GOVERNMENT VICTOR IN U. S. COURT FIGHT

Validity of Indictments in Leak Case Upheld by Justice Siddons.

FOUR MEN FACE TRIAL

WASHINGTON, June 17. — The government won a notable victory today in its long fight to protect the inviolability of the United Sates Supreme Court decisions.

The decisions of the Nation's highest tribunal, embracing as they do the "great issues of life, liberty and property" are of vital concern to the welfare of the Nation and they must not be dragged into the mire of stock market speculation through connivance and conspiracy, according to a decision handed down today by Justice Siddons, in the District Supreme Court.

The decision of the court was rendered in dismissing the demurrers that had been filed to the indictments of Ashton F. Embry, former private secretary to Associate Justice McKenna and his three associates, E. Milard Mayer, J. Harwood Graves and B. E. Moses. They were indicted for surreptitiously obtaining advance information on important decisions and using the information thus obtained in stock market speculation.

Their activities were first disclosed by an expose of their system by Marlen E. Pew, editor and general manager of the International News Service, after weeks of investigation. On information furnished by Mr. Pew, the Government indicted them for conspiracy to defraud the Government, and Justice Siddons' decision today upheld the validity of that indictment. The decision assures that the four men will have to stand trial on the indictments.

SHANK FLAYED BY DEMOCRATS IN PLATFORM

any independent movement impossible if it were desirable. But an independent movement is neither essential nor desirable. The most important places on the ticket which voters will find under the Republican emblem can evoke no pride in good Republican citizens nor command their allegiance. The ticket is not representative of the party. The issue is the welfare of the industry, of the business, of the homes, of all of the decent concerns of the people of the city.

'Mr. Shank was once, at a time easily within the memory of its people, elected mayor of the city. He was a failure in all of the essentials of the office. All of the particulars of that failure cannot be reviewed in this appeal. They will become fresh in the minds of the people before election day. But a primary duty of the city government and of the mayor charged with executing it is the duty of checking and supressing vice and crime, maintaining order, preserving peace and protecting persons and property as the laws have provided. Under Mr. Shank's administration, encouraged either by his sympathy or weakness, vice and crime were prevalent, gambling was protected and flourished and finally public order was overthrown by riot, mob rule and violence which menaced the lives of the people of the city and their property. At such a crisis Mr. Shank himself, by his orders, prevented the police forces from performing its high duty under the law to preserve order and protect persons and property. So menacing did conditions become and so out of control did they grow that Mr. Shank resigned from his office with an acknowledgement that he was not competent to deal with the situation which his weakness had largely created. With him again mayor can industries and business now with us look with hope upon the future in their effort to survive and revive from the present difficult conditions? With him again mayor can we hope that new industries, now looking to our city as a favorable location, will come? Can wage earners hope for work and wages with confidence from timid and unprotected employers without the protection of the law? With gambling and vice promoters, and with bootleggers among his chief supporters and contributors to his campaign fund can the people hope from him a moral and orderly government? By his official acts and personal conduct he brought to the city a certain noteriety that no good citizen took pride in.

SHANK FUTURE GOVERNED BY PAST THEY SAY.

"The people of Indianapolis cannot expect better from Mr. Shank in the future than in the past—but worse—for he is now in alliance with, and supported by, the conscienceless, tax extortionate and utterly wasteful crew now in charge of the government of Marion County. It is not possible now to detail the misgovernment of the Shank-Tutewiler board of county commissioners. Its maladministration in many particulars is fresh in the minds of the people. But it is fair to point to the latest lawless exploit of the Shank-Tutewiler-Fesler combination in wantonly, and utterly without authority of law, destroying a governmental unit of the county—Pike Township—that they might bring the schools of the county within the malign power of their organization. This action is in perfect harmony with Candidate Shank's action, when he was mayor, of making the law secondary and subservient to riot and mob rule. Are the people of the city ready to turn their city government over to such authority?

