

SO. AMERICAN STATES TO QUIT WORLD LEAGUE?

Trouble Comes When Assembly Tries to Settle Bolivia-Chile Dispute.

LATINS LOSE POSITION

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—The League of Nations assembly today postponed consideration of the dispute between Chile and Bolivia, which was at the head of the agenda.

The United States was not mentioned on the floor of the assembly, during the first day's session.

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—Despite statements issued from the official propaganda bureau of the League of Nations tending to depreciate the efforts of the desolation of Latin-American States from the league assembly meeting in session here today, the longer the assembly sits, the more the results upon all South and Central America.

The assembly at the second session of the present meeting began discussion of the agenda, the European States tending to state of a fight between Bolivia and Chile over disputed territory. The European statesmen fear that Chile may withdraw from the league.

CHILEAN THREATENS TO WITHDRAW

The Chilean delegation already has served notice that their country probably would withdraw if the league agreed to Bolivia's request to take up the South American quarrel. The Bolivians intimated that they might ask for a revision of the treaty following the war of 1904 in which Bolivia claims that Chile obtained undue advantages.

Chile maintains the league has no right to consider all privileges that were awarded under a treaty negotiated many years before the league was created. If Bolivia becomes a member, its attitude, the situation may become serious.

The defeat of Dr. Da Cunha of Brazil for the presidency of the assembly by Foreign Minister Van Karaman of Holland marked the beginning of the dwindling of the strong Latin-American position in the league.

BOLIVIA STICKS TO DEMANDS

Dr. Canales, head of the Bolivian delegation, announced that Bolivia is willing to delay action on the Chilean treaty if the league leaders desire time for further study of the situation. But the Bolivians will not withdraw her demands.

Sir Robert Cecil of Great Britain, one of the chief sponsors for the league in the day of its infancy, and other European statesmen, fear that if the South Americans are outvoted and defeated by the Europeans they eventually may join the proposed confederacy of powers which President Harding has in view.

Public interest in the meeting has dwindled and the galleries were only about half filled today.

WHAT TO DO WITH CHILDREN WHEN PARENTS SPLIT

the extravagance of the wife. In contested divorce cases the evidence of the wife generally shows that the husband has given her nothing to be extravagant with.

The pitiful feature of a divorce trial when the husband and wife appear, is that in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, neither party will admit that they are in wrong. Each is equally to blame for the wrecked home.

It is in Superior Court, Room 2, where Judge Linn Hay presides, that the husband and wife are made to realize that each party is to blame for the domestic unhappiness in the home. Judge Hay does not hesitate in telling parents, when the facts warrant it, that their behavior has been deplorable.

JUDGE DEMANDS CLEAN HANDS

Judge Hay has dismissed divorce petitions when the evidence has shown the plaintiff has come into court with "unclean hands."

By plain talk, Judge Hay has done much to compel fathers and mothers to realize the real significance of what divorce means. This jurist has been successful along this line in that he has been in granting a divorce that some lawyers will not file divorce cases before him. Judge Hay demands that sufficient cause be shown by the husband or wife to show in competent and corroborated evidence before he will sign his name to a decree.

The present Marion County bench is making a sincere effort to handle the divorce question. Judge T. J. Moll of Superior Court, room 5, has been successful in many instances in obtaining reconciliation. Only recently following a conversation with Judge Moll, a husband with drew his complaint and the couple is now living together happily.

PETTY QUARRELS LEAD TO COURTS

A careful examination of the divorce evidence shows this startling fact, that the start of the trouble in majority of the homes is quarreling based upon petty differences.

Here are a few of the causes for bitter quarrels which are shown in the divorce evidence:

That the husband showed no signs of affection for his mother-in-law. That both the husband and wife would not speak to each other for days at a time.

That the husband refused to tell his wife where he had been late at night. This generally results in the wife accusing her husband of infidelity and in many cases at the time of the wife's suspicions there were no grounds upon which to base them.

That the wife refused to cook dishes that he enjoyed.

That the wife would "gab about" leaving the dishes for the husband to do.

That the wife was a poor and "dirty" housekeeper.

That the husband refused to accompany his wife to the theater and dances.

