

GIBSON COUNTY OFFICIALS NOW FIGHT MOB RULE

Hand of State Causes Authorities to Act in Coal Field Uprising.

Special to The Times.
PRINCETON, Ind., June 14.—Spurred on to greater activity by Governor McCray, authorities of Gibson County are making every effort today to prevent further mob rule such as drove foreign labor from the Pike and Gibson County coal fields.

While a special grand jury probed the activities of one thousand miner vigilantes, Sheriff Flowers and two armed deputies to handle any situation that might arise from the continued presence here of foreigners ejected from Oakland City, Francisco, Petersburg and other neighboring mining towns.

W. E. Cox, superintendent of the Ayresville District Collieries Company, who was driven from his home for importing American union miners from southern Illinois, was known before the grand jury today. He says he can identify some of the 1,000 men who swept down on Francisco and sent the American miners scurrying out of town.

Adjutant General Harry B. Smith, commander of the Indiana National Guard, was coming here today to investigate the situation and report to Governor McCray. He was expected to emphasize further the point brought out by the Governor—that local officials must go the limit to permit free mine operations without interference from the secret organization.

Sheriff Flowers and two armed deputies went to the Buckskin mine late last night to protect George Hogan, night watchman, whose resignation the vigilantes demanded. Hogan was employed steadily and his mine worked only two days a week. When the sheriff and his deputies arrived there, they were informed that everything had been settled peacefully.

DECIDE UPON REROUTING OF ONE CITY LINE

turned south out of Washington street into Illinois street.

It was expected that the board of public works will issue the orders as recommended.

The men who made the recommendations have been studying street railway traffic conditions for several days. Gustav G. Schmidt, Jesse E. Miller and Louis W. Carney are the councilmen members of the board.

Dillon, T. Ryan, superintendent of the city legal department; D. E. Matthews, the public service commission, and James P. Trotter, superintendent, the Indianapolis street railway.

The recommendations are only the first of a number to be made as the committee deems them advisable. It specified in the present suggestions that the changes are "not to be considered as the complete work of your committee, but one that can be tried out at this time without disarrangement of traffic and as any or all may prove successful, further ones will be made."

OTHER SHIFTS ARE UNDER CONSIDERATION.
Shifts of other city lines on downtown streets are under consideration and further recommendations affecting city cars may be expected within the next few days.

The committee has worked with a map showing the average number of cars per minute operating in each block of the congested district during rush hours, prepared by the street railway company. The general idea toward which the investigators are working is the equalization of the number of cars in each block of those blocks from which cars will be removed if the recommendations are carried out there now are more than eighty cars per hour operating in one direction and at least half that number in the opposite way.

It will be necessary for the I. & C. Company to make slight changes in their car schedule so they will pass under the Union States reservation if the rerouting order is issued.

V. T. MALOTT, BANKER, DIES

and was elected a director of the Indianapolis Branch Bank of the State of Indiana and served as director until 1906.

RECEIVES CHARTER FOR BANK IN 1865.
He received from the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States in the spring of 1865, a charter for the Merchants National Bank, which he incorporated with Henry and August Schull, Alexander Metzger and David Macy, and opened the bank for business June 7, 1865, tendering his resignation as treasurer of the railroad, which was accepted by the Indianapolis, Peru & Chicago Railroad Company.

His resignation was not accepted, however, and he continued to be actively engaged in railroad and banking work.

In 1870 the strenuous work Mr. Malott had been called upon to perform so affected his health that he found it necessary to retire from the bank, and he was asked to build an extension of the Indianapolis, Peru & Chicago Railroad to Michigan City, which was completed in the spring of 1871. Later he became vice president and manager of the road and held that office until 1882, the Indianapolis, Peru & Chicago having meantime gone into the control of the Washburn Railroad Company in 1881. In 1883 he resigned to become vice president and manager of the Indianapolis Union Railway Company. In 1889 he was appointed by Judge Walter G. Gresham of the United States District Court, receiver of the Chicago & Atlantic Railway company, now the Chicago & Erie, and in 1890 he was elected president of the Chicago & Western Indiana Railway Company. He served also in other prominent positions on various railroads.

BANKING PRESIDENT.
Mr. Malott, in 1870, was elected president of the Merchants National Bank of Indianapolis, serving until 1882, when he sold his interest, having purchased an interest in the Indiana National Bank of Indianapolis, of which he was elected president, a position he filled until July 1912, when the Capital National Bank and the Indiana National Bank were consolidated and he became chairman of the board of the Indiana National Bank, in which position he continued to serve continuously.

