

DAILY CABINET DIFFERS OVER PARLEY MOVE

Members Split on Question of Accepting Any Conditions.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—The Sinn Féin cabinet has split over the question of whether Ireland should be bound by any conditions whatever in entering the proposed conference with the British cabinet at Inverness.

Members of the republican inner ring discussed the latest note from Lloyd George and it was learned that the cabinet is divided over the question of Ireland's being bound to remain within the empire.

It was freely reported after the morning meeting between members of the cabinet, which was not fully attended, that De Valera had opposed acceptance of the condition imposed by Lloyd George, namely that Ireland must remain in the British commonwealth.

The republican president was believed to be holding out firmly for a conference in which the Irish plenipotentiaries should be bound by no conditions whatever.

Arthur Griffith, the new foreign minister, was believed to favor acceptance of the British government's invitation.

BELIEVE FEINERS ACCEPT PROPOSAL

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—Sinn Féin will accept Lloyd George's proposal of a conference Sept. 20, members of the Daily Express believed today.

The form which President De Valera's note of acceptance will take and the further jockeying for position before the time for the conference arrives, remained in doubt.

That portion of the British prime minister's note, in which he stated definitely Sinn Féin will be permitted to "raise the subject of guarantees on any points" in which it may consider Irish freedom is prejudiced, is considered here another diplomatic victory for De Valera.

Sinn Féin, it is pointed out, now can go to a conference with the British government on the interpretation of the phrase "consent of the governed" but able to raise objections on any point.

The Irish delegation probably would include President De Valera, Arthur Griffith and Professor McNeill.

Sinn Féin's inner ring considered the British note and the situation in private last night.

LONDON PRESS IS OPTIMISTIC

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Optimism was the chief note of the press comment today upon the British cabinet's note to the Sinn Féin suggesting a free and untrammeled peace conference in Scotland to open Sept. 20.

The Tory newspaper Morning Post was the only exception. This newspaper, which has been consistently attacking the Irish policy of the government, made a vigorous assault upon the cabinet's conciliatory invitation to the Sinn Féin, calling it "treason, treachery and disloyalty."

The English note now is under consideration by the Sinn Féin leaders at Dublin and it is believed a reply will have been sent to Premier Lloyd George by Monday.

The Pall Mall Gazette, a Lloyd George organ, predicts tragedy, anarchy and violent warfare if the new negotiations collapse.

"We hope for the sake of the country to which they profess devotion, the Sinn Féiners are prepared to join in framing a peace constitution which is the basis of which the rights of Great Britain and Irish province can be prescribed.

Otherwise it is difficult to see how a temporary return to anarchy can be avoided or even more tragical warfare than marked by the past year. If the freedom of Ulster is to be recognized, there is here a home within the becoming united upon one political basis. If the Sinn Féin cannot make up its mind to that exercise of self-restraint, the future will be even more stern than the past."

The Freeman's Journal of Dublin says the latest developments are "encouraging in many directions."

SAYS MAN KILLED NOT HER HUSBAND

Kansas City Woman Regrets
First Fears Groundless.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Bessie Johnson, who yesterday claimed that her husband, an automobile driver, killed in an automobile accident at Bloomington, Ill., as that of her husband, was convinced today that her fears were groundless.

A description of the Carl Johnson killed there does not tally with that of her missing husband.

In Bloomington, according to word received by police here, another woman, who is Johnson's wife, having married him at Elk Point, S. D., on Aug. 6.

She says she knew him as T. B. McKnight and married him under that name. She was with him in the automobile when the accident which caused his death occurred Sunday, but escaped unharmed.

Mrs. Johnson said she had traced her husband all over the East and back to Indianapolis, where she learned two weeks ago he was going under the name of "McKnight."

She said she had been forced to support herself here while her husband traveled around in luxury.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Sept. 9.—A new angle was given the mysterious death of T. B. McKnight, revealed in his death in an auto crash, when his wife confessed he had been masquerading under the name of "Carl Johnson."

McKnight had $200,000 in jewels and deeds, made out to Johnson, in his possession when killed.

The widow refused to say how he had acquired them.

Hold Deputies for Release of Bandits

TOLDO, Sept. 9.—Samuel Zimmerman and Andrew Semetko, deputies on guard when three convicted Toledo postoffice bandits escaped from jail here Monday, were ordered today when the learned Federal warrants had been issued for their arrest.

Both deputies were dismissed by Sheriff John Taylor, who charged them with gross negligence and violation of orders.

