

ARMY RECORD DIVERTS PLACE OF SENTENCE

North Vernon Man to Serve Out Fine at Indiana State Farm.

A splendid Army record and an appeal in his behalf made by attorneys and friends from his home at North Vernon, Ind., enabled Leonard J. Kelly to serve out a fine of $250 and costs at the Indiana State Farm instead of going to the Indiana Reformatory as a result of a hearing in Criminal Court by Judge James A. Collins today.

Kelly was charged with issuing a fraudulent check and to this he pleaded guilty, changing his plea from a not guilty plea entered Monday when he was arraigned. Mayor Seamon from North Vernon appeared before the court and sought to have Kelly turned over to him, but Judge Collins held that in view of the fact that he had secured money in Louisville in a similar manner, the amount of which had been made good, he should have a sentence. He placed the fine against Kelly and ordered that this be served on the State Farm.

Vernon Hill, 16, charged with vehicle taking charges his plea to guilty and was given a sentence of nine months at the Indiana State Farm.

Robert V. Cones drew a fine of $100 and costs and a sentence of two to four years at the Indiana State Prison for forgery, and Carl R. Bryant received a fine of $100 and costs to be served at the Indiana State Farm for issuing a fraudulent check.

Harry Pierpont, charged with vehicle taking and unlawful possession of a stolen automobile, will be given an investigation as to his mental condition by Drs. Robinson and Pettibone in compliance with an order from Judge Collins. Attorneys for Pierpont allege he is of unsound mind.

RICKES GIVEN FREE HAND BY SCHOOL BOARD

charged or suspended employee either as to ability in his trade, his personal integrity or character. It merely means that the department head has made the change for what he may deem the best interest of the school city. The question before the board today is not one of the efficiency ability, integrity, skill or in the discharge of the duties of the superintendent of the discharged men. The superintendent has taken a certain action, and the question is one of sustaining the superintendent.

GADD NOT SO FAR OFF TRACK AT THAT.

Last week when the cases were heard by the board, Bert S. Gadd, minority member, caused a storm of horrified protest from the majority faction when he spoke of "the skies being grazed" for the discharge of the men. Apparently he was right, for immediately after President Barry had laid down the doctrine of the infallibility of the superintendent of buildings and grounds, Adolph Emhardt moved the action of Superintendent Rickes be approved and this action was seconded instantly by Dr. May. Rickes, who has been in the position practically every motion made by Mr. Emhardt since the new board came into office last month.

The six discharged men who were denied reinstatement by the board are: George W. Baker, superintendent of custodians; Ray Harmon and Harry Hobart, truck drivers; Charles A. Hartley, carpenter foreman; Ora Richman, painter; Herman B. Giesler, engineer at the Central Library.

The case of William J. Everett, who either resigned or was discharged by O. W. Barton, former superintendent of buildings, shortly before he gave up his office, received no attention. It is generally understood the infallibility doctrine applied to Mr. Rickes will not be extended to action of his predecessor, and it is believed Everett will be restored to his old job of engineer at the Central Library within a short time.

Superintendent Rickes, who was given such an uncomfortable two hours by the discharged men when the case was heard last week, was not in the meeting today. When asked if he would take Mr. Rickes when he was in the part of the former employees, was absent on account of illness.

BAKER SAYS HE'S GOING TO GRAND JURY.

Following the action of the board Mr. Baker told representatives of the press that he would present evidence to the Marion County grand jury that Mr. Rickes when he was superintendent of buildings and grounds before used school board lumber and school board money for construction and remodeling work at his own home.

These charges were made orally by Mr. Baker at the board meeting last week. When asked if he would take Mr. Rickes when he was in the part of the former employees, was absent on account of illness.

Following the exit of the discharged men, the board took up routine matters. Herbert J. Foitz, architect of the proposed Porter fresh air school, was instructed to present his plans to Walter J. Twine, business director, and they will be brought up at the next regular meeting, next Tuesday night.

