

PRESSURE FROM FAMILY CAUSE OF SMALL MOVE

Governor of Illinois Abandon Plans to Fight and Will Accept Trial.

VENUE CHANGE AGREED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 17.—The sudden collapse of the "war" plans of Governor Len Small of Illinois, was due to family "pressure." It was learned here today.

The Governor, it was reported, has abandoned all plans to delay the trial on charges of misusing $2,500,000 in State interest funds and to test the legality of his arrest. In this decision the Governor entirely ignored the wishes of his legal advisers. He finally surrendered, his intimates said, to the pleas of Mrs. Small and members of the family.

The strain of his legal difficulties on members of his family, it was said, had seriously concerned the Governor. Since the issuance of bench warrants for the Governor's arrest, Mrs. Small has gone into retirement at the family home in Kankakee. It was her wish, it was said, that the Governor abandon his war plans and go into court with the sole purpose of repudiating the charges brought against him in the Sangamon County court.

The Governor, through counsel, late yesterday accepted the offer of State's Attorney C. Fred Mortimer to a change of venue from this county. The acceptance was based on four clauses, the principal one of which retained the right to file any future action on any phase of the case, excepting charges of venue.

All four clauses were accepted by the State's attorney in a reply which he made public. The State's attorney declared his first offer had been "catch," the Governor's counsel having taken exception to certain wording.

Mortimer also agreed to the Governor's suggestion that attorneys for both sides agree upon any county in which the case shall be tried. He announced that Judge E. S. Smith, who issued the bench warrants for Small's arrest, would designate the Circuit Judge to decide the petition for a change of venue. This petition will be heard Tuesday, Sept. 6. The jurist will be either Frank B. Burton of Judge Norman L. Jones.

The habeas corpus proceedings which the Governor's counsel had insisted would be his "trump card" is apparently abandoned by the chief executive's most recent move. His attorneys, however, retained the right to file this action in the event of a change of venue. The State's Attorney also agreed that the Governor had not waived his right to this action. The "test," however, is now a very remote possibility.

IRISH SPURN PEACE; ARMY IS PREPARED

(Continued From Page One.)

Britain will not withhold peace from Ireland, because they are patriotic men and women.

There was an imposing scene at Mansion House when the British cabinet met for the first time since the outbreak of the Irish rebellion. The session would be open to the public.

The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"Communications between the Irish republic and the British government have been made public and serve to emphasize towards the officers and men of the Irish republican army the paramount importance of being prepared for every contingency."

The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

"The following order was read to all officers and men of the ranks of the Irish republican army:

Woman Wearing but Two Garments Fined in Nashville, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 17.—War on immodest dress has been declared in Nashville. The flat is issued by Nashville's two policewomen. It comes on the heels of a court fine imposed on a woman here for wearing, according to her admission, "only two garments."

It's all right for the girls to "roll their owa" provided they don't roll too far. Also ordinarily, peak-a-bow waists will be allowed to pass unquestioned, but if they get too low-up they go—the offenders.

BOOZE DISPOSAL UP TO OFFICIALS

Warehouse Storage Rent Places Burden on Government.

Special to Indiana Daily Times and Philadelphia Public Ledger.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The solution of the Government's problem in disposing of the millions of dollars' worth of liquor seized since the advent of prohibition has been put up to Attorney General Daugherty. It is announced Mr. Daugherty is working out a plan by which it is hoped the Government can be relieved of the present heavy burden of paying rent for warehouses in which to store the liquor.

Apparently the recent proposal of Roy Haynes, prohibition commissioner, that the liquor be poured into the sewers as soon as possible, has not met with approval. Government officials, it is understood, not only desire to eliminate the warehouses, but to realize as much as possible by the legitimate sale of the liquor for medicinal or industrial purposes.

Two plans are under general consideration, the attorney general said. One calls for inspection of the liquor now held by the Government with the view to its sale for medicinal purposes. Much of the liquor seized is said to be unfit for human consumption. The other plan is to redistill the alcohol and dispose of it to industrial firms for commercial purposes. Copyright, 1921, by Public Ledger Company.

