

WILSON LEAGUE OF NATIONS WILL CONTINUE ISSUE

Former President Tells Crowd Visiting His Home of Pact's Vitality.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—That the Wilson League of Nations will continue to be an issue in domestic politics appeared certain to observers here today as the result of a speech by former President Wilson to a throng of his admirers yesterday.

It was Wilson's first speech since his collapse in 1919.

"There can be no doubt about the vitality of the League of Nations," Wilson said to 5,000 persons who gathered in front of his home. "I have no doubt that a mass meeting at which a campaign for a $100,000 fund to perpetuate Wilson's ideals has been started."

"It will take care of itself," continued Wilson. "I have no doubt that the League of Nations will be a permanent issue on that score. Those who do not regard it will have to look out for themselves. My only anxiety is that our people turn their faces in the right direction and move with irresistible force. I need hardly tell you that such a demonstration and such evidence of friendship make me very happy. I thank you very much for all this. I do not deserve it, but I enjoy it."

The warning that "those who do not regard it will have to look out for themselves," coupled as it was with the hope that the American people will turn "in the right direction and move with irresistible force," was, in the opinion of practical politicians, taken to indicate clearly that a campaign for the league soon will be under way.

FORMER SOLDIER SUICIDE VICTIM

Insane War Veteran Kills Self After Wounding Two Sisters.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Viola and Johanna Hunt, sisters, are hovering between life and death today as the result of bullet wounds inflicted by Bernard Flannery, a former soldier, whose mind was unbalanced by his war experience. After wounding the girls, Flannery shot and killed himself.

So far as friends or relatives of the girls or of Flannery could learn, there was no motive for the shooting. Although all three lived in the same apartment building they were not acquainted and Flannery, it was said, never had spoken to the two girls. The shooting occurred in the vestibule of the apartment building, where the Flannery and Hunt families lived. The girls were returning from a visit to a friend. As they entered the vestibule Flannery fired without warning. Both girls were wounded in the abdomen. Since he returned from Siberia, where he was sent with his regiment, Flannery had been treated in several hospitals for his mental condition. Recently he was sent home as incurable, but was considered harmless.

HAYSTACK CRIME HEARING PUT OFF

Farwell's Sister Changes Her Original Statement.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 16.—Arraignment of Hartwell Farwell, confessed slayer of Philip Houston at Windsor, was postponed in Superior Court today until tomorrow morning at the request of attorneys for the defendant. Sheriff William McCormick said this morning that he is convinced that Farwell killed Houston without any assistance. Houston's body was found in the debris of a burned haystack. The victim previously had been asked to develop the Houston recently said Farwell, who was his employer, for back pay and obtained judgment. Farwell's sister Alice was again questioned by the authorities. She changed her original story. She said today, according to the police, that Houston was running away from the house when Farwell left the house to get him.

COPS BREAK UP NEW YEAR PARTY

Greeks' Alibi of Celebration Fails to Work.

Nineteen Indianapolis Greeks are detained to have an unlucky New Year, according to the police. They, with about twenty other men, the police say, were badly engaged in a gambling game at 44 South Illinois street Saturday night. They explained it was their annual New Year game and that on the outcome depended their luck for the year. When the police arrived, they say, a lookout pushed a buzzer and about twenty of the men escaped, the others being taken into custody. Louis Pappas was charged with keeping a gambling house and the others were charged with gambling. The police obtained a quantity of gambling equipment.

Dr. Howe Addresses 'Y' Boys' Big Meeting

At the big meeting for boys, held at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, 183 members were present and fifteen new boys made their Christian character decisions. Two boys, Jack Davis and Lorraine Arnold, qualified for the 100 per cent Club.

The principal speaker was Dr. Thomas Howe, former president of Butler College, who spoke of the "Journey of Life," which he compared to the taking of a cross-country automobile trip in which the travelers take advantage of signs and guide posts found helpful by those who went before. The program included selections by the male quartette and the department orchestra. Singing was led by M. J. Hoyer, Tommy Roberts and Kyle Simpson gave examples of the benefits derived from physical exercise.

Hance alleged a truck driven by Carroll at an unlawful rate of speed struck and seriously injured him April 29, 1924.

Says She Joined Jennings to Play Role in Movie.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 16.—Al Jennings, reformed Oklahoma "bad man" and more recently a movie actor, wanted by police on a charge of assaulting Harry Kerr, was still undetected today.

