

GOMPERS SENDS MEN TO ATTEND LEGION PARLEY

Leader Hopes for Stronger Ties Between the Two Organizations.

Announcement that representatives of the American Federation of Labor have been named by Samuel Gompers, president, to attend the big American Legion conference which will convene here tomorrow morning, has been received with more than usual interest.

It is not that there has been considerable hostility expressed by some labor leaders against the legion and it is believed that the presence of the committee of labor leaders at the conference will be toward establishing better relations between the two organizations.

"It is my hope that out of the meeting will come the understanding and confidence which will be the greatest confidence a most happy outcome of the conference with you and your associates."

PERSONNEL OF COMMITTEE.

Following is the personnel of the committee named by Mr. Gompers: William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United States Federation of Labor; Daniel J. Tobin, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters; Frank Duffy, secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; Jacob Fischer, secretary of the International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of the world.

The national finance committee of the legion met today preliminary to the big conference. The budget for the coming year will be the most important matter considered.

LARGEST MEETING EVER HELD.

The conference, which will be the largest ever held by the legion, will be attended by national officers of the legion, members of the national executive committee, state commanders, past commanders, and a large number of delegates from the various state legislatures. The national executive committee of the Women's Auxiliary to the legion will be in session at the same time.

Among the matters to be discussed will be the bonus and its proper form, the army and compensation drive, which will amount to a census of all former service men and the Veterans Bureau.

The conference will last two days. A large number of legion workers arrived at the city today. David L. Connelley, president of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the great War Veterans of Canada arrived today to represent his organization. Col. John M. A. Palmer of the general staff of Washington, will represent the army and navy also will be present.

NAVAL RATIO OMITTED IN FINAL DRAFT

France, 175,000 tons (177,800 metric tons); or Italy, 175,000 tons (175,000 metric tons); for Japan, 315,000 tons (320,000 metric tons).

Article 19, providing for limitation of Pacific fortifications and naval bases, is omitted temporarily waiting upon Japan's answer to its acceptability. Article 24, the last of the series, makes positive the ratification of the treaty shall follow American constitutional methods and calls for deposit of ratification as soon as possible.

"The present treaty shall be ratified by the contracting parties in accordance with their respective constitutional methods, and shall take effect on the date of the deposit of all the ratifications which shall take place at Washington as soon as possible."

"The Government of the United States will transmit to the other contracting powers a certified copy of the process of ratification of the deposit of ratification."

"The present treaty in English and French shall remain deposited in the archives of the Government of the United States and duly certified copies thereof shall be transmitted by that Government to the other contracting powers."

How the great naval powers will scrap the product of their fighting ships has been charted with exacting detail in an annex to the treaty. Definite provisions also have been made for replacements.

WILL BE SCRAPPED.

The chart shows America must scrap thirty-one vessels when the treaty is effective; Great Britain, twenty-two, as well as abandoning her building program; Japan, eighteen, as well as abandoning her projected building program.

After the first big battleship is scrapped this year, America scraps no more until 1931, but British must scrap four more in 1925, and begin a new scrapping in 1934, while Japan, after her first scrapping, does none after 1934.

The Pennsylvania, New Mexico and Tennessee, America's largest ships actually in service, will remain until 1937, 1939 and 1940 respectively, while two of the most modern ships, the Colorado and Washington, will be scrapped in 1931 and 1932.

Among the better known of the British ships, the following go to scrap next year: King George V, 1923; Elizabeth, 1935; Royal Sovereign, 1936; Renown, 1940; First Lord, 1941.

France and Italy start replacing in 1931, before the end of the naval holiday.

ITALY TO HAVE LARGEST SHIPS.

Italy is slated for a 45,000-ton ship—the largest in the world, for 1923, this extra tonnage to be offset by a 25,000-ton ship in 1933, but it is believed there is an error in compilation there.