Henry L. Stenger and William Vogel appeared before the board and asked that action be taken by the board to relieve congestion at School No. 32, East Tenth and Wallace streets, either by erecting a new school building or providing portable classrooms. The number of half-day classes in the present building, a small four-room affair, dating back to the township school days. A new building was planned for this school by the former board, but action was held up by the refusal of the State board of tax commissioners to approve the bond issue last summer.

Graduating exercises for all Indianapolis high school will be held either at Tomlinson hall or the Coliseum at the fair grounds next June. It was decided by the board. The Cadet tabernacle had been under consideration, but the cost of $300 a night was considered excessive.

Unemployed Besiege London Guardians

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The board of guardians of Poor, one of London's suburbs where poverty and unemployment have been most severe since the war, were released from a state of siege early today after being imprisoned throughout the night by a mob of east end unemployed. Men and women next June it was shouting that they were hungry and wanted work, stormed the council chamber, where the board was meeting, and forced the guardians to barricade themselves within the building to save themselves from violence. A siege was kept up by the unemployed throughout the night until the police rescued the guardians this morning.

CHICAGO HOME 'BOMBED'

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—The home of Charlie Madia, a city employee, was damaged by a bomb today. Madia recently had received demands for $3,000 signed by the "Black Hand." None of Madia's family was injured.

ANOTHER DINNER AT WHITE HOUSE

President Discusses Cut in Navy Budget.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Plans to cut naval appropriations (commensurate with the reduction in naval forces agreed upon in the armament conference) will be launched at another White House dinner tonight.

Republican leaders of Congress and members of the naval committee and steering committees will be the guests of the President and discuss ways and means of effecting the saving that now appears feasible as a result of the conference discussions.

The general legislative situation also will be discussed.

Numerals '13' Bear Prominent Place in Arbuckle Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Again will the numerals "thirteen" figure in the Arbuckle case.

In setting March 13 as the date of the trial for manslaughter of Roper in (Fatty) Arbuckle's Judge Loomer asked if there were any objections to proceed on the 13th date.

"No, your honor," said Gavin McNab, Arbuckle's legal adviser. "It will be just as hard on the other side as on us."

The strange string of thirteens started in the case when Superintendent of Arbuckle was indicted on Oct. 13.

There were thirteen women in the panel from which the jury of the first trial was drawn and a number of other thirteens figured in the early stages of the trial.

And the Arbuckles will celebrate their thirteenth wedding anniversary soon.

Favors Substantial Gifts on Mother's Day

Robert Speer of New York City, known in many places as "Uncle Robert," because of various philanthropies, was in the city today to interest Mayor Samuel Lewis Shank in a movement for more general and reverent observance of Mother's day, May 14. "Uncle Robert," who devotes his personal means to his crusade in trying to develop the national custom of giving mothers gifts on Mother's day. He said he does not favor the custom of observing the day only by wearing of a carnation. Mother should be given some gift like a bouquet, a pot of flowers or something even more substantial, he said.

Tyndall Slated for Promotion

Robert A. Tyndall, who served as a colonel in the World War, today was selected for nomination as a brigadier general in the Officers' Reserve Corps by the Senate. Tyndall, according to dispatches from Washington.

Colonel Tyndall commanded the 150th Field Artillery, the only complete Indiana unit to see service throughout the war. The regiment, which was an Indiana National Guard outfit, was a part of the famous Rainbow Division.

The Colonel has been associated with the Fletcher American National Bank since his return from service. He also is national treasurer of the American Legion.

Sheriff's Removal in Supreme Court

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 7.—Decision by the Wisconsin Supreme Court in the case of Hans Rodd, sheriff of Oneida, which was expected today, will not be issued before the end of the week. It was stated today Rodd was ordered removed by Governor Blaine because he failed to obey a pardon writ of the governor for the release of Peter Christ. Rodd brought suit in the Supreme Court to protect his rights as sheriff.

28 Defend Army Record in A. E. F.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Twenty-eight army officers and civilians appeared before the Senate investigating committee to defend the army against charges of illegal executions of American soldiers in France.