The warrants charge the deputies with the release of "three of Toledo's million-dollar bandits. They will be held under $2,000 bail each."

The Federal grand jury, which meets on Sept. 19, is expected to investigate the jail delivery.

$200 for Tiger

Robert Hackney, 68 South Emerson, who was arrested July 10, by Federal officers and held in police custody on a charge of operating a blind tiger, was fined $200 and costs by Special Judge Henry Abrams in city court yesterday afternoon.

The heavy fine was given when the State produced evidence that Hackney was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to thirty days on the Indiana State penitentiary on a similar charge in 1918.

ON GOOD TERMS WITH BEES

C. O. Yost and His Tame (?) Bees.

How would you like to be a bee tamer? C. O. Yost, State apical inspector of the State entomologist's department, seemingly knows how to handle the erratic little insects for daily he allows swarms of them to crawl over his face for the education of crowds at the State fairground. This picture shows Mr. Yost in one of his characteristic poses at the bee keepers' exhibit at the fair.

Speaking of matters de luxe as applied to live stock, it is a constant source of bewilderment to the ignorant city man as to the how and why of marcelled hogs.

Of course all those at the fair are immaculate in appearance—carefully laundered, with spotless hoods and hosiery that seemingly have known the joy of a hot water bath.

They seem to have a step beyond the mere matter of cleanliness and indulge in the vanity of marcelled hair on their flanks or along their entire sides.

U. S. INSISTS ON ALL MANDATES EQUAL RIGHT IN

Must Be Consulted Before
Disposing of German Colonies,
Note Says.

U. S. Again Subject of League Debate

GENEVA, Sept. 9.—The suggestion that conditions might arise which would call for a blockade of the United States as a non-member of the League of Nations, was made in debate in the league assembly meeting this afternoon.

The report of the committee on blockade was under consideration.

Lord Robert Cecil also declared the committee completely rejected the question of what the league would do if the United States should supply a nation which the league had decided to blockade.

GENEVA, Sept. 9.—The United States, in its latest note to the allied powers, insists that America shall have the same rights in mandatory territories as members of the League of Nations, it was learned here today.

The text of the American note has been received by the delegates of the allied powers attending the League of Nations assembly meeting from the various allied foreign offices.

DEMANDS PART IN MANDATE DECISIONS.

It is understood the American note raises the following points:

1. America reasserts that the allies must consult her before disposing of the former German colonies.

2. America insists that she have the same trade rights in mandate territories as members of the League of Nations.

3. No mandate shall be modified without the consent of the United States.

4. The American note meets the allied argument that the United States did not war on Turkey and consequently has no voice in the disposition of Turkish colonies by asserting that Turkey would not have been defeated if the United States had not fought Germany.

5. The American note suggests that effective governments can be established in these countries.

It is learned that all prospects for any real progress on disarmament at this session have been severely retarded by the flat refusal of England and France to "interchange" full statistical reports of armaments.

Lord Robert Cecil's resolution asking that the Class A and Class B mandates be defined at once was referred by the assembly to the committee handling political questions.

Dr. Nansen, head of the international relief work for Russia, made a two-hour speech offering a resolution to refer the question of relief to a committee of the assembly which would make an appeal to all governments to issue credits.

Dr. Nansen, before coming to Geneva, negotiated an agreement with the Moscow Soviet in which the latter requested an international loan of $50,000,000 to aid famine and cholera sufferers.

The British already have refused to participate in any such international loan, asserting that Russia is bankrupt and could not repay, and also because the Soviet did not give guarantees that the food purchased would be distributed to those in need.

Neither do I believe in adding humiliation to any defendant's troubles."

"I will enter the office without any hobbles to ride or experiments to try out. The statutes of the State provide a rule of conduct which every judge is bound to follow if he be true to the oath of his office. I do not believe in 'bench-made' law. I am against prejudging a case. I expect the jury to decide according to law, securing to each defendant every right guaranteed to him under the constitution and laws of the State. No two cases are alike. There will be no hard and fast rule, except those provided by law, in any court over which I preside."

"I shall give every man a fair and impartial trial. If he is not guilty I shall discharge him. If he is guilty he may expect to be punished. But his punishment shall be made to fit his offense, the object being reformation—never vindictive justice. I do not believe in grading any defendant as a side show, neither do I believe in adding humiliation to any defendant's troubles."

Prince Dowle of Persia expressed hope that the committee on mandates "gives satisfaction to the just claims of America."