In 1893 he, with John H. Holliday, organized the Union Trust Company of Indianapolis and became and continued to be a director and a member of the executive committee.

In 1892 Mr. Malott was married to Caroline M. Macy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Macy of this city, following which he leaves his widow and ten children. Mrs. Woodbury T. Morris; Macy W. Malott, vice president of the Indiana National Bank; Mrs. Edward H. Ferry; Mrs. Arthur V. Brown; Mrs. Edgar H. Evans and Mrs. Paul H. White all of Indianapolis.

The Indianapolis Clearing House Association held memorial services in honor of Mr. Malott this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Galbraith in Last Message Honors Flag

Statement, Issued Shortly Before Death, Calls for Today's Observance.

One of the last acts of Frederick W. Galbraith, Jr., former national commander of the American Legion, who was killed here Thursday in an automobile accident, was to call on the people of the United States to join in public observance of Flag day which is being celebrated today.

The statement was issued shortly before Mr. Galbraith's death, and is as follows:

"Flags are like people, they are full of personality, endowed with characteristics, traditions, ideals—and faults.

"These qualities flags borrow from the nations they represent, the people over whom they wave. If a nation is a brave and noble, striving to make the Golden Rule International, as well as an individual tenet, then is the flag of that nation a glorious emblem and a symbol of right and truth. But if the nation is a mean, a zealous and an untrustworthy group, then its flag is only a bit of colored cloth.

"But it is the flag worthy of such reverence. Only, indeed, if those who revere it have a group conscience and a group aspiration to be honorable and just.

"Our flag was born when the Nation was young. It has been the first flag of its starry folds brought whitherings of troubled events, violence and bloodshed. But our flag lived on to see the Nation live and grow and prosper. It has been the wind today is worthy of our reverence because we of this Nation have striven and always must strive to keep our ideals alive. Today we will pledge our lives for the flag, and the flag for the purpose to serve it. Our pledge, made today and acted every day, will keep the Stars and Stripes glorious."

JOHN G. EMERY HEADS LEGION

commander could not vote, made thirty-eight votes, under a rule passed at a previous session of the committee, that proxies would not be accepted. This rule, however, because of the short notice, was suspended and the proxies received.

EMERY ONLY ONE TO BE NOMINATED.
The name of Mr. Emery was the only one placed in nomination for the office of commander. He was nominated by J. G. Scrugham, vice commander, Carson City, Nev., and the nomination was seconded by Vice Commanders Claude G. Pender, Racine, Wis., and E. Jackson Winstet, Birmingham, Ala., the latter noting that Mr. Emery had been elected by acclamation. Mr. Winstet's motion was adopted unanimously.

Mr. Emery was handed the gavel by Past Commander D'Olier, who, in turning over the office to the new commander, declared there was no question but that he has the solid support of every officer and man in the organization.

"If I ever in my life wanted to have any one pray for me, it is now," said Commander Emery, as he took office. "I realize the great responsibility placed on me, and my greatest wish is to prove worthy of the confidence that has been placed in me."

Splendid tribute to the memory, courage and zealous work of Commander Galbraith to the cause of the legion is embodied in the resolution offered by John R. McQuigg, Cleveland, Ohio, department commander, which was adopted unanimously, by rising vote.

EMERY IN PRAYERFUL SILENCE FOR MINUTE.
The resolution is as follows:

"This meeting of the national executive committee of the American Legion finds the chair of the commander vacant. The soldier and the man is gone, but his memory lives in the hearts of his comrades and his enterprise for comrades and for country, to practice his ideals and to translate them into fruitful action.

"We, the members of the American Legion, in recognition of his leadership and in reverence for his memory, we write this feeble record out of the abundance of our love and our devotion to him, and we respect his life and service and that his loved ones may understand that he was also near and dear to us.

"We, the members of the American Legion, in recognition of his leadership and in reverence for his memory, we write this feeble record out of the abundance of our love and our devotion to him, and we respect his life and service and that his loved ones may understand that he was also near and dear to us.

"I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution, that we stand in prayerful silence for the period of one minute."

So ordered by chair.

PLEDGED FAITHFUL ON LEGION WORK.
The national committee pledged itself to carry on the work instituted by Mr. Galbraith, in adopting a resolution of condolence for the death of the late commander.

"Resolved, that it be the sense of this meeting of the national committee, that there is a necessary authority to carry to completion the several parts of the program undertaken by the first national commander, F. W. Galbraith, Jr., and that it is the expressed desire of the national executive committee that this be carried out to the letter."