DENIES ROAD BOND PLEA

The State board of tax commissioners today denied a petition of the Grant County commissioners to issue $45,000 in 7 per cent bonds to pay a part of the cost of the A. E. Ballinger road in Monroe and Jefferson Townships. The board held that the cost of construction was too high and the proposed interest rate was excessive.

Reformatory Sites Have Narrowed Down

The proposed sites for the relocation of the Indiana reformatory have been narrowed to about a dozen, Governor Warren T. McCray said today. The removal commission, he said, is now busy grading the sites, scoring points for their various advantages, in order to ascertain which is the most desirable. He said there probably will be another meeting of the commission before the end of the week.

Distilling Co. Begins Dissolution Action

Add results of prohibition: The James E. McNamara Distilling Company of Indianapolis filed articles of dissolution with the Secretary of State today.

A certificate of dissolution of the American Sanitary Lock Company of Indianapolis, was filed with the explanation that the assets of the company would be liquidated by the American Sanitary Lock Corporation.

Police Chief Turns Tables on Mayor

BOND DU LAC, Wis., Feb. 7.—Police Chief P. A. Nolan who was recently exonerated of charges of inefficiency and disobedience preferred by Mayor R. A. Haentze today challenged the latter to resign as mayor. "I'll resign as police chief if you resign as mayor and then we'll both be candidates for the majority at a special election to be held," said Chief Nolan in a letter to the mayor today. Haentze has not yet indicated his acceptance or refusal of the challenge.

CITY BORROWS FUNDS.

A temporary loan of $15,000 for the city health department was awarded by City Controller Joseph L. Hogue today to the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company on a bid of 4 1/2 per cent interest and $5.50 premium. The Union Trust Company bid 6 per cent and S. N. Bond & Co. of New York City, 5 1/2 per cent. The money is needed to meet health department bills until spring taxes come in. The loan is payable July 7.

FEARCE TO ADDRESS LIONS.

WOULD ISSUE $40,000 BONDS.

The Noblesville Heat, Light & Power Company today filed a petition with the public service commission asking permission to issue $40,000 in first preferred stock at par value of $100 a share. The proceeds of the sale are to be used for extensions and betterments.

8 WOMEN, 4 MEN FACE LAWYERS

Madalynne Obenchain Gives Opinions on Prospective Surety.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Eight women and four men, temporarily accepted as jurors, were in the box today at the trial of Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, when Judge Knuch, chief of defense counsel, and Deputy District Attorney Asa Keyes began matching wits in the exercising of peremptory challenges.

The indications today were that the jury will be completed and the taking of testimony started by Thursday morning.

Mrs. Obenchain, with "Steady Ralph" Obenchain, her divorced husband, close at her side, gave her opinion of each of the prospective jurors to her attorneys. She told them whether she desired the juror to remain in the box or be excused, and her wishes were carefully considered.

SOUTH BEND TO BE IN LIMELIGHT

Federal Grand Jury Plans to Sift Liquor Charges.

South Bend, which cut such a prominent and unenviable figure at the last session of Federal Court, when more than thirty residents of that city faced Judge Albert B. Anderson on charges of violating the Federal prohibition laws, will be very much in the limelight at the next session, according to Homer Elliott, United States district attorney.

The Federal grand jury will be called for March 7, Mr. Elliott said today, and a large number of liquor cases from South Bend will be presented to the grand jury for consideration.

A number of cases of violation of the National motor vehicle act, forbidding the transportation of stolen automobiles for interstate traffic, also will be taken up, the district attorney said.

OTHELLO SMITH DEFAULTS BOND

Federal Court Judgment Entered for $5,000 Against Surety.

Judgment for $5,000 against Othello H. Sprinkle of Lincoln and William Kelsor of Logansport, bondsmen for Othello O. Smith, former prosecutor in the city court of Logansport, was entered in Federal Court today on order of Judge Albert B. Anderson.