The first great group of American ships to go to Davy Jones' locker, all of which will be scrapped next year, are: The Maine, Missouri, Virginia, Nebraska, Georgia, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Louisiana, Vermont, Kansas, Minnesota, New Hampshire, South Carolina, Delaware, North Carolina, Iowa, Massachusetts, Delaware, North Dakota, and the uncompleted battle cruisers Lexington, Constitution, Constellation, Saratoga, Ranger and United States.

House Gives $500 to Wilson Foundation

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 18.—Col. E. M. House, the once close friend of Woodrow Wilson, has wired the Woodrow Wilson Trust Foundation Committee, Austin, Tex., to give $500 for the fund and wishes it credited from his old home, Austin. A similar request came from a former United States Attorney General, T. W. Gregory, who gave $250 to the fund.

TO TEST MARKSMANSHIP.

The indoor rifle and pistol contests of the Indiana National Guard will be held at the Culver Military Academy, March 6, according to an announcement made yesterday. The matches will be open to all members of all units of the Indiana National Guard, and will be limited to five members from each organization.

WOMAN FAILS TO END LIFE

Domestic Trouble Assigned as Reason for Attempt.

Mrs. Edith Purvis, 27, of 716 North Alabama street, this afternoon made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide by turning on the gas jet in her room, according to the report of Patrolman Harry Hillman who was sent to the residence when information reached police headquarters there was a quarrel going on there.

Mrs. Purvis, mother of Mrs. Purvis, told the police she detected the odor of gas and on trying a door to her daughter's room, found it locked. The key, however, had been pushed under the door, she said.

Those things which caused medical aid in time to save the life of her daughter. According to the police, domestic trouble is given as the cause of the alleged attempt.

NINE TRY FOR THREE JOBS ON CITY PAY ROLL

Applicants Take Examination for Building Department Posts.

Nine aspirants to the three "vacant" positions in the city building department were being examined by a commission named by the board of public safety in the city hall today at 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. today.

The board of safety has to appoint a commissioner of buildings at $3,000 a year, a chief inspector at $1,800 and an inspector at $1,500. The law provides such employees must pass an examination, the chief requirements of which are knowledge of terms used in construction work and how to use the city building code. The board can name any applicant who passes the examination, it not being required the one receiving the highest grade shall be chosen.

Those being examined are: Francis L. Munson, Zorzo P. Carizian, Vern Miller, Edgar E. Dawson, Orlando P. Rickerts and Walter B. Stern.

TO GET POSITION.

Hamilton was named for building commissioner by Mayor Samuel Lewis Shank some time ago. If he passes the examination, it is understood the board of safety will enter his nomination.

It is understood Shad Gurley, one of the present building inspectors who has held over from the Jewett administration, is not among those taking the examination because he already is an employee of the department. It also is reported an increase in the salary of the chief inspector from $1,800 to $2,300 or $2,500 is being sought in order to differentiate it from the inspectors' pay. Under the previous board of public safety there was no chief inspector. Instead, Maurice Thornton received such the title of assistant building commissioner at the chief inspector's salary of $1,800.

The business of the building department has been growing by leaps and bounds in proportion to the tremendous growth of building activities in Indianapolis.

Employees in the department say there should be a new office created, that of chief of all the municipalities which should all building plans upon which permits are applied for with the building code. Building departments of other large cities have such an employee, it is said.

SHANK ASKS STERN DISMISSAL.

The talk of such a job has been connected with the suggestion that Walter B. Stern, former commissioner of buildings, be given it because of his technical training and experience. It is considered doubtful among politicians that this could be brought about, because the mayor expressed a personal dislike, shortly after he was elected, that Stern be ousted from the commission.

The examination is being conducted by Blaine H. Miller, former building commissioner; Herbert L. Bass and Preston C. Rubush, architects; Fred P. Jung, engineer, and John L. Elliott, city civil engineer.

NO SHORTAGE OF TIMBER, SAY LUMBER MEN

Election of Officers and Banquet Closes Work of Convention.

There is no shortage of timber at this time despite popular opinion, to the contrary, L. R. Putnam, director-general of the American Wholesale Lumber Association, told members of the Retail Lumber Dealers' Association of Indiana, in their convention at the Clapsall Hotel today. An evidence of this fact Mr. Putnam referred to the comparatively low price of lumber at this time.

