

RIP VAN WINKLE OF ARKANSAS IS AROUSED; TALKS

*Ian, Asleep Three Years,
Awakens for Brief Time,
Then Lapses Into Stupor.*

FT. SMITH, Ark., July 5.—James Echlinger, Arkansas' Rip Van Winkle, wakened yesterday, after three years of sleep.

Echlinger whose long sleep baffled medical men at the hospital where he was cared for, is still in a stupor. He spoke only a few words, according to nurses. He awoke once before several months ago, but again lapsed into the strange sleeping sickness.

Hospital attaches have administered treatment to Echlinger regularly during his illness.

Echlinger, his wife and three children came to the county hospital here ill with pellagra, seven years ago, from their home near Bonanza, Ark.

The husband and father became paralyzed for four years. One day he went to sleep and only twice since has he aroused for a few minutes. His physician, a doctor, although nurses and other attendants claim to doubt that Echlinger has been asleep at all times he was supposed to have been in the last three years.

Echlinger has been the chief attraction for visitors during his long sleep.

Traps Costume

Mrs. Lewis Hinckle of Newark, Ohio, is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Cook, 3346 Washington boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sargent, Miss Charlene Sargent, Miss Francisca Sargent and Richard Sargent, 2020 North Delaware street, have returned from a motor trip to Louisville and Miami Beach.

Miss Agnes Hodgin, 2945 College avenue, is in the northern part of the State on a singing tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira M. Holmes, 2164 North Capitol avenue, have gone for a motor trip to northern Indiana and Chicago, where they will be joined by Miss Marianne Holmes, who will return home with them.

Miss Myrtle Pratt who has been passing a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pratt, 15 East Thirty-second street, has returned to Chicago.

Miss Estelle Burpee, 3024 North Meridian street, is spending the summer in San Diego, Cal.

Miss Charlotte Augusta Albright, daughter of John H. Albright, and William McHenry Stevenson, Jr., were quietly married Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride, 5252 University avenue. Clergy and friends and relatives were used to decorate the room, and the Rev. V. E. Rorer, read the service before an altar formed with palms and ferns. The bride's attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Robert E. Kelly, and Miss Ella M. Albright, both of whom wore frocks of yellow organdie and carried a white bouquet of yellow daisies. The bride was gowned in a becoming gown of white white organdie and carried a white bouquet of white roses. An informal reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson have left for a wedding trip, the bride traveling in a suit of navy blue tricotine with hat of black taffeta. They will be at home after August 1, at Evansville, Ind.

Miss Rose Hart Block, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Adam, 45 West Fall Creek boulevard, left yesterday for Atlantic City.

A reunion of the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hume was the occasion of a pretty garden party at their home 1934 Ashland avenue, Monday evening. All of Mr. and Mrs. Hume's children were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Hume, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hume, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Snoddy, Harry Hume and Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Lander, the latter having just returned from their cottage at Miami, Fla. The entertainment included dancing on the lawn, which was hung with Japanese lanterns, for the ten grandchildren who were present.

The marriage of Miss Hazel R. Campbell, 1450 McLain street, to Joseph E. Ginter, 914 Congress avenue, took place Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the Assumption Church, the Rev. Joseph T. Weber, officiating. The bride was gowned in French blue crepe dechene with hat to match and wore a corsage of Mrs. Aron Ward roses. Miss Mary Bartholomew bridesmaid, wore peach colored organdie with hat to match, and a corsage of Ophelia roses. Robert Campbell, attorney for the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Glater have gone for a wedding trip and will be at home at 601 Jones street, Dayton, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Abel of Cheyenne, Wyo., have come to spend several months with Mrs. Abel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Abel, 100 South Euclid avenue. Mr. Abel, before his marriage, was Miss Norma A. Terrell, Miss Mary Reddington of Jackson, Miss., and Miss Emma Taylor of Cincinnati are also summer guests at the Terrell home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Reagan, Silas Road, Miss Bertha Reagan and Mrs. B. W. Woodward, 2887 Sutherland avenue, will motor to Ludington, Mich., Thursday to spend the remainder of the season at their summer home, "Happy Hollow."

Meetings

The Zouave Drill team of the W. B. A. will give a dance at the hall at Illinois and Thirtieth streets, tonight.

The Only Euchre club will entertain to-night with a public card party in Muskin's hall, 141 East Ohio street.

'Wet' Parade Fizzles; Only 15,000 March

NEW YORK, July 5.—Wet leaders today attributed to the excessively hot weather the small showing made by the anti-prohibition parade on the Fourth. The "old guard" alone turned out. It is estimated there were between fifteen thousand and sixteen thousand persons in line, including about two thousand five hundred women. Mayor Hylan reviewed the parade.

Pope Warns Against False Propaganda

ROME, July 5.—Catholic workers of the world were warned against "false prophets" by Pope Benedict after he had said mass for them.

These "false prophets," the Pope said, "are endeavoring, through propaganda, to discredit religions, estrange the workers from Christ" and "teach them a prey for immorality and atheism."

TRI KAPPA ENTERTAINED,

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., July 5.—Members of the Montpelier chapter of Tri Kappa were entertained at a lawn party at the home of Miss Harriet Geiger here Tuesday by the members of the Hartford City chapter.

Indianapolis Folk Scatter to '4 Winds' for Summer

By MABEL WHEELER.