Smith was indicted a year ago for alleged complicity in the big Logansport liquor conspiracy cases, but failed to put in an appearance when the cases were called for trial Nov. 25, 1921.

At the time Judge Anderson commented on the failure of Smith to appear.

"Whenever a defendant comes into this court," he said, "and when asked to enter his plea shouts out 'not guilty,' in a voice you can hear at Washington street, I begin to expect him to default his bond."

The bondsmen, both of whom are related to Smith, were not in court and were unrepresented by counsel.

action of a wealthy Eastern family, had presented a complete alibi regarding his actions on the night the murder was committed. No further police action along this angle of investigation was taken other than to verify the alibi.

Officers stated that the theory that this man may have had any connection with the tragedy had been entirely eliminated and set to work on hitherto unexplored phases of the sensational mystery.

WOMAN HOLDS KEY TO CRIME.

From various authentic sources in high circles of the film industry, detectives today gleaned information that confirms theories held from the beginning that some woman, believed to be connected with the motion picture colony, either was directly connected with the murder, or holds facts which, if known, would result in the solution of the crime and the probable apprehension of the murderer within a few hours.

On every hand investigators reported that they had encountered what appeared to be a tendency to "cover up" or withhold information that would substantiate several possible motives for the crime.

COLONY PAYS MARKED TRIBUTE AT FUNERAL.

Much interest in the case centered in the funeral of Taylor, which was to be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The rank and file of the film colony is paying a tribute to the well-known director, whose productions have been seen by millions throughout the United States.

The funeral, for which elaborate plans have been made, will be held at St. Paul's Protestant Cathedral Church. Dean William MacCormack will officiate. The murdered man will be buried in the uniform of an English army captain. The British colors, under which he served during the war, will form his shroud.

Honorary pallbearers from the overseas film colony included some of the body to its grave. A firing squad, made up of former Canadian soldiers, will fire a military salute at the cemetery.

It was said that the funeral service in the film world who paid high tribute to the slain man are Mary Pickford and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks.

Mrs. Ada Deane-Tanner of Monrovia, Cal., who says she is a sister-in-law of the slain man, contradicted a police report to the effect that they believed Sands might be Taylor's missing brother. She showed a picture of Sands she declared:

"He is not my husband."

Mrs. Tanner's husband disappeared when she was a child.

My Headache Soon Vanished

"I was at a dance. My head ached and throbbed. I was miserable. A gentleman sent to the drug store for Celery-Vesce and begged me to try it. It was so pleasant and easy to take. I took it and was soon feeling better. Almost at once I discovered it had entirely disappeared. It has been subject to headache and nervous disturbances, but Celery-Vesce has given such prompt relief that I feel secure. I shall continue to take it. Those trying spells which fall to the lot of most women no longer have any terror for me. A glassful of Celery-Vesce in a third of a glass of water, or in a glass of fruit juice, is a most delicious and refreshing drink. It is a most useful thing to have in the home—for neuralgia, sleeplessness, indigestion, headache, and all nervous troubles. It is always welcomed by the stomach, even when food is not, and always brings prompt relief."

PORTRAIT GIFT TO DANISH KING

This portrait of Maurice Egan, former American minister to Denmark, painted by Ernest L. Ipsen, will be presented to the King of Denmark. The portrait was ordered by a committee of Danes as a mark of their esteem for the former minister of this country, and it was their desire that it should be painted by an American. Critics have pronounced the portrait one of much distinction. The figure of Dr. Egan, seated, is three-quarters life size. He is wearing his black robe of doctor of laws of Columbia University and holds his cap in his right hand.

Finds Best Whisky in Muncie Jail He Ever Drank

MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 7.—Willis Montgomery, witness in a blind tiger trial here, created a sensation today when he testified that the best liquor he had ever bought came from the county jail. He declared he did not know of the man who succeeded in obtaining the liquor. Montgomery was a witness for Mrs. Louise Whitlatch, found guilty of violating the liquor law and who was fined $100 and costs.

