WINNIPEG IS GOLD CITY BUT NOT BALANCED

Spillane Finds No Unemployment Now, but Foresees It.

LUMBER VERY LOW
General Industry Improved Since July, Say Merchants.

By RICHARD SPILLANE.
WINNIPEG, Sept. 9.—There is no unemployment in Winnipeg. So declares Edward Farnell, mayor. In fact, there are more jobs than men. In proof of this he reads telegrams from General Manager Murphy of the Canadian Pacific asking for 500 trackmen at 25 cents an hour and General Manager Warren of the Canadian National, saying he could use four hundred to six hundred at the same rate and also required machinists and boiler-makers.

All the mayor could supply was five men.

And yet the Dominion and provincial authorities and the municipalities expect considerable unemployment this winter and are to meet to discuss methods of relieving possible distress.

The explanation is that harvesting the crops takes up the labor slack today, but with lumber and general industry at very low production there is no likelihood of work for all who return from the agricultural districts to the cities.

Manitoba has a good wheat crop well above the average in size and of fine quality. Best prices for wheat and high prices for grain are being paid. The bank of Canada has taken action on the cattle market by issuing instructions to extend generous credit to stock raisers where they have anything approaching reasonable security. There also has been some modification of railroad rates on cattle.

While Western Canada gave promise a month ago of remarkable grain yields this season, it has changed considerably by extensive hailstorms. The damage was not so great as reported at first and fair returns are certain from most of the provinces except the dry districts of southern Alberta and southern Saskatchewan.

WINNIPEG BUSINESS IS POORLY BALANCED.
Winnipeg is a great town. There the East and the West begin. The produce of a farm belt that stretches 1,000 miles west pours through Winnipeg and the supplies for a vast farm region are purchased in Winnipeg. The city has been a bustling, bustling place today, part English and part American, but with Canadian blood in the veins of big business but it is poorly balanced. It has a tremendous asset in 500,000 horsepower of hydro electric energy on the Winnipeg river at distances varying from 32 to 75 miles from the city, yet it has comparatively few manufacturing plants of size. The city has a power plant of 47,000 horsepower and the Winnipeg street railway has a 37,000-horsepower plant. They sell power to consumers at varying prices. In some instances comparatively large consumers get power at the almost unbelievable low rate of one half cent per kilowatt hour.

The city sells power to nearly 40,000 consumers, and in many houses it is used for light, cooking, heating, etc. This municipal enterprise has been a financial success.

Of industries, flour and grist mill products are by far the largest. Next come slaughtering and meat packing, dairy products, bag manufacturing, lumber and foundry and machine shops. There is only one tannery and one dye works, despite the great traffic in cattle. The Union Stock yards are the largest in Canada and handle a sheep for 10,000 cattle, 6,000 hogs and 4,000 sheep a day.

DUE TO BECOME MANUFACTURING CITY.
Some day when Winnipeg utilizes its water power fully it is certain to be a big manufacturing center, but at present it seems content with the trade of western Canada.

But if it is content with the trade, it protests against some of the forms under which it is compelled to do business. There is bitter complaint of the banking system. The banks of Winnipeg and western Canada generally are branches of the great banks of eastern Canada. The Winnipeg people say the banks of western Canada are managed by men sent from the east who have no direct interest in the country and who look forward to promotion that will take them back east. The real management of the banks, they declare, is remote from the regions served. They want Manitoba banks for Manitoba; they want banks of their own. At present, however, they are not in position to furnish them. They say the American system is much better. They would like country banks, such as dot our West, conducted by men close to the soil.

They are not satisfied either with the Ottawa government. They predict an agricultural majority, or at least, agricultural control, of the next parliament. "We are so far from the seat of government," they say, "that we should be put in the strongest possible position to help ourselves. Things could not be worse than they are today in legislation affecting us. Ottawa is out of touch with us and is not disposed to learn of our needs. Conditions in this respect could not be worse. Ottawa is not disposed to help us."

BANDITS ROBBED GROVE BANK

ONE DEAD, 8 HURT, 300 HELD, $1,000,000 BOOZE, DRUGS SEIZED ON SHIP

Prohibition Raiders and Sailors Clash Aboard Greek Steamer Anchored in Brooklyn Harbor.

DRY OFFICER COMMITS SUICIDE

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—One man dead; a second dying, eight wounded, nearly three hundred arrests and seizure of drugs and liquor estimated to be worth one million dollars, was the result today of the fiercest battle between prohibition agents and liquor smugglers New York has witnessed since the country "went dry."

It was fought aboard the Greek steamer King Alexander, anchored in the harbor off Brooklyn, beginning before dawn with an attempt of two prohibition agents to trap the smugglers and resumed in daylight with every member of the crew fighting desperately against the raiders. The latter included also members of the city's narcotic squad, for the vessel had a large quantity of "dope" aboard.

