

WASHINGTON CONCERNED IN CANNES PARLEY

Submarine Contention May Be Settled on Other Side of Atlantic.

ARMS INTEREST KEEN

Special to Indiana Daily Times and Philadelphia Public Ledger. By FREDERICK WILLIAM WILE. WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Conference leaders' attention is riveted on Cannes almost as intently as on the eleventh-hour affairs in Washington. The eyes of the Harding Administration and the American delegation are turned in the direction of the French Riviera with particular eagerness. They believe there is strong probability the damage done at Washington—French break-out of the submarine limitation program—may be entirely repaired by developments at Cannes.

In plain terms, the view prevails that if France secures the protective bond she desires from Great Britain, her claims for 90,000 tons of submarines automatically will be abandoned. There are persons in Washington so confident such an issue is impending that they hold it possible the French formally may scrap the program they so stubbornly espoused here two weeks ago.

FRENCH FEEL PRESTIGE LOSS. France is known to feel poignantly the loss in prestige her irreconcilability on submarines has caused her in the United States. The French have been called a "disturbing" force. Perhaps it may be possible for M. Sarraut, when the five-power naval treaty is publicly proclaimed at this week's expected plenary session, to make the most dramatic announcement of the entire conference. He may tell the world interesting developments in Europe no longer make it necessary for France to withhold her assent to a moderate submarine quota.

Speculation on the above mentioned score certainly dominates conference thoughts at this hour. As men have had time to diagnose the French attitude during the past fortnight, there has been an inclination to view France's tactics in a somewhat kinder light. The first effect of them was disappointing in the extreme. Both President Harding and Secretary Hughes were deeply and frankly chagrined.

M. Briand and M. Vissani had both left Washington in good humor. With the French delegation's success in blocking conference consideration of armament limitation, France was regarded as having accomplished really all she was interested in. One should carry a huge stick and wear a tailored hat with it, to be literal.

Broadsides are the thing—regardless of what influence you follow—broadsides are the thing. The French have been slipping, dress hats, and this whole coat for formal occasions. It is made of a wonderful Japanese brocade, black and dull gold, with tiny little oval scenes, and a skirt is slightly flared and slipping full, the waist is pulled in with darts to give that fragile and in effect that the mid-Victorians liked in their women.

The unquestionably directorial collar is faced with black velvet to make a becoming background for the face. Last night, a fringe of monkey fur at the edge of the sleeves and dangling from the hem. The director, in my opinion, is an inflexible man in every well leave alone—stiff, tailored, uncompromising, unbecoming. But this coat of brocade is altogether charming and desirable whatever its source.

reason to believe, American support today could far more easily be had than might have been the case two weeks ago. —Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.

It is a strange season. Greek and Spanish influence have struggled on even terms with the mid-Victorian, while Chinese and Oriental have feebly attempted to get into the scrimmage from the edges—and now we have a directorial coat, unmistakably and indisputably a directorial coat. One should carry a huge stick and wear a tailored hat with it, to be literal.

Negro Shows Trick and Five Vanishes

Engine Allen, negro, who gave his address as the 700 block on West Twenty-sixth street, was fined $15 and costs on the charge of petty larceny in city court yesterday afternoon by Judge Delbert O. Wilmet. A charge of robbery was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting witnesses.

Evidence showed Allen tried to teach William Grubbs, negro, 729 West Twenty-fifth street, a card trick. It cost Grubbs $5. Allen took the money away from Grubbs in the complicated execution of the trick and the father of the Grubbs boy filed affidavits against him.

HOME MAKERS SHOW INTEREST IN ECONOMICS

Action of Mothers' Congress Indicates Trend of Female Mind.

Special to Indiana Daily Times and Philadelphia Public Ledger. By CONSTANCE DREXEL. WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—That even the average home woman is learning to pay greater attention to world affairs is evinced by resolutions pertaining to the Washington conference which will be introduced at the national board meeting of the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations. The meeting will be held in Philadelphia Friday morning and afternoon.

"Believing that it devolves upon our generation to put an end to war with all its horrors and substitute effective world organization for the settlement of international differences, we rejoice in the constructive achievements of the Washington conference as steps leading in this direction."

