

ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION TO MAKE SURVEY

Inquiry Into Educational Facilities in Indiana at No Cost to State.

The general education board of the John D. Rockefeller foundation will conduct the educational survey in Indiana in compliance with the provisions of a resolution adopted by the last Legislature, the survey commission announced yesterday.

The survey, which will cost about $50,000, will be financed entirely by the Rockefeller foundation, it was announced. Work will be started next September.

The news that the Rockefeller foundation not only would make the survey, but was eager to do so in order to add to its educational data, was brought to the commission by Charles M. Curry of Terre Haute, chairman, and J. A. Van Osdol of Anderson, a member of the commission. The Rockefeller organization has conducted similar surveys in other States.

The offer of the Rockefeller organization to do the work relieves the survey commission of its principal problem, that of financing the survey. The commission has only $10,000 at its disposal and it was believed that the work could not be done for that amount.

In addition, the survey resolution of the Legislature set out the following duties of the commission:

"To investigate the entire educational system of the State with a view to standardizing, unifying and correlating the various policies and agencies of such systems in order that they may be in harmony with the educational requirements of the State."

"To suggest to the next General Assembly such revision of the school laws as may be necessary and to prepare drafts of proposed acts where changes are recommended."

"To investigate inequalities in the educational advantages of children in the various sections of the State."

"To investigate the comparative needs and expenditures for elementary and higher education."

"To investigate the present and future need of Purdue University, Indiana University and the State normal schools, in order that they may meet the necessary educational requirements of the State."

"To investigate and determine the cost per student of those attending the schools of the State, including primary, secondary and other educational institutions of learning, and to recommend, if necessary, such methods and procedure as will eliminate extravagance and needless expenditure of money."

"To prepare and submit to the next general assembly a statement showing in detail the various sources of revenue of Indiana University, Purdue University and Indiana State Normal school, together with a detailed statement of the expenditures of such funds."

SAV MAN'S CHECK IS WORTHLESS

Horsethief Detective Members Cite Case to Police.

Willard Troutman, 33, of 42 South Rural street, is under arrest on a vagrancy charge and is held under a high bond. Detective members of the Horsethief Detective Association, who claimed he attempted to cash a worthless check, they said he found a bottle of "white mule" whisky in his pocket.

Troutman said he purchased the liquor from a man in West Morris street, but when taken to Orlin's bar he admitted he never purchased liquor from him and gave the police the name of another man. Orlin said he knew Troutman an dthat he indorsed a $14 check for him and that he had been notified by the bank that Troutman's check was worthless. George L. Turner, 1401 Kenkay avenue, said that Troutman attempted to cash a check at his place but that he refused to give him the money.

A large cattle truck, owned by Walter Pile, Marietta, ran into an open ditch and turned over. It was necessary to release the livestock in the truck and a valuable cow became free and ran away. It has not been found. Mr. Pile experienced a similar accident last week on the road between here and Indianapolis.

A cow, valued at $100, owned by Mrs. W. C. Russell, was killed when it was hit by an automobile. The machine was badly damaged but none of the occupants was injured.

The delivery truck owned by Fleming Bros, a local grocery firm, was damaged beyond repair when it was struck by an automobile owned by C. J. Howard. The two machines met at a street intersection when both were being driven at a rapid rate.

The Indianapolis public library will show for the next two weeks in the delivery room another "made-in-Indianapolis" product—musical instruments made by the Leedy Manufacturing Company. These instruments, including the kettle drums, xylophone, harpsichore, chimes, tympani and orchestral bells, are distributed to all over the world. The largest drums, in the world, now being made for Purdue University by the Leedy Manufacturing Company, will be shown at the central library some time in August.

Test New Lubricant With Oil Drained Cars

Two standard cars travelled eighteen and seven-tenths miles over Indianapolis streets yesterday, with all the oil drained from their crank cases and were perfectly conditioned at the end of the trip. Chester A. Rieker, technical representative of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, was in charge of the trip, spoke in laudatory terms of the performance.

The lubricant which made the test possible is Oildag, made up of filtered paraffin base oil and deflocculated, or synthetic molecular graphite. The run was made in the early morning, by Samuel Munson, service manager of the Petroleum Service, Inc. and was witnessed by about forty people. The technical explanation of the apparently impossible feat is that the molecular graphite, carried into the cylinders and bearing surfaces of the motor, forms an amalgamation with the surfaces of the metals, and the metal surfaces thus become self-lubricating.