Sickness Among School Teachers Provides Problem

There is more sickness among school teachers of the city at present than in years past, E. U. Graff, superintendent of schools, told the board of school commissioners at a special meeting of the board today.

Mr. Graff reported that on Monday 115 teachers were ill and that as there are only seventy-five substitute teachers available, it was necessary to close a number of rooms. Today the situation is better, he said, only about seventy-five teachers being out because of illness.

"In keeping seventy-five substitute teachers we always considered ourselves perfectly safe," he said, "as this is fully 50 per cent more than are needed under normal conditions. But if this situation continues it will really make a serious problem for us to face."

Renders Judgment on Garnishment

A judgment on a garnishment in the sum of $20,416.41 was rendered in Circuit Court today by Judge Harry O. Chamberlain in favor of the Great Lakes Trust Company of Chicago against the Stark-Inland Machine Works of Chicago, the sum to be paid by the W. R. Wheeler Company, 426 North Meridian street, Indianapolis.

The judgment was rendered on a note of $15,000 held by the Trust Company against the Stark-Inland Company, with interest had accrued. The W. R. Wheeler Company was indebted to the Stark-Inland Company, and the trust company filed suit here and attached the amount of indebtedness in order to have this money paid to them instead of the Stark-Inland Machine Works.

SAYS MONARCHY TO BE RESTORED

Ignatius Lincoln Reports Germans Plan to Revive Kaiser Rule.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—German monarchist plotters including General Ludendorff, are working hand in glove with Russian royalists to restore kaiserdom in Germany and czarism in Russia, Ignatius Trebitsch Lincoln, Hungarian born international spy and plotter and one-time member of the British parliament, said here today. These plans are destined to succeed some day, and then, he added, Russia and Germany will join in a powerful union.

Lincoln, here awaiting the Government's decision on whether to allow him to remain in this country or deport him as an undesirable alien, entering on false passports, was one of the ring leaders in the "Kapp Putsch" in Berlin in the spring of 1920 which aimed to overthrow the Ebert republic and restore a monarchy.

"You may put it down for a certainty that the monarchy is going to be restored in Germany and I can tell you the Germans and Russians are working together. I believe Bolshevism will hang on quite a while yet in Russia, but there is nothing surer than this movement, for a union of the two countries will succeed."

SEXTON REFUSES BURIAL OF CHILD

Two Men With Body in Suitcase Leave Mystery Trail.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Feb. 7.—Carrying the body of a small child in a suitcase, two men who were seen leaving the Edinburg near here, sought permission to bury the child in Garland cemetery.

John Mitchell, sexton, told the men they would have to get a death certificate and buy property in the cemetery before the burial could be permitted.

The men departed, walking up the road and carrying the suitcase with them. County authorities were baffled by the case. The men were gone before Mitchell had a chance to notify officers, who advanced the theory of possible murder and subsequent repentance.

Urges Support of Employment Bureau

Thomas A. Riley, member of the State Industrial Board in charge of the Indiana Free Employment bureau in nine cities including Indianapolis, conferred with Corporation Counsel Taylor B. Grouniger and City Controller Joseph L. Hogue today. The city administration has been opposed to the appropriation of $8,000 by the city to pay half of the expense of operating the local bureau. The State board pays the other $6,000. Mr. Riley urged that the support be continued.

Mr. Grouniger told Mr. Riley that he did not favor the expenditure of more than $3,000 by the city for this purpose. Mr. Riley said he would investigate the bureau's budget to see if it can be pared to some within $3,000 without impairing its efficiency.

Under the existing agreement the State names all employees of the bureau. Mr. Grouniger and Mr. Hogue said they thought the city if it shares the expense should be represented in the bureau personnel.

Road Construction Shown in Movies

A motion picture, "The Changing Road," showing the progress of road construction, will be shown to employees of the State highway commission in the commission's offices tonight.

The employees of the commission have formed an organization for the purpose of developing and promoting friendship among the members and coming to a better understanding of their work. The next meeting of the organization will be held in Room 126, Statehouse, during the noon hour tomorrow.
