Special to The Times.
GREENCASLE, Ind., April 29.—The first Putnam County mined coal to come to Greencastle arrived here Thursday morning. It came from the wagon mine of the farm of Arthur Stone northwest of the city. Joseph Oliver and Claude Oliver are operating the mine. The first coal to arrive here from the mine consisted of three wagon loads. It is said to be an excellent quality of coal, which burns well and leaves fine ashes without clinkers.

The coal is under about six feet of earth and on a hillside. The vein is about three feet thick. The vein runs under the hill and as much as fifteen feet of earth covers it.

HOLD GUNMAN ON TWO COUNTS

Principal in Pistol Battle Faces Assault and Check Charges.

C. Davis Barnes, 20, alias George Brown of Worcester, Mass., today is held under a $5,000 bond on charges of issuing fraudulent checks and assault and battery with intent to kill. He was made a prisoner yesterday afternoon after a revolver battle with the police. Detectives stated that Barnes "went out" in Providence, R. I., Worcester, Mass., and Springfield, Mass., on charges of forgery and issuing fraudulent checks, and that he jumped a bond of $500 in Worcester. He told the police he was formerly a sporting reporter of the New York Times.

The assault and battery with intent to kill charge is placed against Barnes because one of the bullets fired at a special police officer clipped the button off of the coat of Frank Childers, 1556 Barth avenue, who happened to be passing in the street while the revolver battle was in progress, and before Barnes was caught in a rooming house conducted by Mrs. Kate Elliott, 219 East Ohio street.

Bedford Moose Home Raided; Liquor Found

Special to The Times.
BEDFORD, Ind., April 29.—The home of the Lord Order of Moose here was raided by Federal Agents Ora White and A. S. Thomas Thursday afternoon and fifteen six-gallon jars and twenty-nine cases of three dozen pints each of home brew were seized.

James T. Waggoner, said to have been in charge of the place at the time, was arrested and placed under $1,000 bond in city court. During the progress of the raid the agents were notified that Fred Freeman, proprietor of a soft drink parlor here, was hauling some liquor away from his business place in an automobile. He was arrested on a charge of conspiracy and violating the liquor laws. Charges were filed in the Circuit Court.

Holds 'Beef, Iron and Wine' Responsible

Two men, one of whom was found unconscious in East Court street at 2 o'clock this morning, and the other, who was found in the yard at 523 East Court street, were arrested on charges of drunkenness and are "elated" under the names of Robert Jones, 626 Stevens street, and Kenneth Cobb, 1015 East Morris street.

The police received a call to 1944 East Tenth street at 1:30 a. m. today, where William Giesendanner informed them that his housekeeper had been drinking. The police arrested Catherine Cowan, charging her with drunkenness. The police say she told them she had been drinking "beef, iron and wine."

Instruct Election Officers Sunday

The board of primary election commissioners will give instructions to all the election officers at the Criminal Court room Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The instructions will be given by Maurice E. Tennant, chairman of the board.

George O. Hutsell, city clerk, has made arrangements to swear in the inspectors tomorrow from 12 to 5 o'clock. Those not getting their supplies on Saturday will receive them at any time Monday until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Special arrangements have been made to accommodate inspectors who can not come in the hours designated.

Boy Accident Victim; Father Asks $10,000

Special to The Times.
SHELBYVILLE, Ind., April 29.—Damages of $10,000 are asked in a complaint filed Thursday in Shelby Circuit Court by Harbrace Pope against Herman Mohr, both of this county, as a result of the death, last September, of Gilbert B. Pope, 5 years old, son of the plaintiff, who died from injuries he received when struck by an automobile driven by the defendant. The plaintiff charges Mohr was driving at a high rate of speed and failed to give any warning to the boy who was crossing the road.

Interest Shown by Public in Better Homes Institute to Be Held Here.
