

ASKS SPECIAL TRAINING FOR PLAGUE SERVICE

Sunnyside Superintendent Addresses State Nurses' Association.

Special training in tuberculosis sanatoriums for nurses was stressed by Dr. H. S. Hatch, superintendent of Sunnyside Sanatorium of Indianapolis, in his talk at the opening session of the Indiana State Nurses Association this morning in the Palm room of the Claypool hotel. The State League of Nursing Education is providing the program today and holding a special conference in connection with the convention.

Dr. Hatch said that the great trouble in caring for tuberculosis is the fact that the nurses lack knowledge of the disease. He suggested that in the last year of the nurses' training, at least six weeks training in tuberculosis sanatorium be interpolated.

Following Dr. Hatch's talk a general discussion was carried on, Dr. Crull of Ft. Wayne and Dr. Johnson of Evansville telling of the work in their cities in the sanatoriums.

Miss Edna Hamilton, superintendent of Public Health Nursing Association of Indianapolis, addressed the body also, telling of the work and organization of her association. She defined the public health nurse as "a graduate nurse employed in a community to safeguard the health of its people; one who gives skilled care to the sick in their homes, promotes health by teaching families how to keep well and assists in the prevention of diseases."

Mrs. Ethel P. Clarke, president of the league, presided.

This afternoon Ida J. McCaslin, secretary of the Indiana State board of examination and registration of nurses, spoke on "A Word From the Board of Examiners." Elizabeth Springer talked on "Opportunities for Further Preparation Along Educational Lines," and Mary Roberts, coeditor of the American Journal of Nursing, made a brief talk which was followed by a round table discussion.

Tomorrow morning the general business session will be opened at 9 o'clock when reports of officers and standing committees will occupy the greater part of the time. Miss June Gray of the Indianapolis Red Cross teaching center will give a talk and a luncheon at the Claypool hotel, Mrs. Gaskill of the State board of health acting as toastmistress, will follow the session. Business will be resumed at 2 o'clock when a group of short talks will compose the program. The convention will be continued through Friday evening and special clinics are to be held Saturday morning.

NEWS GARBLES STATEMENT TO DISCREDIT MEN

Taft campaign when, at the request of Richard Smith, he delivered a ward delegation to the Taft crowd.

The attempt to involve Samuel Lewis Shank with Francis, which was made in the first story of the Francis confession, appears to have "fallen down," for an obvious attempt to "cover up" is contained in the second story. The News said:

"The report that has been previously given out to the effect that Francis said that Lew Shank, candidate for mayor of Indianapolis, accompanied Francis, Mrs. Francis and Herbert Hartman and his wife and Ed Dugan to Louisville to attend the Derby is incorrect. What Francis said, it is understood, was that on the day of the Derby he and his party saw Shank several times and that 'we wanted Shank to go to West Baden with us.' He added, however, that Shank did not go to West Baden, but went on to Washington, D. C."

In his sworn statement, Francis says: "We met Shank and Doc Christy. They had a quart of whiskey. He (Hartman) said he would meet them at the Tyler hotel. Shank went to the Tyler hotel and registered there. We met him and took him to the races. We drove down and got him in the afternoon. . . . I drove him (Hartman) and Shank and his wife and my wife to the races and we came back. Shank stayed at the Tyler."

Mr. Shank has since produced an Indianapolis man, who is supported in his statement, that he and not Francis, drove Shank to the races.

Comparison of the sworn statement of Francis with what was published here as his "confession," reveals dozens of other instances of garbling, perversion and misrepresentation, the obvious object in each case being to connect Shank with Francis and Hartman, and to protect members of the lowest administration and supporters of Mr. Thomas C. Howe.

In Tuesday's issue the News says, "Francis apparently has intimate knowledge in regard to political conferences that were held at the home of Lew Shank, nominee for mayor, after the primary election. At least it is said he has told the police the names of those who attended one of these conferences, and has repeated remarks which he said were made by various persons at the meeting. Francis seems to know that it was the plan of certain Shank supporters to make Herman Rikhoof chief of police in event of Shank's election."

The sworn statement of Francis does not contain any reference to any meetings at Shank's home, and it does not mention Herman Rikhoof, either as a proposed chief of police, or in any other connection. The only reference to a chief of police in the whole statement is the following:

"I started to kidding Lew," I said, "I've done a hell of a lot for you, what do I get out of this. I have stolen a lot of votes for you, why not make Dugan chief of police?"

Out of this reference to the chief of police, there is now being attempted a perversion, the object of which is to impress voters that Mr. Shank has promised William Armitage the privilege of naming the chief of police and Armitage has selected Herman Rikhoof for the place.