The husband objected to the female companions of his wife and objected to his wife attending public dances.

That both the husband and the wife engaged in the pastime of throwing dishes and kitchen utensils at each other.

These are but a few of the "petty" differences between married people which the courts listen to daily. In nearly every case, the quarrels could have been averted if a little common sense had been used by the parties. The divorce evidence indicates that words are cheap and when heated upon each other, the result is a first-class quarrel. As the quarrel increases, vile and indecent language is used and in many cases the wife charges that her husband either threatened to strike her or actually did.

Marshal Joffre Sends Message on Lafayette Day

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—A message from Marshal Joffre was read at the Lafayette day celebration at Mt. Vernon today.

"The name of Lafayette awakens the same emotion in all Americans as Frenchmen. It recalls to each the remembrance of the friendly nations and their common ideal of liberty," Joffre wrote.

"May the memory of the great Frenchman remain forever honored on both shores of the Atlantic and may it remind each generation of all the bloodshed in common on the battlefields of freedom."

"dead tired" after a day's work. The judges often point out that if the husbands and wives would recognize the danger in the failure to appreciate the other's desire for entertainment and co-operation toward that end, many of the petty differences would be removed.

The "honeymoon" passed too rapidly in the majority of the recent marriages there is no wedding trip. Often, in the case of young people, no home is provided at the actual time of the marriage.

The records show that the "nearly married" is not the real menace to domestic happiness, but the unprepared marriage and the realization of the responsibilities of married life are the actual causes of domestic unhappiness. Divorce complaints often show that the husband "refused to provide and maintain a home" and that the wife "refused to live in boarding and rooming houses."

It is only in rare cases that young people seek the divorce courts as a remedy for their domestic unhappiness when the husband and wife work side by side to create and maintain a home.

The sincerity of purpose and the determination to have a real home are the two best attributes which prevent divorce and petty quarrels.

EACH HAS DUTIES TO MARRIED STATE

The evidence shows that both men and women fail to appreciate the fact that each has important marital duties to perform. Married life is not just one kiss after another, but it is a question of mutual adaptability and concerted action toward the realization of a practical idea—the creation of a real home.

As Judge Hay once stated, "The trouble with you two is that you are not partners in this marriage. You forget that both of you have certain obligations to fulfill by virtue of the marriage agreement."

The wisdom of Judge Hay's remarks is well reflected in the recent petty quarrels of married people. A business partnership can not long endure when the principals are quarreling. Business goes to smash and the home, that's the lesson to be obtained from Judge Hay's warning.

The problem becomes serious when children are concerned. That's the real problem in the Marion County judges' handling divorces.

Each judge has his own way in handling the situation.

The statutes are plain in defining the obligations of the husband and wife even after the divorce decree is granted.

SEEK NEW LEAD IN N. Y. MURDER

Police Abandon Early Theory in Day Killing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—A new mystery today was thrown about the killing of George Day when police practically abandoned the early theory upon which they have been working.

Until today police held to the belief that Day had been killed by a woman who believed that her place in Day's affection had been taken by another. Investigation during the last twenty-four hours, however, has indicated that someone upon whose trail they have not yet hit, shot the former fur manufacturer.

The blonde woman with whom Day spent several hours before he was killed was found by police. She came to Day's apartment to keep an appointment. When told by an officer stationed there that Day had been killed she collapsed. Several hours of questioning by police failed to break down her story that she knew nothing of the killing.

Police are still looking for a dark haired Belgian girl with whom Day is said to have broken an appointment to take the blonde woman to dinner.

OFFICER PROVES NEGRESS FOUGHT

"Judge it took four of us to put her in the patrol wagon," testified Patrolman Lee looking down at Ethel Lowe, negress, 507 North West street, in police court today.

"Judge, it ain't so," declared Mrs. Lowe, looking up at the giant policeman and then at Judge Walter Pritchard. Mrs. Lowe appeared to be about five feet in height and she weighed about 110 pounds.