ADDITIONS TO POOR FARM ARE RECOMMENDED

there a sitting room in the entire building. When an inmate sits in her own room it is quite impossible for her to see out of the window of the room, as the window is set in the wall, now set. Your grand juries make the following suggestions and recommendations:

"That a wing be built at the front of the present women's building, with an additional room, a sitting room, a sick ward, and the upper part of said building may be used as a dormitory, as additional rooms are needed for the inmates. The wings will be built on the same floor as the main building, and the height should be lowered at least eighteen inches to permit ventilation, and so that inmates may see out."

By continuing the national agreement indefinitely in such cases, it was pointed out, the railway board could lend its assistance, taking up each case separately, in helping the various railway companies and their employees to reach amicable terms. Labor leaders interpreted this action as an adroit move to reach the rank of railway workers.

JOINT MEETING HELD TOMORROW.

Just what the new decision would have upon tomorrow's joint meeting of railway labor chieftains was problematical, and unless there was some hitch in the appointment of Taff, and unless there is some hitch to be made, it is expected that the new session will be held.

"We further suggest that the live stock and farm equipment be sold and the chickens now being raised have been breed so long that they are of a very low quality and cannot be fed with any economy."

The juries report on Julietta was as follows:

"On June 9, we the Grand Juries, visited the Marion County Insane Asylum, and the report we made were very favorably impressed with conditions existing there. The wards and buildings are kept in an up-to-date and sanitary manner, and every department of the institution appeared to be properly attended to."

The crowded condition of the institution was very apparent, as there were many patients in the wards and in the parlors of the women's department, which is entirely too crowded unless the patients are classified so that the sick can be removed. As the institution is too crowded to separate the sick from the well, and the young from the old, and the quiet from the vicious, wings should be built to accommodate the wings of the institution.

"There is not at the present time any department for the sick, and they must be sent to their relatives or to some one who can care for them. We are anxious to have the wings built in a small room where another inmate was dying because of the condition above referred to."

The grand juries were especially impressed with the cleanliness of the insane institution, and with the condition of the buildings, and wish to suggest and recommend that the condition to the front of said building both along the east and west end, to accommodate more patients, and to provide sufficient space, so that the wings and the young and the old may be separated, and placed in such wards or departments where they can receive better care than the officers of the institution can give to them.

The Labor Board ruled that the general office clerks do not constitute a separate craft or class from other clerical and station service workers and ruled that they come under the agreement of the Brotherhood of Clerks.

UNEMPLOYMENT BEING REDUCED

South Bend Territory Reports Nearly Normal Conditions.

Special to The Times. SOUTHLAND, Ind., June 29.—A slight reduction in unemployment is evident here, this district a little more than holding its own industrially. The Studebaker plant continues to work at capacity with 7,000 men and women employed. The Oliver Chilled Plow works is still almost entirely shut down, but there is possibility it may resume at least on a part time basis, by July 5. The Singing Manufacturing company is operating at 60 per cent capacity. Mishawaka plants are holding up.

At Elkhart the band instrument factories are busy, but the New York Central shops, biggest on the system between Chicago and Cleveland, have been closed for months, with a great deal of repair work on locomotives accumulating.

RAILWAY LABOR CHIEFS GET NEW PROBLEM TODAY

U. S. Board Eliminates Overtime Pay at Present Rate of Time and a Half.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Railway labor chiefs en route or already gathered here to canvas the 12 cent wage slash which by order of the United States railway labor board will chop $400,000 from railway workers' pay, were confronted today by a further adverse action by the board.

In a new ruling the board eliminated overtime pay at the rate of time and a half for all work over an eight hour day.

PERMIT ROADS TO DEAL WITH MEN.

However, in another ruling, the railway workers gained a temporary victory. This, by indefinitely extending the operation of the national agreements which on April 14, it had directed should terminate Friday, permits pay to continue as at present until agreements between the employing roads and their men are reached regarding the slash. The extension order does not apply to those roads which have reached agreements with their men.

President Harding, it is said, has practically decided upon the appointment of Taff, and unless there is some hitch to be made, it is expected that the new session will be held.

NO SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE NEEDED AS PURCHASER AGREES TO DELAY DELIVERY.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—One of the most unusual meetings Washington ever saw was held today in the auditorium of the Interior Department.

The President of the United States, all the members of his Cabinet and all the little cabinets, composed of bureau heads and their assistants within the department, got together around a common table so to speak, and held a clinic on governmental ills and discussed curative remedies.

The widest possible powers have been granted to General Dawes, in his undertaking to produce a workable budget in thirty days and put the government on a basis of economy-like efficiency.

The first announcement from the meeting, President Harding's first, was that the next and all the bureau chiefs, in Washington met together to take the preliminary steps in what is designed to be a great effort at tax reduction.