The resolution expressing sympathy for Mr. Foreman and Mr. Ryan was submitted by William G. Sethur, Chicago, adjutant of the department of Illinois.

The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, William G. Foreman and Henry J. Ryan were each injured in the fatal accident in which our beloved commander met his death, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the National Executive Committee extend its heartfelt sympathy to our friends and comrades, Mr. Foreman and Mr. Ryan, and our hope for their early recovery, and be it

"Resolved, that a committee be appointed to prepare the official report of the meeting of the committee, and that it be the sense of this meeting that the report be presented to the members of the committee, who had expected at least two names to be offered. However, for a short time prior to the opening of the meeting, the prevailing opinion was that Mr. Emery would be the next commander."

The meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock, to accept an invitation extended by the Indianapolis Rotary Club to have luncheon at the Clappold Hotel. The work of the legion was commended by Commander Emery.

The session was to be resumed this afternoon, when action was to be taken on the adjusted compensation bill resolution, and the question of financing the body of an unidentified soldier in a crypt in the National Capitol building at Washington, D. C.

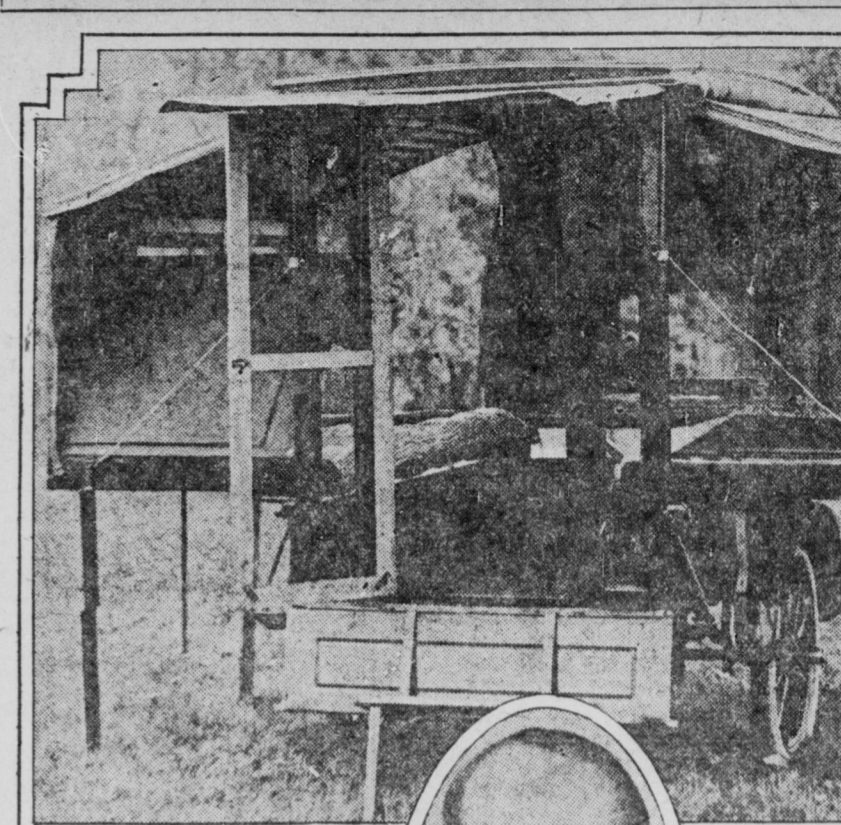

Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian of the United States and the man who selected the estate of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, millionaire slacker, is a member of the national committee, and took a prominent part in its deliberations.

PRAYER OPENS THE SESSION.
Prayer for the soul of Commander Galbraith opened the meeting.

The Right Rev. Joseph M. Francis offered petition for Divine rest of the former legion chief and asked that "He guide us in the selection of one worthy to catch the falling torch."

Committees were present from nearly forty state departments of the Legion. Following the invocation, Franklin D'Olier, past national commander presiding, entertained resolutions commemorating the achievements of Commander Galbraith.

MODERN DANIEL BOONE LEADS

William D. Scott, leader of colonists going West, and caravan trail.

"Go West," the slogan of William D. Scott of Brooklyn, N. Y., and he will follow this motto on July 15 by leading a contingent of 128 families who have banded to form a colony in the Twin Falls section of Idaho.

The modern Daniel Boone conceived the idea of a caravan expedition after a conference with W. E. Meredith, Secretary of the Interior under the Wilson Administration.

Each family will travel in its own motor car, behind which will be a trailer containing a collapsible bungalow that will be set up each night during the trip, which will cover a period of three weeks.