The program of the convention at the morning session of a discussion of the standardization of lumber sizes, and discussions of technical details of the lumber business. This afternoon the speakers were, besides Mr. Putnam, E. B. Bowman, vice president and general manager of the national lumber bureau, Spokane, Wash., and Russell Egan, county agent of Shelby County.

The election of officers was scheduled for the closing of the convention and the convention will be concluded with a banquet tonight.

SURVEY OF BUILDING SITUATION.

Mr. Putnam, in his speech made a brief survey of the building situation throughout the country and expressed the opinion that the industry is getting under full headway in the East, showing signs of recovery in the South, and through the last stages of readjustment in the Middle West, with some rough spots still to be ironed out in the Far West.

A knowledge of human nature is a business as a knowledge of the goods one desires to sell, Mr. Beckman told the lumber dealers.

Mr. Beckman gave examples of the change which has taken place in the art of selling in retail stores.

"A few years ago," he said, "it was not exceptional to step into a retail store and have the clerk say, 'Do you wish something?' or, 'Can I sell something to you?'"

Those being examined are: Francis L. Munson, Zorzo P. Carizian, Vern Miller, Edgar E. Dawson, Orlando P. Rickerts and Walter B. Stern.

GENOA PARLEY OF CONCERN TO ALL NATIONS

ing it today in Paris. It is being said even now of the Washington conference that the British and Japanese have taken the lead in the effort to restrain the Genoa parley.

After the armistice terms had been completed and were ready to go to the Genoa parley, the British and Japanese had the Genoa parley, the British and Japanese had the Genoa parley, the British and Japanese had the Genoa parley.

"Today, however, we find an opposite condition. The buying habits of a century must be changed as well as the old methods of merchandising and of manufacturing. The great deal of thought and experience of doing business in this declining market, and therefore it is necessary that we go to scratch again and learn from business experts who have given this a great deal of thought and who are in a position to advise us and keep us out of the rut."

"Successful merchandising demands a knowledge of the past and a knowledge of the future. In their place has come a new order of things which makes better merchants, better merchandising principles and service, a big step."

Willis B. Dyer of Kokomo was expected to be elected president of the association. He was nominated yesterday afternoon without opposition.

CITY FINANCES ARE ENTANGLED

Efforts to straighten out financial tangles inherited from the Jewett administration were made today by City Controller Joseph L. Hogue and Corporation Counsel Taylor E. Groninger.

The officials discovered a bond issue of $75,000 authorized by the city council in 1919 to provide funds with which to pay the city's share of paving three sections of street under the connecting link law cannot be sold until a new authorization ordinance is passed by the city council. The payments are made out of West Washington street. Madison and Indiana avenues connect the paved city streets with improved country highways.

Mr. Groninger said the bond issue cannot be sold without a new ordinance because, under the original ordinance, the bonds were to have been signed by Mayor Jewett on Dec. 1, 1921. The bonds have not yet been returned.

Mr. Hogue announced the interest rate upon the new bond issue will be 5, instead of 6, per cent as in the old.

It has been discovered, Mr. Groninger announced, the old administration, in the preparation of the budget for 1922 left out an item of $12,000 for repair and maintenance of automobiles in the city civil engineering department.

It also was found the 1922 budget does not allow the $6,000 which the city agreed by contract to pay as half the cost of operating the Indiana Employment Agency, a free bureau under the direction of the State Industrial Board at Capitol avenue and Maryland streets. The State pays the other half. The agency, a free bureau under the direction of the State Industrial Board at Capitol avenue and Maryland streets. The State pays the other half. Hoosier Retailers Will Visit Here

Julian Wetzel has been added to the battery of speakers that will greet the Northern Indiana Retailers, who will descend on Indianapolis Jan. 26. Mr. Wetzel will speak at the dinner in addition to Charles E. Coffin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and G. Barrett Moxley of the Kiefer-Stewart Drug Company.