Kerr alleged Jennings threatened to do him bodily harm when he asked him to cease attentions to his wife, pretty Mrs. Emma Kerr, 21. Mrs. Kerr, who met Jennings in Kansas City, said there was nothing wrong in her association with Jennings. She stated she left Kansas City with Jennings for the purpose of playing the prominent role in the former bandit's new picture "The Voice in the Choir," which is scheduled to be made in California shortly.

Kerr will be alone in the intended prosecution of the former outlaw. His wife announced she would not be a party to the case against Jennings.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Take out a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several essential oils which have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of pine in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistent, usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pine is a highly concentrated compound of pure pine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Razors, Pokers, Bottles and Hatchets Featured Wild Rows.

While the police were not answering burglar and hold-up calls Saturday and Sunday nights they had a merry time cleaning up after two negro battles and arresting men and women by the dozens on blind tiger and intoxication charges. More than twenty were slated for drunkenness and nine for operating blind tigers.

Rose Pulley, negro, 436 1/2 West Wabash street, is in jail charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Henry Penn, negro, 438 West Wabash street, when the police say she slashed with a razor from the right shoulder to the left hip in a fight near her home. Southern and Elias Lewis, negro, 1110 North Belmont avenue, are held on charges of vagrancy as witnesses.

Virginia Howard, 843 Melkel street, and Bessie Goin, 825 Muskingum street, negroes, are in the city hospital with serious injuries following a fight in the rear of the Howard home, in which a hatchet, a poker and a bottle flew. Both are charged with assault and battery with intent to kill, while Tom Goin, husband of one of the combatants, is charged with assault and battery.

Two men who attempted to kick in the front door of Chris Mello, 404 1/2 West Washington street, in search of beer Sunday night, were chased a block by Sadio Stanlon, who was staying with Mrs. Mello. The woman brandished a revolver as she ran.

CONGRESS MUST CONSIDER MASS OF 'DON'T' LAWS

already adequate law under which human foibles, as they operate to lower community standards, may be dealt with adequately.

BLUE SUNDAY PROTEST SUCCEEDS.

The country raised its voice loud and strong against legislation designed to force strict observance of the Sabbath in the District of Columbia. It spoke in time to prevent the legislation getting any farther than the committee.

It was not objection to strict observance of the Sabbath. It was opposition to legislative dictation. It said it was tired of hearing Congress say "don't do this" and "don't do that."

The same voice is now being heard in the Senate Judiciary Committee, where witnesses against gambling are opposed to restrictions on newspapers as to what they shall print relative to horse racing and other physical contests. It comes directly this time from many of the largest publishing institutions in the country.

Several Senators have set themselves against it, against all of this type of legislation. But the lobbying and propaganda continues and members of Congress continue to bring forth new "don'ts."

A storm of feminine, as well as masculine, protest went up when Representative Johnson of Mississippi introduced his bill to prohibit women smoking in public places in the District. Mr. Johnson insisted a few molars in the measure too, by making it illegal for the managers of public places to permit women to smoke in them. And another storm of protest went up from them. The bill went to the district committee June 20, 1921. It is still there.

INTRODUCES ANTI "HOLY" BILL.

Representative Amos of New York, introduced his anti-bible bill shortly after the President had read his message to Congress in which he made his plea for "party representation." Opponents have suggested the bill which would prohibit voting in Congress based upon parents or geographical locations, may be unconstitutional. It is still in the Judiciary Committee.

The Judiciary Committee also has the anti-beauty contest bill of the much persecuted Representative Herrick of Oklahoma, who would have the Federal Government frown severely upon newspaper beauty contests. There are those who call the Herrick bill the prize piece of "don't" legislation evolved last season.

The present session, however, they point out, still is young.

Senator Dial's bill restricting outside duties of judges on the Federal bench palpably was intended as a blow to Judge Landis of baseball fame. It is the Dyer anti-lynching bill that is meeting heavy Democratic opposition in the House now. Its opponents do not favor the crime of lynching. But they do raise strenuous objections to the methods of the Dyer bill in punishing counties in which a mob or riotous assemblage takes a life by forcing them to forfeit $10,000.

A pre-holiday filibuster delayed action on the bill. Republican leaders expect it to pass soon, however.

Representative Rankin of Mississippi, is sponsoring a bill to make felonious intermarriages between white persons and negroes in the District of Columbia. It carries a fine of $500 and two years' imprisonment, with a clause providing against evasion by marrying outside the district and returning. All such marriages would be null and void.

Senator Caraway has introduced a bill to exclude negroes from the Army or Navy in peace time. Representative Johnson of Mississippi, is backing a measure to provide separate street cars for white persons and negroes in the district, or at least to divide the cars into two compartments for the two races.—Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.
