

GOVERNOR WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO UNKNOWN DEAD

McCray to Speak at Monument and Statehouse Exercises Armistice Day.

ALLYN TO BE POST GUEST

Governor Warren T. McCray has accepted an invitation to speak at the memorial services at the Monument at 11:30 o'clock Friday morning in honor of the unknown soldier who is to be buried at that hour in Arlington Cemetery at Washington. The Governor also will deliver an address of welcome at the mass meeting at the State House in the afternoon immediately following the big Armistice Day parade. It was announced today by officials of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, under whose auspices the Armistice Day celebration will be given.

FOREIGN WARS' OFFICIAL GUEST. Robert Starr Allyn of New York City, judge advocate general of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will come to Indianapolis for the celebration and will be guest of the local post, No. 624.

It also has been announced that Colonel Marquis di Bernese, who was to have been present as the representative of the Italian government, has been attached to the staff of General Diaz who is visiting in this country, and his place will be taken by Dr. Vincent A. Lapenta, consular agent in this city.

The day's program will be largely in the nature of a memorial observance. At noon the Marion County posts of the American Legion will hold an impressive memorial service in Keith's Theater. This will be in accordance with the request of former Commander Emery that legion posts make Armistice day a solemn occasion as a tribute to the fallen comrades. Gold Star mothers will be invited to the service.

TWELVE BANDS, THREE DRUM CORPS ENGAGED FOR PARADE.

The parade in the afternoon promises to be a big affair. Fifty-eight organizations, including uniformed drill teams and degree teams of fraternal organizations and a large number of labor organizations will participate. Twelve bands and three drum corps will be in line. The city will be represented by former service men of the police department, and the R. O. T. C. corps of the local high schools will march. The Boy Scouts also will be represented.

Following the parade there will be a big mass meeting at the State House. This will be addressed by Robert Starr Allyn whose subject will be "Americanism." Former Governor Samuel M. Ralston will speak on "The Unknown Soldier." James Wilson of Cincinnati on "Disarmament" and Dr. V. A. La Penta on "The Meaning of the Armistice." Governor McCray also will deliver an address of welcome. The meeting will be presided over by Thomas Garvin.

The annual Red Cross membership campaign will be begun on Armistice day. Last year almost 35,000 members were enrolled during the campaign and it is hoped that this number will be exceeded in the present campaign. The chief appeal of the drive will be based on the work the Red Cross has done and is doing for the former service men and their dependents.

SAYS MORTGAGE LOANS SOUGHT

Department Head Addresses Real Estate Men.

That investors slowly are returning to the mortgage market, and that the mortgage loan as an investment that is attractive and that when this occurs the home-building situation in Indianapolis will be at once relieved materially were points brought out by William B. Smith, department head of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company, who spoke at the weekly meeting of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board at luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce today.

"With the general easing of credit which has been experienced during the past ten months, as evidenced by the flotation of several series of United States certificates of indebtedness—each at a lower rate than the preceding one—there is reason to believe that the real estate mortgage loan will again become attractive to the investor in the not-distant future," said Mr. Smith. "When this condition becomes a fact and we are again able to sell mortgages in quantity, we will be in position to give fullest co-operation to the financing completely with the Indianapolis realtors."

The speaker related the history of the drying up of real estate mortgage money channels, because of the calls for government financing during the war, and he showed graphically how it was impossible for the trust companies to supply enough funds from their own resources to take care of the great volume of new building that is needed in the country. The return to a selling basis of the real estate mortgage should bring much relief, he pointed out.

GLENN STOUT CASE CALLED FOR TRIAL

Selection of Jury Occupies First Day.

Glenn Stout, who is charged with being the driver of the automobile which was used by George W. Miller, bank bandit, who is now serving a sentence of from ten to twenty years at the Indiana State Reformatory for his connections with the robbery of the Beech Grove Bank of $23,000 in cash and bonds, today is on trial in the Marion County Criminal Court before Special Judge Harry Chamberlin.

The evidence in Miller's case tended to show that Stout drove the high powered automobile which was used by the bank bandits during the daring robbery. Efforts to obtain a jury in Stout's case began this morning and were resumed this afternoon. Indications are that the jury will not be obtained until late this afternoon. Stout took a change of venue from Judge James A. Collins. Special Judge Charles Wiltse was then selected but he was unable to sit in the case.

Cost of Living in Indianapolis Has Dropped 2 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Milwaukee first place among nine cities showed a decrease in the retail cost of food during the month from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, the decrease amounting to 3 per cent, the Department of Labor announced today.

Chicago, Detroit and Indianapolis reported a decrease of 2 per cent while in Peoria, Ill., and St. Louis the decrease was 1 per cent. In Minneapolis the decrease amounted to 1 per cent.

There was no change in retail prices in Columbus, Ohio, while in Milwaukee, Ala., reported an increase of 1 per cent during the month.

PACKERS START MOVEMENT TO REDUCE WAGES

'Big Five' Urges Unions to Open Negotiations at Once.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Notice was served on packer employees of the country today that wages must be reduced immediately.

The "big five" packers informed company unions of the desire of the employers to open negotiations at once to arrange a wage cut.

The move of packers to cut wages followed the declaration of an open shop in the industry after the agreement under which wages were set during the war period, expired on Sept. 15.

The regular union organizations have voted to strike against the open shop declarations and have bitterly fought "company unions." These were formed last spring and the wage cut is the first matter brought up for their consideration.

In the notice sent the plant assemblies, as the company unions are termed, no definite amount for the proposed wage cut was named.

Louis Swift, president of the Swift Packing Company, in a letter to the plant assemblies of his concern, declared the company had reduced expenses in every other way before announcing the need of a wage reduction.

"We trust members of our organization realize that we want them to suffer as little hardship as possible from the hard times which have befallen the country," Swift continued.

It is only because of great necessity that we bring up the need of a further substantial reduction in expenses so that we can meet competition of other concerns operating at much lower labor costs.

It is a well-known fact that wages in other industries have come down much faster than in the packing industry.

"We have held off on the matter as long as we possibly can—longer than business warranted."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A campaign against "meat profiteers" will be begun within a few days by the Department of Agriculture, which is determined to bring down meat prices. It was learned today from high officials of the department.

The department has just completed a survey which shows, officials said, that retail meat prices the country over are on an average 117 per cent higher than before the war. The survey shows most of this is going into the pockets of retail meat dealers as profit.

Various measures are being considered by the department to force down meat prices. One plan is to permit the big packers to establish retail stores and sell directly to the public.

U. S. TO SUSPEND NAVY BUILDING

Actual Construction Abandoned During Arms Parley.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Suspension of all naval construction by the United States during the armistice conference may be announced by President Harding in a speech opening the conference Saturday. Harding is considering the advisability of ordering such suspension as an evidence of good faith in this country.

If Harding does not suspend naval building, Senators Pomeroy, Ohio, and Borah, Idaho, will ask the Senate to adopt the Pomeroy resolution requesting Harding to order the suspension.
