WOULD SCRAP WOMAN'S VANITY BOX

Dr. Frank Monaghan, deputy health commissioner of New York City, would scrap the vanity box and beautify complexion through a change of diet. He recommended milk and fruits as cosmetics. He receives thousands of letters from girls who want to get back to nature.

ARTESIAN WELL 'RUNNING WILD'

Spouter in Black Hills Will Have to Be Capped.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 2.—The great Bear Butte artesian well, struck a short distance north of the Black Hills, has developed into what is believed to be the greatest artesian well on the American continent so far as the volume of flow and immense water pressure is concerned.

This immense artesian spouter now is running wild, and strenuous efforts are being made to control it. It will be done by capping it.

When the flow of water was first struck in this now celebrated artesian well it flowed at the rate of 50,000 barrels a day. Recent measurements of the water show that the flow now has increased to more than 100,000 barrels a day.

The flow of water has increased to such an extent during the last few days that the well now is beyond control and is on a real rampage. The immense amount of water from the spouter is cutting deep fissures in the field where the well is. The owner of the land fears that unless the well is soon placed under control the field of eighty acres will be ruined and converted into a lake.

It is expected there will be great difficulty in capping the well and thus securing control of the immense flow of water.

Farmers of the Bear Butte district have started a movement to adopt some plan by which the water underlying the district can be utilized for irrigation of crops, and for other farm and ranch purposes. This would necessitate the construction of reservoirs, so the surplus water from his and other wells to be drilled could be stored for use during the dry portions of each season.

Tests Children on Ten Commandments

NEW YORK, July 2.—District Attorney Lewis, speaking before the South Congregational Church, Brooklyn, told of a recent test in a Brooklyn public school, made at his request, to ascertain how many of the pupils knew the ten commandments.

Out of 1,373 children questioned 490 did not know the commandments and 883 children had never heard of them. Asked to repeat the commandments some of the pupils gave these answers:

The first commandment is not to shoot craps.
Don't marry.
Do not make love to your neighbor's wife.
There shall be light.

The ten commandments were the ten amendments to the constitution.
Children must keep off the steps of street cars.
Not to swear for anything.
Don't hitch on wagons.
Don't croak anything.
Love thy neighbor's wife.
Don't swindle.

There shall be water.
Mr. Lewis declined to give the number of the school in which the test was made, but he declared it illustrated the need of some sort of moral and religious training for these children.

'Spooner's Bliss' Goes Up in Flames

CHICAGO, July 2.—Oak Park is in the throes of a desperate dispute—its link-up on a mysterious fire.

An abandoned church property recently caught fire at night. It was saved from total loss only through the valiant work of volunteer firemen—all very young men.

The youthful firemen said the building had been fired by an incendiary and are now staging amateur sleuth hunts throughout the fashionable suburb. They are aided by scores of blithesome lassies.

You guessed it—the building was Oak Park's "Spooner's Paradise."

Neighbors recently appealed to police to chase the spooners from the church property, but the police remained neutral. Now Cupid's followers declare the neighbors tried to take the law into their own hands.

ENGLAND TESTS LATEST PLANE

Can Soar Straight Up and Hover Motionless.

LONDON, July 1.—Extraordinary are the precautions being taken by the authorities to keep the secret of the new "helicopter"—the "hushhush" aircraft designed by Mr. Louis Brennan, the monorail inventor.

The machine is now undergoing tests at Farnborough airfield. This remarkable invention, which has long been visualized but never previously achieved by aero engineers, possesses two great advantages over the ordinary airplane. It has a direct lift and can soar straight up from any confined space. It can hover motionless in the air like a hawk.

An important problem in course of solution is to prevent the machine from falling to the ground if the engine stops. Principles of gyroscopic control are being applied to solve this difficult problem while the machine is in actual motion.

Intense military interest is being taken in the experiments. It is believed that a successful helicopter, hovering, if necessary, for hours above any given territory, immensely high in the air and almost invisible, would be a magnificent platform for detailed reconnaissance.

It is believed that the machine, if successfully tested, would be a powerful engine and capable of lifting great weights. It would be possible to send up and maintain in the air at any required height "aerial forts" which might be used with demoralizing effect against an enemy.