Governor Davis will meet the party at Stevens on the burglary indictment, that Judge Collins had failed to make his record in the unlawful possession case to read that this bond was lowered.

So in the absence of Judge Collins, who was then on his vacation, the accommodating Charles Adams, former prosecutor, informed a judge pro tem, that he was sure it was the intentions of Judge Collins that he had conferred with him on the charge Stevens was released on his own recognizance. It accompanied the cash bond and the result was that he did not appear for trial. Stevens was recently returned from Carlinville, Ill., by the detectives.

The Shelby County Circuit Court has also forfeited a $10,000 cash bond which was tendered there about the time that Stevens was released from jail here.

Both indictments stand against Arthur Welling, who escaped from jail on the morning of July 4 and has not been captured.

Stevens and Welling were arrested when explosives and an alleged safe-cracking kit was found at the Hotel Severin, where they were staying.

G. O. P. LEADERS NOW LOOK FOR PEACE TREATY

Say Discarded Versailles Pact May Have to Be Pieced Together.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—A treaty of peace between the United States and Germany must and will follow the enactment of a peace resolution, Republican House leaders who have recently conferred with President Harding said today.

Such action is necessary, they said, to settle disputed questions that will arise between the two nations after the final peace treaty is signed.

After waiting a short time, Judge Collins called Roach to the bench and held a short conversation with him.

Then Roach left the courtroom and later appeared in the corridors with John C. Hunt No. 50888, charging Stevens with the alleged robbery of a gasoline filling station.

The two entered the office of the prosecutor.

Shortly afterward, Judge Collins walked into the prosecutor's office and asked the prosecutor to sign a writ of habeas corpus for Stevens.

Worley to have the sheriff bring Stevens over so he could enter his plea.

ROACH HAD TAKEN OUT INDICTMENT.
When the judge appeared to be released in weight and rather untidy in his appearance, came into court, he shook hands with his attorneys.

Then the attaches could not locate the indictment No. 50888, charging Stevens with the alleged robbery of a gasoline filling station.

Arthur Welling of unlawful possession of explosives. Worley was dispatched to the office of a deputy prosecutor, who had prepared a writ of habeas corpus for Stevens.

Later Worley reported that the indictment No. 50888, the one charging burglary and grand larceny, was found, but No. 50888 was missing.

"Your Honor, I have that indictment in my office. I took it out."

"Of course you recaptured for it," said Judge Collins.

"Yes, Your Honor," replied Roach.

Mr. Worley, as soon as we get through here, you go to Mr. Roach's office and get the indictment," said the judge.

STEVENS WITHOUT THE INDICTMENT.
The court then sentenced Stevens without the indictment, under which he had pleaded guilty, being in the courtroom.

Then the attaches could not locate the indictment No. 50888, charging Stevens with the alleged robbery of a gasoline filling station.

German Peace Spells War in G. O. P. Ranks

House Insists Its Resolution Better One, and So Does Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—How to make peace with Germany and not at the same time start war in Republican ranks here at home was the task confronting Senate G. O. P. leaders today.

They were inclined to retaliate against the House which yesterday passed the Porter plan, a substitute for the Senate Knox measure by refusing to accept the Porter plan, and insisting on their own. That course, however, threatened indefinite delay in restoration of the nation here and there.

Senator Lodge made it clear that the Senate has no intention of giving in to the House without a struggle.

"We will have something to say about the content of this resolution, but it must be sure," was the only comment Lodge would make. He told inquiring Senators, however, that he favored substituting the Knox resolution for Porter's.

Senator J. Brady, supervisor of the city record of New York, has admitted after persistent questioning by T. H. Vind, of Chicago, secretary of the labor bureau of the American commission for Irish independence, that he had conferred with Harry Boland in New York before coming to Denver, and that a set of resolutions which he himself had drafted was based on those drafted by Boland.

Vind then read copies of Boland's resolutions. He demanded to know by what right Brady had modified Boland's resolutions. Brady said he could explain in committee, and pleaded with Vind not to insist on his explanation in public.

Brady's resolution provides that, instead of appointment of a labor committee, the two fraternal delegates to be elected by the Federation to the British Legion perform the functions of a committee for the land's resolution. He made no mention of a boycott in his resolution, but added the provisions that members of the English government and the officers of its army accused of war crimes shall be placed on trial for murder. Just as Germans are being tried for atrocities committed during the war.

Brady, though known as a Gompers supporter, made clear that whatever Irish resolutions were introduced, they would provide for instructions for action by the federation.