At one time police fired on Federal agents, mistaking them for smugglers. Cocaine, opium and liquor estimated to be worth $1,000,000 were seized, one of the largest confiscations in the records of the department, according to Wallace Collins, United States District Attorney.

In a washroom of a ferry house, after the smoke of battle had cleared away, was found the body of Prohibition officer Frank J. Fitzpatrick, one of the raiding Federal officers. Evidently mentally unbalanced by the strain of the fight, he had sent a bullet into his brain.

Some of the combatants declared they saw a body floating in the river after the fight, but that it vanished in the water after but a moment. The harbor police are trying to locate the body. One of the eight wounded sailors was said to be at the point of death.

WRANGLE OVER BILLION MARKS
French Minister of Finance Wants 52 Per Cent of German Reparation Money.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Paul Doumer, French minister of finance, today began a series of conferences with Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, regarding the division of the first payment of one billion marks, received from Germany.

It has been agreed that $30,000,000 marks should be paid to Belgium, and that the remainder should be divided after first paying the expenses of the army of occupation.

This decision created a political crisis in France and resulted in Doumer handing in his resignation, which the French Premier refused to accept.

France today, therefore, asked that the sum of $40,000,000 be redistributed among the allies, and that she receive 52 per cent of this sum. On her behalf Doumer also argued the value of Sauer valley coal mines should not be charged off France's expenditure upon the French army of occupation.

The French also seek a rearrangement regarding the Austro-Hungarian and Bulgarian debts.

PIGS IN PIGS' THEORY GETS RUDE SETBACK

Judging Fat Swine at Fair on Today's Program.

BULLS MARCELLED

Wavy Effect Produced by Currycomb Is Explanation.

By FRED S. KNCLE.

It was announced today that the various attractions at the Indiana State Fair would remain on exhibition until noon tomorrow, the last day of the fair. In the afternoon, the attraction will be the automobile races on the mile dirt track, with music by the Purdue band.

The paid admissions at the fair yesterday amounted to 48,413, while for Thursday of last year they were 52,833.

Shows of fat barrow swine, and judging concluded in all departments, were the special features on today's program.

It has been contended in light literature that "pigs are pigs," but a belief in this is shaken by the resident pigs that are shown at the fair. It seems impossible that they are truly representative of their kind—the sort one sees daily and contentedly wallowing in small suds of mud.

PIGS DE LUXE WITH NO MUD PUDDLE NEAR.
They are pigs de luxe, they might say, scrubbed and furnished, as they lie on beds of straw or waddle before their judges, and the question subconsciously arises in one's mind as to whether they are pigs de luxe.

MINERS END WAR AND SHERIFF IS AFTER LEADERS
Illinois Physician to Be Arrested on Charge of Inciting Riot.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill., Sept. 9.—The offensive in the Hardin County "mine war" shifted today from the hands of the union miner forces to those of the deputy sheriffs guarding Elizabethtown and Rosclaire.

Sheriff D. N. Cox's forces began to carry out plans to capture leaders of the union miners. A party of deputies left here before daybreak in an effort to capture Dr. J. P. Joiner of Rosclaire, a physician who abandoned his home and fled to the union miner forces.

The sheriff's posse planned to lay siege to the house of Dr. Joiner's father, several miles northeast of here, where the union leaders were reported to be spending the night.

Deputies carried a warrant for Dr. Joiner's arrest, charging him with inciting to riot.

President, Treasurer of City Humane Society Charged With Dissipation of Funds by Organization's Secretary

Investigation of several months' duration in the course of which much was uncovered, revealed that it was not a part of the strapping community chest fund, but that the sum was made necessary at this time by the action of Roberts in attempting to prevent the regular monthly meeting of the society's directors for the month of September.

In the complaint she asks that defendants Frye and Roberts be required to give an accounting as to funds raised by popular subscription for the erection of an animal shelter home "and as to other funds wrongfully and illegally held by them as pretended officers," that a receiver be appointed to prevent the same from being further dissipated, wasted and destroyed, and for $5,000 damages on behalf of the public and the members of the society.

MRS. MINNIE GLAZE, wife of dead man. Severe scalp wound and injuries to her legs and back; contusions serious, probably fractured.

Schneider was driving a roadster near Manning and Church streets, and is alleged to have been racing with a touring car.

The seven per the police arrived at the scene of the crash. The driver of the machine driven by Glaze had been to the home of Guy Glaze, a son of the dead man, who lives sixteen miles southeast of the city on the Shelby.

One of the witnesses who had celebrated the birthday party of Violet Glaze and were en route to their homes.