"The whole world is turning its eyes toward the Washington conference because the League of Nations had done nothing but talk about disarmament without taking any action," added the Persian delegate.

Announcement was made that Venezuela has ratified the international court of justice and arbitration. The election of judges will take place next Wednesday.

News of Son's Death Prostrates Parents

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 9.—When word of the death of Clarence S. Jolly, 15, who was accidentally shot while hunting near Belleville, Brown County, was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Jolly, both were prostrated and are reported to be in a serious condition from shock. The boy was hunting alone at the time of the accident. His body was found in a field, guarded by his Alreido dog.

Lost Boy Identified.

GREENSBURG, Ind., Sept. 9.—Orville Thatcher, alias Orville Robinson, the 9-year-old boy held here by Sheriff Harry Hadden, was taken to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan's Home at Knightstown today, from which place he ran away last week, after officials spent several days investigation various stories told by the boy. He was identified by Superintendent Short of the Knightstown institution.

Offers Bible to Benighted Hoosier City

COLUMBUS, Ind., Sept. 9.—"A bible famine in Columbus!" said a news story which recently went the rounds of the country's press. Now comes a relief of sorts from Newbury, Ky., Mrs. Elvira Fitch of that city, writes to Irvin A. Cox, local postmaster, that she has a Bible which she will send to the distressed city. Mrs. Fitch's Bible was printed in 1906 but is still in serviceable condition, she states.

The story that Columbus was without Bibles originated when not a single family Bible could be found for sale in the city.

LABOR OUTLOOK IS ON UP-GRADE

Idleness Being Cut Down,
Secretary Hoover
Says.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Officials took a more optimistic view of the unemployment situation today. Indications of a better trend industrially, particularly in agriculture, are multiplying.

Secretary Hoover said he was very hopeful the stimulation in cotton and wheat will extend to other lines that have been stagnant since the price decline started business to sagging.

Others in touch with the fiscal and commercial outlook were equally sanguine the corner had been turned. The permanency of these improvements in business in the lines described, it was said, is bound to cut down idleness to some extent of the present idleness.

Plans went ahead speedily today for a conference on unemployment here. Secretary Hoover has laid the tentative program for the conference before the President and his cabinet.

There are approximately 4,500,000 bread winners out of employment, according to calculations made from the latest government reports on unemployment.

CITES AD MEN TO RESPONSIBILITY

Speaker Says 'Truth-in-Advertising' Gives Opportunity.

"We live in a 'truth in advertising' age, and the fact gives you advertising men a peculiar responsibility of injecting truth in advertising," said the speaker.

Thomas F. L. Henderson of Chicago in his talk at the luncheon of the Advertising Club at the Chamber of Commerce Building yesterday.

"Life is a question of constant growth," he said, "and the individual's success is determined by his willingness to progress and the mental attitude he assumes toward life. Two men look out the same doorway. One's gaze is lowered. He sees only mud. The other looks upward to the stars. Keep your gaze upward."

Mr. Henderson laid much stress on the need of developing scientific and advertising methods of the allocation.

"And as far as possible fortify your selves with a knowledge of general advertising," said Mr. Henderson in conclusion.

"The advertising man who will reach the top notch of success will be the man who knows about many subjects, who does not rest on his laurels, but fortifies himself with a background of splendid general information."

School Board to Receive Sewer Bids

The board of school commissioners will meet this afternoon to receive bids for the sewer system for the Arsenal Technical school and they are expected to discuss the letter received from the State board of tax commissioners demanding the school board reduce its request for an $847,000 worth of bonds to $200,000.

The school board threatened suit to compel the tax board to rule upon the $847,000 issue one way or another without further delay. Whether or not the reply, asking for the cut in the size of the issue is to be considered a definite refusal to approve the issue asked for was to be discussed this afternoon.

Rich Banker's Son Is Mysteriously Hurt

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Mystery surrounds the exact reasons for the critical condition of Walter Seligman, son of the international banker, Henry Seligman, who is recovering at his father's palatial summer home at Elberon, N. J., from serious injuries after a gay dinner party last week. Mrs. Mabel M. Bach, pretty blonde, admits she was a member of the party at which the injury occurred.

That young Seligman was the victim of an attack is admitted, but the name of his attacker is withheld.

Today's Sessions End Teachers' Meetings

The series of meetings which opened at Sherridge Wednesday morning for the benefit of teachers in the city public schools closed with special meetings with district superintendents at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The regular schedule of classes at the various buildings was observed. Tomorrow the teachers are asked to report at their buildings in preparation for the opening of school Monday.