"I'll prove it," stated Lee taking off his coat and rolling up his left shirt sleeve. He tried to arrest her and the negress said she was his husband, last night in the 500 block on Indiana avenue. They were full of "male" and started to battle. The man jerked away from me and I fired the avenue. The woman stayed and fought and Patrolman Deeter and I held her and still she fought. Then it took four of us to put her in the wagon."

By plain talk, Judge Hay has done much to compel fathers and mothers to realize the real significance of what divorce means. This jurist has been successful along this line in that he has been in granting a divorce that some lawyers will not file divorce cases before him. Judge Hay demands that sufficient cause be shown by the husband or wife to show in competent and corroborated evidence before he will sign his name to a decree.

TWO PARTIES IN FIELD BUSY AS REGISTRY NEARS

Activities Among Republican Forces Include Preparation for Shank Lawn Party.

Republicans and Democrats will continue to hold meetings of pre-elect executive committees until this week. Republicans still are busy with their sixty-day poll, while both parties have hundreds of notaries in the field registering voters in advance of the first registration day, Sept. 10.

Abandonment of the plan to hold an automobile parade of women preceding the lawn party at the home of Samuel Lewis Shank, Republican nominee for mayor, Friday evening, was announced at the Shank-for-Mayor Club. The parade will be held later in the campaign. To organize it would take too much time of the pre-elect executive committee registration and polling. It was explained.

Republican precinct executive committee meetings are scheduled as follows:

Fifteenth precinct of the Fourth ward at the Harrison Club tonight.

Sixth precinct of the Fifteenth ward at 720 North Bellevue place Wednesday evening.

Sixth precinct of the Eleventh ward at 820 Harrison street, Thursday evening.

Fifth precinct of the Twelfth ward at 673 South Meridian street Friday evening.

The weekly meetings of business women and women first voters at Democratic city headquarters tonight and of Democratic women workers at headquarters at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon will be held as announced before.

N. E. Elliott, local attorney, will speak upon "Why Women Should Support M. H. Heston for Mayor," at tomorrow's meeting.

"Right now is an unexampled opportunity for the business houses of Washington to go forward in this change of season with the courage and enthusiasm that can be enjoyed by no other community in the world like the National Capital of the United States of America."

HARDING EXPECTED TO PUT FOOT DOWN.

President Harding is expected to do his utmost to see that "the life-time opportunity" of reliving the anticipation of Washington purveyors is not exploited in a gouging sense. It is an open secret that the President mainly has been impelled to call off a spectacular and magnificent last March because of the highwaysmanship Washington hotels and houses were planning to practice. The finish of the cars, their graceful lines and knowledge of the power that lies within them, make them most attractive to the eyes of the spectators. The crowd of motorists and of live-in-the-city motorists is a sight to behold. Letters like the above do influence women to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 18 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. The Vegetable Compound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. J. G. SWAREY, Route B, Thomas, Okla.

WILL BUILD NEW BRIDGE ON DELAWARE ST.

County Council Objects to Increasing County Debt.

The members of the county council are convinced that the taxpayers of Marion County are opposed to an increase in the tax rate, according to County Councilman Albert Newby, who voiced the opinion at the first session of a two-day meeting of the council at the courthouse today.

President W. D. Haverstick of the council voiced a similar opinion when a committee of Meridian street property owners appeared before the council to ask that an appropriation be made to build a bridge over Delaware street over Fall Creek so as to relieve the traffic on Meridian street.

Mr. Haverstick pointed out the erection of the bridge and a new one over Kentucky avenue, as has been requested, would increase the bonded indebtedness of the county at least two million dollars.

Indicated before the council at the final session tomorrow will postpone action on the Delaware street bridge until next year and probably later.

Henry Eitel, vice president of the Indiana National Bank, E. W. Warner, George Marrott and G. E. Schull composed the committee which appeared before the council in behalf of the North Delaware street bridge.

The council devoted most of its time to considering minor matters in the budget and hearing certain county officers discuss the items as requested in the budget for next year. Councilman Frank E. Brown claimed of the high prices being charged for printed supplies and books for county offices.

The council tomorrow will officially adopt county tax rates and also will take final action on the budget for next year.

The councilmen have indicated clearly they will not approve of any bond issue at this time unless of an absolute emergency nature.