As the small touring car northbound in Blake street, reached Indiana avenue it was directly in the path of two machines which are said to have been racing southeast in the avenue. The big racer, a Buick, driven by Schneider, struck Glaze's machine with terrific force, knocking it about fifty feet.

Schneider's automobile turned completely around and was headed north when the shooting started. The driver of the touring car with which Schneider is said to have been racing did not stop.

Sergeant Clifford Richter and Detective Manning and Church streets investigated the accident and arrested Schneider, ordering him detained in the detention ward at the city hospital. Schneider's injuries are not serious. The police say he was carried into the hospital for traffic law violations.

Miss Wheeler was taken to the office of a physician and then removed to her home.

All of the others were taken to the city hospital in ambulances.

Schneider today denied he was racing along Indiana avenue, but said he was driving about thirty miles an hour. He said the touring car flashed past him on the right side of the street near Blake street and he was unable to avoid the machine blinded Glaze to such an extent he did not see the roadster.

It had been planned to hold a second birthday party for Violet Glaze tonight at the home of Ruby Underwood, 1013 South Meridian street. Violet and Ruby are cousins and today is Ruby's birthday and yesterday was Violet's birthday.

Funeral arrangements have not been made for Mr. Glaze. He had lived in Indianapolis ten years coming to this city from Zionsville.

SCHOOLS HIT BY THE LACK OF HOUSING

Conditions Throughout Nation Far Below Normal.

'PART TIME' PLAN

High Price and Scarcity of Building Materials Blamed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The housing shortage is seriously crippling the Nation's schools.

Practically every large city in the country is confronted with the problem of meeting record enrollments of pupils with inadequate facilities for sheltering them, according to telegraphic advices received here.

The situation has resulted in various makeshifts, such as "part time" systems, hasty erection of flimsy structures and the use of portable buildings. Overcrowding of the schools, it was shown, is giving future citizens their education on a sort of installment plan.

The lack of school space is due to high price and scarcity of building materials. The difficulty of the municipalities in obtaining funds and failure of builders to complete structures within contract time.

Only seven out of 35 cities reported conditions near normal.

ONE PUPIL IN EIGHT WITHOUT A SEAT.

Shoulders Way to Couple and Empty Revolver Before Many Spectators.

DIEDHAM, Mass., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Elena Wells and her attorney, A. Louis Altmyer, were shot to death in a crowded street car here today. The man who did the shooting said he was Charles A. Wells, the woman's husband.

Mrs. Wells and Altmyer were seated near the front of the car. Two bullets struck the woman. She died just as she was carried into the hospital. One bullet entered Altmyer's head. He also died at the hospital.

The assailant, revolver in hand, jumped from the moving car, started to run and was caught by a crowd of men. Five passengers pursued him and caught him before he had run 100 feet. He fought desperately, but was overpowered and taken to the police station.

Indicted Chicago 'Barons' Hire Legal Aids.
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—A bitter fight between the United States Government and the seventeen "cool laronas" of Chicago, indicted some months ago by a Federal grand jury in Indianapolis, loomed today. District Attorney Charles F. Clyne announced he would institute a court fight to have the indicted cool men removed to Indianapolis for trial.

The latter, headed by Francis S. Peabody, head of the Peabody Coal Company, have engaged a galaxy of legal talent to oppose the removal of the indicted cool men to Indianapolis for trial.

"I shall go into court a week from Monday," District Attorney Clyne said today, "and ask for an order for their removal."

The cool men were indicted on a conspiracy charge.

NEGRO, 3 WHITE MEN MAKE HAUL OF $30,000; ESCAPE IN MOTOR CAR

Four Employes and One Patron Covered by Revolvers While Vault Is Rifled.

CAR LAST SEEN ON MICHIGAN ROAD

Four heavily armed men held up the Beech Grove State Bank, Seventh avenue and Main street, at 11 o'clock today and escaped with between $21,000 and $30,000.

Following the robbery the bandits made their flight in a Hudson touring car and the last report received by the small army of police thrown into the Beech Grove neighborhood which came from Bethel avenue, was that they were seen in the neighborhood of Sherman drive and the Michigan road.

There was some confusion as to the direction the bandits took from this point. The police received information later that a car in which there were four men matching the descriptions of the bandits was seen in the vicinity of Brightwood on the Pendleton pike. Lieutenant McMurtrey and a squad of detectives were rushed to that part of the city in automobiles to make an investigation.

Three white men and a negro, all carrying revolvers, committed the hold-up, the boldest in Indianapolis since the robbery of the South Side State Bank and the East Tenth Street State Bank several years ago.

The fact that today is pay day at the Big Four railroad shops at Beech Grove with a consequent large addition to the cash on hand in the bank is believed to have proved the lure that brought about the
