

MAN, ADAM CLAD, RUNS AS HUBBY ENTERS HOME

Clothing and Auto Left Behind—Pair Stated on Delinquency Charge.

O. A. Meyers, 702 East Eleventh street, arrived home at 9 o'clock last night and a stranger ran through the front door of the house clad, Meyers told the police, "like September morn."

As a result Mrs. Mabel Meyers, 22, wife of O. A. Meyers, was arrested on the charge of child neglect. Meyers and his wife have a daughter, Anna May Meyers, 3.

The stranger's clothing was found in the house and taken to police headquarters. The stranger's automobile, a Monroe with license number 18748, also was taken to police headquarters. Four hours later the police arrested S. L. Adams, 59, 1915 Ashland avenue, who Mrs. Meyers said was the man in the house. Adams is charged with contributing to delinquency.

WHIPS WIFE'S ESCORT.

HOLDS HIM FOR COPS.

The police received a call to Twenty-Seventh street and Ethel avenue at 1 a. m. today on a report of a fight. They found Arthur Creekbaum, 26, 2730 Ethel avenue, dragging a man along the street. The man was covered with blood.

"I was looking for you," said Creekbaum to the police. "I have three small children. My wife did not come home tonight. I waited and this fellow brought her home and put her on the porch. She is under the influence of liquor."

Creekbaum, who is a tiling contractor, freely admitted he had whipped his wife's escort until he was pulled off of him by some men who came to his aid. Then he said he grabbed hold of the man and started to take him to the police.

CHARGE'S NAME.

AND ADDRESS.

Creekbaum was arrested on the charge of assault and battery. A similar charge was placed against the stranger. The man gave his name to the turnkey as Frank Clements, 38, a traveling salesman from Terre Haute, when he was slated. Later he pressed a battered and bruised face against the bars at police headquarters and said, "I am Elmer Lamb, from another city. What name did I give you?"

Lamb explained it was a climax of a "big booze party" held at a house near the Creekbaum home and that he "just took the woman home because she was too drunk to get home herself."

DETROIT, TOO, MAY USE

Tear Bombs on Mobs

DETROIT, Oct. 14.—Tear gas bombs will become part of the equipment of the Detroit police department soon, Police Commissioner Charles J. Whelan announced.

The gas produces a temporary but violent crying spell, which doctors have declared harmless.

The gas irritates the mucous membrane of the mouth and nose and causes the tears to flow.

"I believe these tear bombs will assist in quelling mobs," said Dr. Ingham, "and will also be useful in capturing the man who barricades himself and then invites the police to come and get him. The bomb could be tossed through a window."

STRANGE ROOT DISEASE.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Thousands of farmers have suffered tremendous losses as the result of a root disease which eats a great cavity in turnips and similar garden produce.
