FULL QUOTA MEN TO BE GUESTS

National Cash Register Company to Entertain in Dayton and New York.

Salesmen of the National Cash Register Company who have sold 100 per cent or more of their 1921 quotas will be entertained by the company in a convention to be held at Dayton and New York Jan. 23 to 28. The first half of the week will be spent in Dayton and the last half in New York.

Business conditions are expected to improve during 1922 according to Frederick B. Patterson, president of the company, who has just issued the following statement:

"Our company made satisfactory progress in 1921. It gave steady employment to more than 6,000 men and women at Dayton and as many more in the selling and making fields throughout the world. "Business conditions will gradually improve during 1922. There is every reason for conservative optimism. Unquestionably the low mark in the industrial depression is past and from now on there will be an improvement."

"Hundred Pointers," that is, salesmen who sold 100 per cent or more of their year's sales quota, from all over the United States and Canada will attend this convention. These crack salesmen will study new and better business methods. The problems of the retail merchant will be studied and discussed. In the interchange of ideas which will result, every man present will learn many useful things which he can apply in his own territory.

Members of the convention will make an extended trip through the big factory at Dayton and learn not only what progress was made last year but what the present year has in store for them. "Three days will be spent in Dayton. On Wednesday night the Hundred Pointers and officials of the company will board a special train for New York, arriving there the next morning. In New York, up-to-date methods in some of the largest business institutions in the world will be carefully examined. Short sessions will be held to discuss these installations and systems. The three days in New York will be spent in the interests of the best business systems and will acquaint all members of the convention with the latest developments along this line.

Officials of the company made a close survey of business conditions throughout the United States and Canada last year. They will give the results of their observations at the convention, but it is no secret that they found conditions improving everywhere.

Says Farmers Must Have Financial Aid

Farmers must be assisted financially and arrangements must be made to take care of the surplus production of the farm and shop in order to insure prosperity, Dick Miller, president of the City Trust Company, told members of the Purchasing Agents' Association of Indiana, who met in the Travertine room of the Hotel Lincoln last night. Mr. Miller said the financial outlook is promising. Paul D. Birdsall, president of the association, announced purchasing agents will be guests of the A. Burdall Company at a luncheon at the Burdall plant, Georgia street and Capitol avenue, at noon next Tuesday.

CLUB PLANS THEATER PARTY.

Members of the Kiwanis Club will attend Keith's Theater Friday night as a tribute to "Chic" Sale, who addressed the club at its weekly luncheon at the Claypool Hotel yesterday. The meeting was the seventh anniversary of the organization of the first Kiwanis Club, O. B. Hies, ex-president of the local club, reviewed the history of Kiwanis, which was started in Detroit in 1915, and which has grown to 640 clubs with a membership of nearly 60,000.

HE would have been, had life insurance companies been in existence in his day. For Franklin, champion of personal thrift, would have recognized then, as all wise business men do today, that life insurance IS thrift.

And it takes no Franklin, today, to recognize that life insurance is the greatest financial asset a man can possess---an asset whose value is as tangible in the present, for himself, as it is for the future of his family.

Let Life Insurance Carry You

—from the uncertainty of an unknown future to the security of the present and the future. Life insurance establishes thrift, in that it starts you in the habit of systematic saving; life insurance establishes a sizable estate in your name the moment you pay the first premium; life insurance is a bulwark against possible future financial embarrassment, because of its loan value after the first few years of the life of your policy.

Life insurance in your name gives you that knowledge of security for your family which adds to your personal efficiency—increases your ability—relieving you of your most burdensome worry—that of "what would the future of my dependents be if something should happen to me?"

Life insurance in your name identifies you as a thrifty, careful, wise business man; a responsible, thoughtful, loving and wise husband and father.

The Life Insurance Agent's Service to You Is Inestimable—Make Use of It!

He is able to place you on the plane of thrift and financial security to be shared by your family now and later. He wants to aid you in removing from your mind the great load concerning the future.

You will be wise to call him up today, and then show your belief in thrift, economy and security.