MOB BURNS BODY OF SLAIN NEGRO

Weakens Vengeance on Slayer of Two Whites.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 17.—A negro's body, believed to be that of Walter Smalley, a negro slain last night in a battle with police, was taken from a hospital here just before dawn today and burned by a mob of armed men. The charred body then was taken back to the hospital.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

Smalley was slain by police after he had killed Benjamin F. Hightower, a white man, a wagon worker, where Smalley was employed, and then killed W. W. Moore, a policeman who sought to arrest him. Eight others were wounded by the mob, who, armed with a shotgun, fought off pursuing police.

He Should Include the Step-Ladder in the Same Policy—They're Dangerous, Too

By DON HEROLD

PRESENT WAGES AND TIME DEMAND

Packer Employees Seek Continuation of Terms.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 17.—Continuation of the eight-hour basic day and present wage scales was demanded today by representatives of packer employees meeting here. The draft of the working agreement proposed by union leaders as a substitute for the present contract, which expires on Sept. 15, was completed today.

The proposal will be presented to the employers immediately after it is given final approval at the workers' meeting here.

In case of a disagreement, the employees plan to ask President Harding to act as arbitrator.

The union leaders decided to make every effort to continue the present arbitration plan of dealing with the "big fish" packers. They will demand that Judge Samuel Alschuler of Chicago be continued as umpire in all disputes with their employers. If the packers will not deal through Alschuler an appeal to the President will be made.

Home brew is a bad, nothing more. It won't last—something home brewers say they've noticed, but they are evading the law and hence distasteful.

Bobbed hair is lovely on many girls and is clean and sanitary if washed regularly.

Blow laws are the work of the liquor interests' propagandists. The W. C. T. U. opposes only a "commercial Sabath" and paid movies on Sunday.

Bolled horses are immediate—that is for adult women only. Men and babies are welcome to wear 'em short.

Close contact is the most immoral. Tobacco is a mighty bad thing for the immature.

And "over-sexed movies" surely deserve a frown of disapproval.

Cass County Schools Under New Leader

Special to The Times.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Aug. 17.—Ira M. Kessler was sworn in today as superintendent of Cass County schools. Mr. Kessler succeeded Prof. J. F. Lindner, who has filed the office he past four years.

The new superintendent is a Republican. On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

W. C. T. U. Proves It's Not Half as Bad as Painted

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—The Women's Christian Temperance Union sets itself straight today on rolled down hose, blue laws, tobacco, home brew and other things.

And it developed, the W. C. T. U. often reputed to be militantly against most everything other isn't half as intolerant as it is painted.

It will tolerate half hose—that is for young people. Dr. Valeria Parker, chairman of the morality board and Miss Julia Deane officer of the Union Signal, temperance paper, both here for the national W. C. T. U. convention opening tomorrow, discussed a wide range of subjects in an interview.

Here summed up is what they said the W. C. T. U. organization think:

Home brew is a bad, nothing more. It won't last—something home brewers say they've noticed, but they are evading the law and hence distasteful.

Bobbed hair is lovely on many girls and is clean and sanitary if washed regularly.

Blow laws are the work of the liquor interests' propagandists. The W. C. T. U. opposes only a "commercial Sabath" and paid movies on Sunday.

Bolled horses are immediate—that is for adult women only. Men and babies are welcome to wear 'em short.

Close contact is the most immoral. Tobacco is a mighty bad thing for the immature.

And "over-sexed movies" surely deserve a frown of disapproval.

Cass County Schools Under New Leader

Special to The Times.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Aug. 17.—Ira M. Kessler was sworn in today as superintendent of Cass County schools. Mr. Kessler succeeded Prof. J. F. Lindner, who has filed the office he past four years.

The new superintendent is a Republican. On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.

On assuming office, Mr. Kessler announced schools in Cass County would open Sept. 5.