Seventeen Foreign Born Now Citizens

Seventeen foreigners today were admitted to full citizenship by Judge W. W. Thornton of Superior Court, room 1, at the first session of a three-day hearing. Those admitted were as follows: Martin Pedersen, John Batkin, Gottlieb Pantle, Octavious Botu, Alex Cohen, John Klotz, Otto Marasky, Louis Feldman, Eli Vedicht, Shukre G. Mussawir, Patrick Fox, David Bernstein, Albert Kesppe, Michael Hett, Theophile Hangz, Otto Mix and Jacob Goepfer. Three applications were dismissed as follows: Francis De Foe, William Pitzschler and William Segal. There is a total of 130 applicants seeking to obtain final citizenship papers.

M'CRAY WILL DECIDE W. VA. EXTRADITION

Attorney Contends Deported Miner Not Subject to Return.

Governor Warren T. McCray was expected to decide this afternoon whether a request for the extradition of William Robb of Terre Haute, charged in West Virginia with conspiracy to commit a felony, shall be honored. A hearing on the question was held in the office of the Governor this morning.

Robb, who is an organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, is charged with conspiracy in connection with the killing of Dan Whitl and others in Mingo County last May. It was contented at the hearing that Robb is neither guilty nor a fugitive from justice. The contention that he is not a fugitive is based on the fact that he was deported from West Virginia.

SAYS MANY

COULD BE TAKEN.

Henry Warrum, an attorney for Robb, explained that the duties of the organization in West Virginia consisted of the distribution of relief.

"He had no more to do with the actual killing than I have," he said. "He is charged on the theory that there was a conspiracy to kill. Under that theory there could be any number of arrests in West Virginia, Indiana and other States."

Mr. Warrum pointed out that the killing occurred in May, but that Robb was not deported until two months afterward. It was explained that Robb was deported with others as a result of a charge of holding a disorderly meeting. It was said he was given the choice between leaving the State or going to jail.

RAISES QUESTION

OF ROBB'S SAFETY.

The attorney declared there was a question in his mind as to the physical safety of Robb should he return to West Virginia. In this connection he referred to the case of Sid Hatfield, who was killed while under arrest.

"If you will investigate conditions you wouldn't send a favorite dog to West Virginia to be tried," Mr. Warrum said.

Charles Ritchie, assistant attorney general of West Virginia, who is here representing Governor Morgan of that State, declared that it makes no difference to the Government of West Virginia whether the mines are organized so long as it is done in a lawful manner. He said he resented any statements that a man could not receive a fair trial in that State.

In closing the hearing Governor McCray said that he will decide only the question of whether Robb will receive fair treatment if he is returned to West Virginia.

Funeral Services for Miss Whitman

Funeral services for Miss Stella Whitman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Whitman, 224 Central avenue, who died at the home of her parents yesterday, will be held Thursday morning from the home. Burial will be at the Hebrew cemetery. Following her graduation from Shortridge High School, Miss Whitman went abroad to study music, about twelve years ago. In 1913 she received the first scholarship in the Royal Academy of Music of Budapest, Hungary.

She is survived by her parents, two sisters, Mrs. Rosalind Well of Far Rockaway, N. Y., and Miss Helen Hoover of Osceola, Iowa, and two brothers, Irving and Benjamin Whitman, both of this city.

KENDALLVILLE ALSO PETITIONS

Court Asked to Forestall Boost in Rates for Current.

Suit for injunction to prevent the public service commission of Indiana from attempting to prevent the Indiana Fuel and Light Company of Kendallville, Ind., from increasing its rates, was filed in Federal Court today.

This is the second suit of this character to be filed against the public service commission in Federal Court, the other being filed about two months ago by the Home Telephone Company of Ft. Wayne. Like the complaint of the Ft. Wayne Company, the one filed today is based upon the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which provides that no person shall be deprived of property without due process of law. It is insisted that the action of the public service commission in refusing to put into effect rates which will take care of the depreciation of the property of the company and yield a reasonable return upon the investment, constitutes a violation of the fourteenth amendment.

The complaint states that the present rates which range from $2 to $1.55 a thousand feet depending upon the quantity of gas used, were established June 10, 1920, by the commission. This year the plaintiff petitioned for an increase which would make the rates range from $2.25 to $1.50. At the hearing July 21 the petition was denied.

The public service commission, its individual members and V. L. Lash, attorney general for Indiana, are named as defendants.

WOMAN TRIED FOR ARSON.

The State today began introducing evidence in the case against Henna B. Osburn, who is charged with setting fire to a house for the alleged purpose of collecting insurance on her furniture. A jury was obtained late last night in the Criminal Court. Mrs. Osburn was tried several weeks ago, but the jury failed to agree.

TO ADDRESS CREDIT MEN.

Frank C. Jordan, chairman of the fire prevention committee of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Indianapolis Association of Credit Men tomorrow at the Claypool Hotel. The subject of his talk will be fire prevention, and how to make a cleaner, safer and healthier Indianapolis.

TAYLOR TO ADDRESS AD CLUB.

Yon Is the Judge will be the subject of an address by Carl A. Taylor of the Taylor Carpet Company at the weekly luncheon of the Advertising Club of Indianapolis, on the seventh floor of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce building tomorrow.