The success of the new invention is said to be assured, and experimental flights are to take place shortly.

Courts Should Prove Sanity

CHICAGO, July 2.—A criminal should be presumed sane until proven sane.

This psychoanalytical contention just made public by Dr. William N. Hickson, head of the psychopathic laboratory of the Municipal Court, has aroused a storm of discussion among lawyers, alienists and jurists.

Dr. Hickson has recommended that his contention be made a part of the criminal code, with as much weight as the basic presumption, "a man is presumed innocent until proven guilty."

Dr. Hickson in his report holds that it is entirely wrong under the present procedure to place the burden of proving insanity upon the defense in such cases where sanity of the defendant is questioned. He contends that the burden of proving the defendant sane should rest on the prosecution.

"There is a gradual realization of the complete inefficiency and breakdown of our present ideas and methods of handling crimes—a complete realization that our present methods are futile, costly, demoralizing and inhuman, both to the public and to delinquents," he said.

"Almost all our murders and most of our suicides give plenty of warning. Now that we know that a typical criminal is a mental defective, ours is the fault if we do not segregate him."

Dr. Hickson then declared that the Criminal Court code was at fault in presuming criminals sane.

Baroness Works in California Hotel

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—Baroness Ottilie de Ropp, Russian noblewoman, whose fortune was swept away by the war, and who is now working as a needswoman in a fashionable hotel, is battling life with a smile.

The baroness, who formerly had servants to do her every bidding, has hopes of soon advancing from her present position to much better circumstances.

"It is a little hard to take up this work," she said. "However, I am devoting myself to it and hope to learn."

WON $2,070 CASE, BUT DIES PAUPER

Michigan Mother Unable to Collect From Daughter.

PONTIAC, Mich., July 2.—Possessed of a judgment for $2,070 against her daughter, Mrs. Anna Corbin died penniless in the county poor farm here. She was 75 and had been at the poor farm for nearly a year, where she took refuge after court proceedings revealed her unhappy situation.

The aged woman sued her daughter, Mrs. Fred Squitral, in Circuit Court, to collect money for services rendered in the squirrel boarding house, where she had lived, and for money loaned to her daughter. Testimony at that time was that she was turned out of the house because Mrs. Squitral could not get along with her. A son living in Canada sent her back to Pontiac when she appealed to him, and she was compelled to take refuge at the poor farm.

A judgment of $2,070 was awarded the aged mother, but she could find no property on which to levy. The daughter was haled to court and declared she had sold the boarding house and spent all the receipts, having nothing left with which to satisfy the judgment. She and her husband were called back later, with the same results.

Meantime the mother sickened and died, without funds or friends. Before her death she assigned the claim against her daughter to the county and steps have been taken to have a special administrator appointed to seek property on which a levy can be made.

Sends Woman Home to Wash Off Rouge

DENVER, June 2.—When Mrs. Myrtle Lockwood, her cheeks hidden beneath a layer of rouge, her lips greased with carmine lipstick, her lashes darkened and her brows plucked, called upon District Attorney Philip Van Cise to induce him to drop the charges of assault to kill pending against her husband, Paul, Van Cise said:

"Madam, shame on you! If you wish to talk to me about dropping these charges, go home and wash that stuff off your face."

Mrs. Lockwood went home. She came back, minus the paint, lipstick and powder. Van Cise listened to her story. Later he announced he would file reasons for asking the court to dismiss the case against Lockwood.

Lockwood was charged with shooting his father-in-law, F. R. Clayton, following a quarrel over the custody of Mrs. Lockwood's son by a former marriage, Gerald Clayton, 4 years old.

16,000 Tons Used by Home Brewers

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Home brewers used up more than 16,000 tons of raisins in 1919. W. M. Giffen, president of the California Associated Raisin Company, estimated today in giving a Senate subcommittee his views on the pending bill to authorize collective bargaining by farmers.

He placed the raisin grape crop of 1918 at 167,000 tons and of 1919 at 183,000 tons, representing demand from home brewers. This demand was now decreasing, he added, the "hobby" for home brewing apparently having worn itself out to some extent.
