W.-J. TEAM IS NOW HAILED AS WONDER ELEVEN

Work in Coast Game Shows It Has All-Around High Class.

STEIN A REAL CAPTAIN

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 4.—Washington and Jefferson, the Eastern football team which held California, undisputed Pacific Coast Conference champions, to a scoreless tie at Tournament Park Monday, is heralded as the strongest eleven which ever invaded sunny California. The Eastern eleven's offensive and defensive strategy was a revelation to those who have followed the gridiron game in this section for years.

Such blocking, charging and vicious tackling has never been seen along the Pacific Coast before, and for this reason W. and J. is looked upon as a great machine that was well versed in all departments of play.

AND A PRIMER FOR THE BATTLE

Condition was the football essential which showed the caliber of football played in the Middle West and Far East is superior to that played in this section in previous years. Eastern eleven has not been in physical shape to combat the fast coming eleven in the Far West.

That W. and J. was in condition and primed for the battle was shown by the fact that the team played through the entire game with eleven men, while California made several substitutions. Coach Neale and Manager Murphy of the Pennsylvanians proved conclusively that the team was in shape to meet the challenge of a day or two in advance of the struggle.

MORAL VICTORY FOR W. AND J.

In striking contrast was Monday's struggle to that between California and Ohio State a year ago. In this year's game W. and J. won a moral victory because its line broke and the smashing ends drove in and charged up plays before the California line could get into the game. The Buckeye forwards did not charge and the ends failed to smash. The result was that California played rings around the eleven which had won the Big Ten title.

Although weather conditions were unfavorable for the game, the Eastern team, W. and J., outplayed the Bears in every department except kicking. The Presidents here on their toes and fought the ball all the way. On the other hand, California, which had displayed a feeling of confidence for the first time in the game, was hitless, and did not get into the game with the fighting spirit necessary to combat a team of the easterners' type.

MULLER MADE TO LOOK BAD

With the exception of Archie Nesbit, there were no players on the California team who matched up with some of the men seen in the East and Middle West. Dan McMullan, the tackle, played a great game, but not enough players were sent out to get a true line on his defensive end. Brick Muller, the much heralded tackle, looked bad, while Charley Erb at quarterback failed to live up to expectations. Instead of California being called the "Wonder Eleven" the W. and J. rosters looked the better team.

This just about fits the mental picture of the California players, who were taken to the game in a manner which would understand how they were not to be stopped or stop the attack of the visiting team. It simply was a bare case of overconfidence, and the hardest of all, a case of complacency.

CAPTAIN STEIN

The superb playing of Capt. Russell Stein of W. and J. was the talk of the football field Tuesday. This giant stand out player in a manner which would have been a credit to any coach. He directed his team's attack and was in the battle at all times. Stein is the only one of the really great players of the year.

Harold Erickson and Wayne Brenkert, tackle of the team, were also being roundly praised for their great playing. They advanced the ball for consistent gains, while the long run by Brenkert, who touched down twice before the game, because Captain Stein was offside, was one of the features of the game.

Both eleven's were banqueting at their respective hotels Monday night. A majority of the California players who live in the West section of the city returned to their homes immediately after the game. The W. and J. squad, which was disappointed of its signing, however, because of the struggle, will leave for home on Thursday.

BILLIARDS

SHANE DEFEATS BELL. Martin Shane Tuesday night defeated George Bell in the city amateur three-cushion billiard match. Shane, who was defeated by his victory against Mitchell and Bostock for second place honors in the meet.

George Brown and James Girard are scheduled to play tonight at 7:45 o'clock.

International Loop to Discuss Landis Draft Plan Feb. 13

President Toole Fails to Indicate Stand to Be Taken by League.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A proposal to a return to the drafting system agreed upon last month by baseball's advisory council, will be accepted or rejected by the International League next month, according to indications today.

"The International League's schedule meeting will be held here Feb. 13," said President Toole. "While I have not heard officially from Commissioner Landis regarding the plan for a return to the draft, and to receive a council recommendation before our next meeting comes."

"Nothing new has developed along official lines. At its last meeting our league stood behind its rejection of the draft and the features of the new proposition have only been discussed informally. Naturally, any league can change its attitude. In advance of the next meeting of all our club owners it would be impossible to predict anything. Personally, I have no doubt that the proposal will be submitted by Judge Landis in due time and that in that event it will certainly come up for discussion. The American Association discussed the proposal at its recent schedule meeting, but I have never heard anything regarding the attitude of its individual club owners. I do not wish to make my opinion public at this time."

According to the present national agreement any of the non-drafting leagues have leeway to return to the drafting system by making their intentions known before Feb. 15 of any year.