"While the real and vital issues presented in the coming election are as above stated it is a matter of deep concern that during the past four years the cost of government in Indianapolis has grown at an appalling rate and the burdens of taxation and of special assessments upon the owners of property have increased to the limit in the matter of the power of taxpayers to pay the cost of the government. And with this tremendous increase of cost and consequent increase in the volume of taxes imposed and collected there has been no better government, but worse. And while we realize that a rapidly growing city increasingly enlarges governmental burdens, yet we assert that taxes are too high. There is now and has been much waste—far too much waste. Particularly, in view of the unsettled financial, business and industrial conditions now existing, we believe that a determined halt should be called and enforced in the matter of extravagance and waste in taxation and expenditure and new indebtedness not essential to the welfare of the city.

"Those governmental instrumentalities created for the peace, safety and well being of the people of the city and their property, the police and fire departments, while fully equipped and manned have failed in a large measure to answer the purposes of their creation and organization and to justify by their service to the people, the enormous sums of the people's tax money devoted to them.

SAY BAD STREETS EXAMPLE OF INEFFICIENCY.

"Our improved streets have been neglected of repair when repairs would have saved them for longer service and great waste has been so caused and vast damage to the vehicles of citizens using them.

"The streets of our city should be kept in good repair and under no circumstances be allowed to get in a condition that makes it dangerous to use them. Repairs should be expeditiously made as a matter of economy. Business sense applied to street maintenance will save many thousands of dollars and add greatly to the enjoyment and safety of the people. This will be our policy, if the people of Indianapolis call us to administer their city affairs.

"Under no condition should demoralization and inefficiency be allowed to prevail in the city's police and fire departments. The former should be so efficient and so determined in law-enforcement that thieves and burglars and criminals generally would come to know that they could not engage in their infamous business without having justice swiftly administered to them. The fire department protects both life and property. If it is not equipped and qualified to discharge its duty, Indianapolis will suffer in its reputation as a desirable place to live and an increase in her insurance rates most certainly will follow.

"Public service corporations have been created and exist to provide necessary service to the community. They should be compelled adequately to fulfill the purposes of their creation and in turn they should be fairly and not unduly compensated for the service they render.

POINT OUT PAST DEMOCRATIC RECORD.

"Republicans who in common with us love our city need have no fear of electing a Democratic city administration, as some assurance of the fulfillment of our promise to serve the city well we assert that:

"It was a Democratic mayor, and his administration, who, with the sure vision of the great growth of the city and of its needs, acquired Riverside and other parks at a low cost and laid the foundation for the growth and development of the splendid park and boulevard system which the city now enjoys. Practically all of the boulevards of the city, Fall Creek, Maple Road and Pleasant Run boulevards, together with the boulevard on the flood levee and the Burdsal entrance to Riverside Park were built under Democratic administrations.

"It was a Democratic administration that provided for the beautiful and widely renowned gardens in Garfield Park.

"It was a Democratic administration that saved the city many thousands of dollars that Shank's administration had arranged to spend in constructing Pogue's Run Drain and itself accomplished the work at a great saving and so abolished the unsightly and unsanitary Pogue's Run from New York street to White River.

"It was a Democratic administration that many years ago started the movement for the elimination of the deadly grade crossings and it was a Democratic administration that worked out the final plan for track elevation which provided for the elevation of the steam railroad tracks and preserved the city streets at their natural level.

PLEDGE ECONOMICAL ADMINISTRATION.

"It was a Democratic administration that promotly constructed the great flood levee along White River for the protection of the western part of the city from disastrous floods.

"It was a Democratic administration that provided for an adequate re-lighting of the city at a greatly reduced cost of electric lights.

"It was under a Democratic administration that the people of the city were given cheaper gas, the price being reduced from 90 cents to 60 cents a thousand feet. The rate has lately been reversed we believe unjustly and indefensibly.

"In conclusion we again appeal to the people of the city of Indianapolis for their support of our candidates at the coming city election, and we pledge for them that if the affairs of the city are placed in their hands, that they will economically manage the city's business; maintain law and order, to the end that both life and property may at all times be protected, and most earnestly will endeavor to make Indianapolis known as a clean, moral and well managed city."

BODIES OF AMERICAN DEAD BEING SENT HOME

This photo was taken recently by an American woman as four canal boats or "trailers," taking home the remains of the American heroes killed in the defense of Verdun, were approaching Antwerp. Burgomasters and local authorities along the route joined with each other in paying tribute to the American dead. School children escorted them on each side of the canal and wreaths were placed on the coffins on the barges as they passed.