All the Indianapolis wholesalers have decided to hold a two-day special convention at the Indiana State Hotel, according to E. L. Ferguson, secretary of the wholesale trade division of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, who is cooperating with the Winona Traction Company in bringing these retailers to Indianapolis. The various wholesalers are planning different forms of entertainment in their establishments for the retailers.

LYONS GOES TO CHICAGO.

Lawrence Lyons, director of the State highway commission, left today for Chicago to attend the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Highway officials' convention tomorrow. The convention, which will be held at the Hotel Hamilton, is one of the most important of the highway commissions in this territory with the hope of devising some uniform system.

SHAW TO FACE COURT.

Clint Shaw, whose purported statement to the press in Chicago, Nov. 23, as investigator for the Marion County Criminal Court, resulted in the arrest and conviction of several of the Beech Grove Bank bandits, will appear in Criminal Court today. It is being reported the case will be disposed of at that time. Shaw has been in jail for several months.

LOVING MOTHER WANTS HER BOY TO COME HOME

Will Make Appeal to President After Long Trip to Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—An aged mother, who walked from South Dakota to Dayton, Ohio, has reached Washington to present her appeal in person to President Harding for the release from Ft. Leavenworth Prison of her young son, Joseph Anderson.

Anderson used to carry the Marion Ohio, Star for $1.50 a week and the Andersons knew the Hardings when they lived in Marion. The boy is held for another week. He is a young man, and wounded soldier. He enlisted in the army of 16, having borrowed a pair of long trousers in order to pass muster. On the day he was wounded in France his brother, Elmer, Donald Anderson, was killed in the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

The mother of the boys, Mrs. Margaret Anderson, who is 63, believes "Jo" went into service to see young and to be disciplined and she wants him back before his two years are up. And besides she says he is ill from tuberculosis. The boy was obtained a promise from City Division and departed while on a furlough to his home after returning to this country. He re-enlisted under another name later, but was found out, tried and sent to Leavenworth for two years. Mrs. Anderson will try to get work in Washington while pleading with the President for pardon of her boy.

HELP OF CITY ENLISTED IN RELIEF WORK

Institution Founded by Disabled Veterans' League Active.

A movement to enlist the aid of the city government in the relief station for unemployed men which the National Disabled Veterans' League has been conducting at 211 North Delaware street, is under way with members of the city council actively in connection with the movement. The city controller Joseph L. Hogue has been asked to request the council to appropriate $1,000 to aid in the work.

The interested in the relief station also have asked that the city permit them to use part of Tomlinson Hall as a kitchen and dining room because the present quarters must be vacated in order to make room for the men who are being housed by the city. The city controller Joseph L. Hogue has been asked to request the council to appropriate $1,000 to aid in the work.

A movement to enlist the aid of the city government in the relief station for unemployed men which the National Disabled Veterans' League has been conducting at 211 North Delaware street, is under way with members of the city council actively in connection with the movement. The city controller Joseph L. Hogue has been asked to request the council to appropriate $1,000 to aid in the work.

The interested in the relief station also have asked that the city permit them to use part of Tomlinson Hall as a kitchen and dining room because the present quarters must be vacated in order to make room for the men who are being housed by the city. The city controller Joseph L. Hogue has been asked to request the council to appropriate $1,000 to aid in the work.

MIDDAUGH GETS TEN MONTHS ON TIGER CHARGES

Notorious Police Character to Serve Time on Farm After Many Escapes.

Charles (Big Shiner) Middaugh, notorious west end bootlegger, was convicted in city court today on three "blind tiger" charges which have been pending in city court for many months and have been continued numerous times. The total of ten months on the Indiana State Farm assessed by Special Judge Thomas C. Corbin will be served concurrently with a sentence of six months recently affirmed by the Indiana Supreme Court.

It was announced Middaugh would surrender to the sheriff at once to start serving the sentence imposed in Criminal Court and upheld in the Supreme Court. While Special Judge Corbin imposed ten months on Middaugh for three cases, he also assessed fines totaling $900, but suspended them on payment of the costs, which amounted to $20. Attorneys for Middaugh said the cases would not be appealed.