"Some flew East, some flew West and some flew over the cuckoo's nest," aptly describes the summer flittings of local folk this season for the unusual heat of the June sun sent city dwellers flying in all directions to seek relief from the sweltering pavements and nerve-racking tumult of the city. Not only has the choice of "Where shall we go?" been made a special feature of after dinner conversation, but a more up-to-date question "How shall we go?" has figured largely for the family is often divided as to whether to motor or take a train, the question is being frequently settled by a third suggestion that they "go by boat." The Rev. Dr. Frank H. Glaser, from his inland dwelling this summer, for since the war Europe some way seems much nearer to Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. John R. Beckett, together with Mr. Beckett's mother, Mrs. Wyoend Beckett, and sister, Miss Florence Beckett, Miss Jean Brown, Clarence Goodwin, Miss Mary Goodwin, Mrs. Jacqueline Holliday, Miss Alice Holliday, Miss Lucy Holliday, Wilson Mothershead and Mrs. Marvin Thompson. The party has landed in Southampton.

ANOTHER GROUP SAILED LAST OF JUNE.

Another group which sailed the last day of June for France included Mrs. Charles Cayles, Colored and Mrs. H. V. Moore and children, Charles and Francis. They will tour France by motor and expect to return home the first of September. Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Schmidt are among the overseas vacationists, and there are numerous others who have gone or are going.

Perhaps one of the most interesting vacation trips is that of Mr. and Mrs. Z. B. Galloway and children, Mary and George, former residents of Indianapolis, now of Dayton, who went to California in a perambulating house. Mr. Galloway has his flying truck equipped with all the comforts of a home, including a sleeping car, which he keeps moving rapidly in family circles. Each summer they have gone "on family" to their cottage at a lake in northern Michigan, where life was one house party after another, but this year the mother has "bucked" and smashed the family into an independent unit, keeping an innocent auntie into chaperoning the youngest at the lake while she, in her airy well-ordered house right here in the city, takes her vacation. Just she and pater. She has a first-class maid, three electric fans and a wagonload of reading material—she has spread the news that they have gone to the lake and only her near-by neighbors know that she is placidly resting at home. She says she is beginning to feel it for the first time in many nights.

ROUTE A COLONY AT INDIANA LAKE.

Of course, the usual summer colony of local folk are at Lake Maxinkuckee. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Mueller, 1305 Central avenue, are spending a week at the lake, and their two sons are making a grand time.

And so on, the summer scenes are only minute samples of the huge loads of folk shipped off the city one way or another marked "summer vacationist." All the lakes get their quota, and also the "Shades" and "Turkey Run" get a share, to say nothing of our rapidly expanding local summer resort, built along White River north of Broad Ripple. And by the way, there are some beautiful summer residences along the river.

The Elliott place with its great roomy house, spreading forest trees, broad expanse of velvety lawn is a "regular" place, and the Batty home across the river, balanced on the summit of a craggy hill hidden by huge trees, its innumerable steps leading down to the lake, is another. The latter is the most fascinatingly attractive summer place imaginable. Swings, tennis courts, miniature piggories, motor boats, nobly chugging guitars, which leaned more toward Pugman style than home fashion, having upper and lower berths, upholstered seats 'n' everything. The family left June 14 and have been in Pasadena for several days, reporting a most exciting and delightful land voyage.

Another novel vacation idea is that of an interesting Indianapolis matron who has a daughter and a son about the most "grown-up" who keeps them moving rapidly in family circles. Each summer they have gone "on family" to their cottage at a lake in northern Michigan, where life was one house party after another, but this year the mother has "bucked" and smashed the family into an independent unit, keeping an innocent auntie into chaperoning the youngest at the lake while she, in her airy well-ordered house right here in the city, takes her vacation. Just she and pater.

She has a first-class maid, three electric fans and a wagonload of reading material—she has spread the news that they have gone to the lake and only her near-by neighbors know that she is placidly resting at home. She says she is beginning to feel it for the first time in many nights.

THE COOL JOY SPOT RIALTO

TWO SHOWS FOR PRICE OF ONE
NOW SHOWING
8-ACT RUN VAUDEVILLE-8
FIRST RUN VAUDEVILLE PICTURES

THIS WEEK'S BEAUTY HELP

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of eau de cassis, which can be obtained from any druggist, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head. This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto the strands of hair chemically dissolves all dirt.

It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing out the lather so created, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.—Advertisement.

Raw From Eczema
Why not see what one bottle of D.D. will do?
We guarantee results. Itching stops at once.
B.C. $1.00. Try D.D. Soap, too.
D.D.D.
The Lotion for Skin Disease

INDIANA DAILY TIMES, TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1921.

WORLD PREMIERE OF 'ARTISTS' LIFE' GIVEN

At Murat by Stuart Walker P. Players—Dancing Act at Lyric

IN WORLD PREMIERE

MISS MARJORIE VONNEGUT.

Among those who appeared last night at the Murat in the world premiere of "Artists' Life," a new play by Samuel Mervin and Peggy Wood, was Miss Vonnegut of this city. She is well known on Broadway for her work in several successes.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the faithful Clarice, Mme.

and youth winning the approval of her audience. She does no unbalance of acting as the gray-haired aunt, just Emma Norval, who seems a distinctly different person from her once brilliant self. Marjorie Vonnegut, as the young American singer, Emma Norval, opens the play as the girl who has made a mere ripple in the surface of musical sea she starts then and there to widen. She has sent away her girlhood lover, the handsome young American who has followed her to Paris, choosing her career with his hardships to life with him.

Judith Lowry as Clara Gersten, wife of Strauss; Julia McMahon, as Mlle. Fritsina, all do excellent work, and Elizabeth Patterson, as the