The Irish delegates are openly charging Gompers with being pro-British and imposing pro-British policies on the executive council of the federation. Many stated today that "Gompers will not stand for resolutions going so far as Boland's."

WOULD MAKE PENALTY DEATH.
NEW YORK, June 14.—The death penalty for all convicted kidnappers throughout the United States was urged today by Frederick J. Sullivan, assistant district attorney in an exclusive interview.

"The stealing of children with the subsequent anguish to their parents is as heinous a crime as can be conceived," declared Sullivan, who is investigating the kidnapping and crowning of 5-year-old Giuseppe Varotta.

"Kidnapers should pay for the suffering they cause with their lives regardless of whether they have harmed their little victims or not."

The extreme penalty for kidnapping is only thirty years, and Sullivan is seeking an amendment to the criminal code against five Sicilian "black hand" gangsters in connection with the Varotta case. They are held in $100,000 bail each.

NOT TO KNOW IS NO EXCUSE.
To Know How to Keep Well Is Better Than to Call in a Doctor to Get Well. Sickness Is a Penalty Not an Accident.

One of the best and most dependable and important preventatives of getting sick, one of the surest ways of keeping well is to keep and maintain the exceedingly good habit of regular, thorough, daily bowel evacuation.

That is Nature's "best bet." You should do your best to help Nature, not hinder her in her efforts to keep you well. With the best of good intentions, you may employ many methods. Strong, drastic acting machines that force the bowels to act simply replace one evil by another evil. It may secure temporary action but it produces more than temporary irritation and other bad effects. Don't judge by promise in selecting a simple remedy to assist Nature. Performance is the test. Take Beecham's for example.

Over 70 years ago people began to take Beecham's. Today millions of people all over the world take Beecham's, recommend Beecham's to their friends, hand the use of Beecham's down from father to son, from mother to daughter for generation after generation. That means much. You never hear any unfavorable criticism or complaint regarding Beecham's. That means much if not more. It takes real merit to withstand the tests of time and trial. You can do much to help Nature keep you well by keeping a box of Beecham's in the house, ready for use at the first warning of disorder or derangement. All druggists sell Beecham's—are glad to sell Beecham's.

BETTER PAY IT.
Tomorrow is the last day on which current installments of income taxes may be paid without delinquency. All day long the office of Mr. Burt Thurman, collector of internal revenue, has been crowded with a line of taxpayers. In fact during the rush hours the crowd was almost as great as it was in March during the last hours for the filing of 1929 returns.

Although no figures are available officials of the department say they believe the amount of money taken in is slightly in excess of the estimates made several weeks ago.

BLIND TIGER COST THEM $100 EACH.
Tony Hughes, 425 Muskingum street, and Columbus Williams, 411 Muskingum street, negroes, were each fined $100 and costs and were sentenced to serve thirty days on the Indiana State Farm by Judge Walter Pritchard in city court today. They were arrested May 2 and charged with operating a blind tiger.

DECKER GOES TO PRISON FOR LIFE

Reiterates No One Else Is Involved.

Special to The Times.
WARSAW, Ind., June 14.—Virgil Decker, 18 years old farmer boy, was taken to the State prison at Michigan City today to serve a sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of his chum, Leroy Lovett.

Judge Royce sentenced him late yesterday after he had rejected a motion of his attorneys for a new trial. Asked what he had to say when sentence was pronounced, Virgil declared:

"I take the sentence and will be glad to fulfill it. I want to say again that nobody else had anything to do with it."

COLORADO TOWN ASKS FLOOD AID

Appeal Says Streams Threaten Destruction.

DENVER, Colo., June 14.—An appeal for aid reached Governor Shoup's office here today from Lake City, Colo., where flood waters from swollen streams are threatening the city's destruction. Only meager information was contained in the appeal to the Governor, it being stated, however, that many bridges and highways had been washed out and help from the State highway department would be necessary before communication with the outside world could be reestablished.

Lake City is in Hinsdale County in the southwestern part of Colorado.

MARINE WORKERS RETURN TO SHIPS

Striking Seamen to Settle Affairs, Says Davis.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Striking marine engineers today were returning to their ships in every American port, manning 13,000,000 tons of ships operated by the United States Shipping Board, according to messages to the Labor Department.

Engineers are already returning in Atlantic ports and all expected to be back by tomorrow, these messages say.

Secretary of Labor Davis today went to confer with officials of the striking seamen who are expected to settle within a few hours, completely terminating the biggest tie-up from strikes in the history of the American merchant marine.