"We endorse the limitation of naval armaments, the four-power pact, the outlawry of poison gas and restrictions of submarines, and the measures taken to remove the causes of war in the Far East. We hope that this conference will similarly outlaw the use of airplanes in bombing unfortified towns."

"We urge upon the United States Senate the speedy ratification of the treaties made here and upon Congress the drastic reduction of the army and navy appropriations as proof of our faith in the agreements reached."

Whatever the board of the congress of mothers and parent-teacher association decides at its annual meeting in Philadelphia will be reflected in Washington, as that organization has two representatives on the women's joint congressional committee. It is also affiliated with the national council for the limitation of armaments, and maintains headquarters in the building of the National Education Association here.

Looking for other worlds to conquer, women will now attempt to kill the Americas together. Secretary Hughes has already agreed to break the precedent by promising to speak at the Pan-American conference of women, which the League of Women Voters is organizing. It will be held beginning April 23 in Baltimore in connection with the league's annual convention. Invitations were sent out by our own State Department, and enthusiastic replies promising participation are being received from all the Latin-American countries and from Canada and Cuba.

As if to help the women still more in their desire to kill the Americas together, word comes from the White House that the President is planning to appoint a woman on the Brazilian exposition commission. In fact, it is said that the President is considering the appointment of a woman properly qualified.

By act of Congress passed Oct. 25, the President will appoint a commission general and five commissioners to represent the United States in the exposition which is to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the independence of Brazil. In other words, it will be a world's fair to be held in Rio de Janeiro from September to November next.

The appointment of a woman would be particularly appropriate because the third international child welfare congress will be held in connection with the exposition.—Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.

Spring is calling and the creators of fashions respond with lovely new fabrics, new and smart trimmings and a continuation of the slim-line silhouette. Although the silhouette offers nothing in the way of a radical change at the moment, the fabric field exploits much that is new and interesting. Chief among the new spring silks is a fine-ribbed crepe of sheer texture woven very closely. It is a French fabric called crepe Romane, and many other names in its American development. Next in importance is crepe faille, of a heavier weave and a more pronounced rib. Small and bright-colored designs are shown in the new satin toulards, twilled silks and fancy-figured Georgette crepes. Paisley designs are destined to play an important part in all silk weaves. Canton crepe and crepe de Chine are again to the fore in spring materials.

New weaves in suitings and coatings stress the demand for sports fabrics and colors, that is, the chevrons, home-spuns and tweeds in such colors as orchid, light blue, rose, gray and blue. Polo cloth and camel-hair, chinilla, broadcloth and twilled woollens, as tricot.

A prominent Jewish woman of Indianapolis, who has been most successful in the solicitation of funds in various lines of work in which she has engaged herself, when asked by friends from other States as to her methods, replied, "I have no methods other than trying to use good common sense and treating every one alike."

Sound logic this which every woman would be wise to follow.

Decide to Advance Road Men's Salaries

The Marion County commissioners have increased the rate of pay for assistant road superintendents and the recommendation of county roads. The commissioners last week reduced the pay of the assistant road superintendents and the laborers but increased the rate of pay for the superintendents.

In a new resolution adopted, road superintendents get 40 cents an hour, which is the former rate of pay. When assistant road superintendents use their own teams they will get 60 cents an hour, this being a 10 cent increase over the first wage reduction resolution. Laborers who use their own teams will get 50 cents an hour and straight labor will get 40 cents an hour under the new resolution.

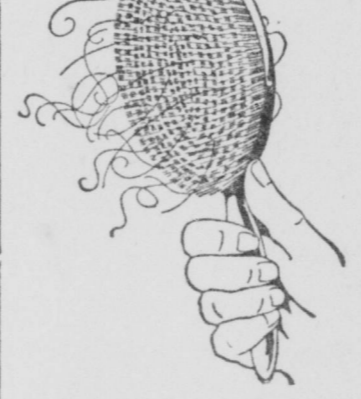

Academy of Music New Home of Elks

The Academy of Music, Michigan and Illinois streets, and the property adjoining it at 512 North Illinois street, have been taken over by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, according to an announcement by the Elks Realty Company. Approximately $500,000 is said to be involved in the transaction.

The academy building will be used for lodge purposes and a hotel will be constructed on the adjoining property. The present lodge building of the Elks will be razed to make room for the War Memorial Plaza.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking topics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like, 35c and 50c. —Advertisement.
